4. Her after alle maner of Lyons in Arms that I have sen, & by hys countenance how ye schalle know hym. 56.

5. Arms of divers Saints, Kings, Princes & Nobles, Foraigners, & English. tricked. 59.

6. Pedegree of the family of Braytoft. 72.

At the beginning is a fragment of some old Book, written in antient Anglo-Saxon Letters.

A paper Book in 4to, before which, Sr. Simonds D'Ewes prefixed the following title.

Gildas Badonicus, soe surnamed from the time of his birth, being a Britain by Nation, whose lived about the year 520. His Chronicle, or historical & doleful Narration of the Conquest of Britain by the Pagan Saxons, in the English Tongue, which was never imprinted. This Translation is from the Edition of Polydore Virgil, which was according to the antient MS. communicated to him by Cuthbert Tonstall Bp. of Duresme, as the same Polydore testifies in his Epistle dedicatory to him.

A Book in 4to, wherein are contained Copies of divers Letters from Sir Philip Hoby, Mr. Comptroller, (afterwards the Lord) Paget, Sir Richard Morfyon, &c. touching their Negotiations abroad; written to the Lords of the Privy Councill in England, & vice versa. The sum of these Letters are as follows.

1. The Commissioners to the Counsell, from Brussells, the 20th of July, 1553. That the Emperor was not pleased that K. Edward vi. had declared the Lady Mary to be a Bastard, & limited the Succession otherwise than his father had done: That his Ambassadors could have no Audience since K. Edward's death; or that the Queen of Scotland was married to the Dolphin, who might also have pretensions to England, since his wife is descended from the eldest Sister, & Q. Jane but from the youngest. He would have the differences between Q. Jane & the Lady Mary determined by Parliament, without force or violence, and that the said Lady Mary shoulde be married to some Noble Man of Englande, so that the Realme shoulde remayne in Governauce of Policy and Religion, as now it is. That the Emperor was jealous upon Mr. Dudley's being sent into France, as thinking he was Sr. Andrew Dudley, and that he was sent for some practise. That he delayed to give audience to Mr. Shelley who came over to him with a message from Q. Jane. 1.

2. The Counsaile to Sr. Philip Hoby, from Greenwich, the 21st of Aprill 1550. touching the refusal which Sebastian Cabot made to the Emperor's Ambassador, either to go to Spain, or to the Emperor at his request. And concerning the Goods which the Emperors subjects claimed, tho taken by the English in French Ships. They shew the obliging Answer lately made to the Emperors Ambassador, to the Proposal he made for a marriage between the Lady Mary, & the King of Portingalle's brother. And also, to his proposal that the King would grant the Lady Mary a Licence or Dispensation under his Seale, for her to continue in that fashion of Worship which she now usithe; which was refused; & he required to counsel her for the future to hear Mass only in her Clofets, & not to keepe, as it were, an open Church for all the Servaunts & Neighbours to resort thither to Masse, and to offend openly God & the King's Lawes, incurring thereby great danger, & inducing a manner of schisme in this Commonwealth. They give a particular answer to the Emperors furnise as if by the last Treaty with France, England had made Peace with the Scots, contrary to the treaty with him; by which, England was not to make any Peace with the Scots (being a common enemy) without his Consent in writing. 6.

3. Sir Philip Hoby & Sr. Richard Morfyon, &c. from Brussells, the 15th of July, 1553. Shewing the communication they had with Don Diego, who offer'd (the Consent of the Emperor his master first had) to serve the new King of England his godchild, as far as he should be able; that Don Francesco di Elle General of the Italian Foot, had made the same offer. NB. this Don Diego then told them, that K. Edw. by his Testament had barr'd both his sisters of the Crown, and left the same to the Lady Jane. 11. b.

*3. The same, from Brussells, the 17th July, 1553. Shewing what pass'd at the Audience they had of the Emperor, when they acquainted him with the news of the decease of K. Edw. vi. at which he seemed to be much grieved, and spake much in his commendation. As also that he promised to continue his Amity with England. 13.

4. A Note that the king (Q. Jane's husband) had written to the Regent of the Lowe-Countries, signifying to her Mr. Chamberlayne's revocation (i. e. Sir Tho. Chamberlayne's) and desiring her, in all his affaires, to give audience & full credit, to Sr. Philip Hoby. 13. b.

5. The Council to Sir Philip Hoby, the 20th of August, 1552. touching Leedes the Receiver of the Earle of Arundell's revenues, who refused to deliver enie parte of the Monie he hath in his hands, unto the Countesse of Arundell, either for the maintenance of her familie, or for th'entertainment of th' Earle her husbands expenses. 14. a.

6. The Counsell to the Commissioners (i. e. Tho. Thirleby Bp. of Norwich, Sr. Rich. Morfyon, & Sr. Phil. Hoby) 5th of May, 1553. directing them to consider further, & send their Opinions about a League to be made with the Princes of Germany; and giving them orders how to demeane themselves, in case of the Emperors death, which was then expected. 14. b.

7. Sir Philip Hoby from the Emperours Courte to the Duke of Somerset, the 19th of January, 1548. relating the particular, occurring at the Audience he last had of the Emperor, and of the Conference he had with Monfr. d'Arras his Minister, touching the disembarking of certain French and Scots, at Dunkirke, and of Ringrane (a Rebel of the Emperor) his Departure out of Scotland either into Fraunce, or his owne Country to reteine more men: with their Answer thereunto. And a Complaint of a Flemish Ship (laden in Britaigne) that was taken into Jersey. That the French have lately sent 2000 men into Scotland. That there are sundry discourtes made there, of the proceedings in Englande in matters of Religion; That the Protestants have good hope (and pray earnestly therefore) that the Kings Majestic beinge warned by the late ruine of Germanie, happened by the Bishoppes continuance in their princely & lordly estate; will take Order for the redresse thereof in his dominions, & appoint unto the good Bishoppes an honest & competent Lying, sufficient for their maintenance; taking from them the reits of thies worldly possessions & dignities; & thereby avoide the vaine glorie that letteth them truly & sincerely to do their Office & preach the Gospell and Wordes of Christe. But the Papists, the contrary. And upon a fine appearance which was made by 1530 Horie, appointed to go towards Spire, to meeete the Prince of

Num. 523.

Spaine, he grounds a Propofal for converting all the Prebends in England, to the raising of fuch Troops of Horfe, for the defence of our Countrey, and maintenance of honeft, poore Gentlemen. 16.

8. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset from Bruffels, the 15th of January, 1548. defiring that due care may be taken of the Office of the Ordinance, which was incorporated by K. Henry the viiith, and not fince confirmed; which with the non-payment of their debts, has brought them into decay. 20. b.

9. Postscript of a Letter of the Privy Councill, specifying that the Ringrave had ftoolen away, to the detrimente of th'Emperors affaires, as well as thofe of England. 21.

10. The Duke of Somerset, from Somerset-place, the 23d of January, 1548. to Sir Philip Hoby, directing him to repair to the Emperor, & shew him that the Hoies belonging to his subjects, & staid thro' mistake were all releafed; and to desire him thereupon to releafe the English Merchants & their Ships, &c. which he had caufed to be arrefted at Antwerp. 21. b.

11. Sir Philip Hoby from Auspurg, the 13th of Junij, 1548. to the Duke of Somerset; concerning the preparations made by the King of the Romans to attack certain Forts on the frontiers of Transylvania, now belonging to K. John's fon, who is very young; and of the likelihood of the young Prince's having recourfe to the Turk, upon fuch an occafion. That the Interim is not as yet published, but is in the Presse. 22.

12. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset; giving a great character of Mr. Mount, who was going to Strasbourg, from whence he would advertize his Grace of fuch things as fhould come to his knowledge. 23.

13. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, from Greenwich the 5th of May, 1549. directing him to difcover the practices of the French King with the German Princes near the Elbe, & other maritime parts, of Germany; whereby they had gotten in a readinefs 22,000 Foot, & 3,000 Horfe, to be employed in cafe any thing otherwife than well fhould happen to the Emperor, whose death the French King daily expected. 23. b.

14. The Councell to Sir Philip Hoby, the 28th of July, 1550. directing him, with Dr. Wotton, or (Sr. Robert) Bowes; to give their answer of excufe to the Emperors Ambaffador, who had demanded the affiftance of England, in the Emperors Wars with France; and to offer his Majesties mediation towards a Peace. 25.

15. The Councell to Sir Philip Hoby Novemb. 1551. ordering him to fend Grave, Neudigate, & Hamond the next day to Court, feverally; in order to their examination. That he & the Lieutenant of the Tower fhould take away the Garter & Collar of the Order from the Duke of Somerset; and acquaint him that he fhould be tried for his Treafons the next Tuefday, tho' he would confeis nothing at his examination. 26.

16. The Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby, 14 of Aprell, 1552, ordering him & Armigell Waade to examine the Lady Suffox ftrictly upon certain Articles. 26. b.

17. The Council to Sir Philip Hoby, directing him to move the Emperor, or Monsieur d'Arras in the behalf of the Count de Rangone, who had received an injury from the Council of Milain. ibid.

18. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, to desire the Emperors furtherance in the paffage of 300 Horfe hired of Ilacquenford, to be employed againft the Scotts. 27.

19. The Council to from Sion the 4th of October, 1548, certifying him that the Danifh Ambaffadors told Mr. Mount, that they had offer'd to him, & to the Bp. of Westminster (Thiriby) the mediation of the King their mafter, in order to putt an end to the Wars between England, & the French & Scotts.

Num. 523.

They thereupon direct him, to fet forth the provocations his Majesty has (as well as his subjects) received from both the French & Scotts, & that tho' in the courfe of these Warres, the lofs has been on the enemies fide, yet the King is willing to hearken to the mediation of his Danifh Majesty; and will accordingly, fend a Person of Note to confer with him thereupon. 27. b.

20. The Duke of Somerset to Sr. Philip Hoby, the 26th of January, 1548. that Mr. John Dimmocke the bearer, is sent to him fecretly, to concert with him the means of levying 2000 Foot, about Friezeland, with all speed, to go againft the Scotts: with directions to gett the Emperors licence for their paffage, and how to answer his scruples thereupon, in cafe any fhould arise. 29. b.

21. The Councell to Sir Philip Hoby; from Greenwich the 19th of Januarij, 1552. fignifying his Majesties & their pleasure, that he fhould endeavour to be elected a Member of the Houfe of Commons. 31.

22. The Councell to Sr. Philip Hoby, the 2d of March, 1552. notifying to him the Kings pleasure that he fhould go, his Ambaffador into France; in cafe it would confift with his health. 31. b.

23. The Councell, to Sr. Philip Hoby, the 27th of March, 1552. haftning his departure as his Majesties Ambaffador to the Emperor. 32.

24. The Councell to Sir Philip Hoby, from Greenwich the 3d of July, 1553. directing him to complain to the Queen-Regent, of the piracies committed by the Fleet, upon the English Merchants; and upon failure of fufficient redrefs, to threaten that the King would make reprisals. ibid.

25. The Bifhop of Norwich (Thirleby) Sir Philip Hoby, & Sr. R. Moryfon, to the Counsaile, the 9th of June, 1553. fhewing what pafs'd at the Audiences they had, firft of the Queen-Regent; and afterwards, of the Emperor himfelf; who seem'd well inclined to a Peace with France, who had begun the War with him, if it might be done in Terms fuitable to his Honor. And that finding the Emperor weake, leane, & pale, (tho' not fo bad as they before believed) their opinion was that he would not continue long. 33.

26. The fame (as it seems) to the Council in England, recounting what was faid at the audience they had of the Queen-Regent, in the prefence of Monfr. d'Arras, touching the pains the King took in this mediation of Peace between the Emperor & France. And in what manner they reſented the extravagance of the French Kings demands. 34. b.

27. The Counsaile, touching the method to be taken in mentioning certain matters to the Emperor; and requiring to keep a watchful eie upon the King of the Romans, & Maximilian the King of Bohemia. 37.

28. The Counsaile (to the fame Ambaffadors, at Bruffels, as it seems) upon the delay the faid Miniſters meet with, as to an answer to the matters by them propos'd to the Emperors Miniſters; which likewise occasions his Majesties Ambaffadors in France, to confume much time there, to little purpose. 37.

29. A ſhorte Note of the Charge committed to John Sheres, ſent of late to the King of Romans, 1. To ſhew the Kings will to continue the ancient amity with the Houfe of Auftria, & particularly to the King of the Romans & Maximilian King of Bohemia. 2. To desire the King of the Romans to affift the King, in his endeavours to procure Peace between the Emperor & France. And to fiſh out their intentions with relation to the Low Countries, in cafe of the Emperors death. 3. To learn what practices, Leagues & Confederacies are between the King of the Romans & any other Princes. 38. b.

30. The

Num. 523.

30. The Counsaile, the 11th of June, 1553. to the Bp. of Norwich, Sr. Phillip Hoby, & Sr. Rich. Moryson; requiring them not, as yet, to shew the Emperor the French Kings demands. 30. b.

31. The Counsaile, to the same, the 20th of June 1553. directing them if they have not done so already to write the Emperors answer to the unreasonable demands of the French King, to his Majesties Embassadors in France, that thereby they might apply for some others more equitable & moderate; or else gett an answer so resolute, as to put an end to both the Embassades. 40.

32. The Counsaile to the same, from Grinewiche, the first of July, 1553. directing them to shew further to the Emperor, the Kings good mind to procure Peace; and that it may happen that the French King may abate of his extravagant demands. That if they shall find no hopes of Peace, they should procure so resolute an answer as may be an occasion for their return; the King's honor, & the mutual amitie therein provided for. Finally, they affirm, that (notwithstanding all false reports, at home and abroad) the King is alive, &c. 40. b.

33. The Counsaile to the same Commissioners, the 11th of July, 1553. by Mr. Shelley; shewing the King's death, and Succession by Queen Jane. That Sr. Philip Hoby was to remain Embassador there, & to proceed in the Treaty of Peace if it should so like the Emperor. That the Lady Mary (tho' she had been written unto by them) fought to disturb the peace of the realme, by the concurrence only of a few, leude, base people. That the Duke of Northumberland & Marquis of Northampton were gone toward Norfolk, to keep that side of the Countrey in quiet. That they should advertise the Emperor of these matters; as also that the Lord Cobham & Sir John Mafon were by them sent to his Ambassadors here, to give them notice of the Lady Maries proceedings against the State of this Realme, and to putt them in remembrance of the nature of their Office, which is, not to meddle in thies causes of Pollicie, neither directlie nor indirectlie; and to charge them to use themselves so as they give no occasion of unkindness to be ministred unto them. 43.

34. The Queene Jane to the same Commissioners with th' Emperours, from the Tower of London, the 12th of July, 1553. notifying to them her succession in the Crowne & Dominion of her cosin & auncester King Edward the vi. whose steppes she intends to follow; particularly by promoting the weale of Christendom, and that by proceeding in the mediation of a Peace between the Emperor & the French King. To which end, she orders them to go on with the business of their Commission if the Emperor shall be willing; if not Sir Philip Hoby to stay there as her Ambassador Resident, & the others to return home. And that they should shew these matters to the Emperor, whose amity, she, as well as her Nobility & Council is very desirous to preserve. 44.

35. Minute of a Letter (perhaps from Sr. Philip Hoby) shewing that since his last, nothing hath happened worthy writing. 45.

36. Queen Maries Privy Council to the same Commissioners, from the Tower of London, the 5 day of August, 1553. shewing her inclination for their further stay, in case there was any likelihood of their succeeding in the mediation; but since the contrary did appear, They order Sir Philip Hoby & Sr. Richard Morfin, to return to the Queen's presence, & the Bp. of Norwich to remaine there as her Embassador Resident with the Emperor. 45. b.

37. The Bishop of Norwich, Sir Philip Hoby, & Sr. Richard Morison to the Counsaile, the 29th of July

Num. 523.

1553, that the Emperor is so weake & pale, that he is not likely to live long. 46. b.

38. The same to Queen Maries Counsaile, the 29th of July 1553. shewing that tho' the Ladie Jane had sent Mr. Shelly with Letters & Credence to the Emperor, they were not deliver'd, nor his Credit opened, for that it pleased God to call the Lady Marye her Grace to the State & Possession of the Realme, according to the Kings Majestie her fathers last Will, & the Lawes of the Realme: and beseech their Lordships that they may know her Majesties pleasure, as to what they should do. ibid.

39. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, the 13th of August, 1549. setting forth at large, how dishonorably the Duke of Somerset had behaved himself, presuming upon our Kings young years, contrary to equity, reason & justice, & contrary to the last Treaties between the two nations. And that at last, the French King had begun hostilities, without warning given, as he had promised. And that Sr. Philip should acquaint the Emperor herewith. 50.

40. The Duke of Somerset to Sir Philip Hoby, the 23d of August, 1549. directing him to publish, how the Lord Russell Lord Privy Seale had gotten the victory over the Rebels of Devon & Cornwall; and that certain light persons of the hither parts of Yorkshyre, having assembled themselves in disorderly manner, for the matter of Commons, & having done some damage, the Gentlemen had quelled them without much difficulty. 51.

41. A Copie of my Lord Privie-Seales Newes, first in the same Letter, wherein is particular mention of notable services of the Lord Gray, & Sir William Herbert. 51.

42. The Duke of Somerset to Sr. Philip Hoby Ambassadors-Resident with the Emperor, the 24th of August, 1549. describing the fury that posses'd the mob in Devonshire, Cornwall, Somersetshire, Norfolk, Yorkshyre, &c. so as that they brake-out in rebellion upon various pretences; that most of them had been sufficiently chastized, that others had submitted, & the rest in a fear of meeting with their deserts. That the French King had taken his advantage of these broils, and come down in person to Boulogne; and that tho' he had gained a Fort thro' the treachery of the Captain, 'twas hoped that Newhaven would be well defended against him. 52.

43. The Duke of Somerset & the Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby, the 1 of September, 1549. How the Lord Privy-Seale had quieted all things in Devonshire, &c. and writes at large how the Earl of Warwick had reduced Ket the Tanner & his rebellious companions in Norfolk. That the French King, in person by treacherous practises had taken first the Fort called the Almaine Campe, being the Key to Newhaven, afterwards the Fort of Newhaven it self, & then another piece called Blacknesse, and hopes to get Bulloigne. But, now the intestine jarres are appeas'd, they truil, he will find but small cause of boasting in the end, tho' he had begun the war so dishonorably, & at a time when they were obliged rather to attend to the pacifying things at home. 53. b.

44. The Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby, the 16th of January, A.D. 1549. giving him thanks for his Advertisements; and signifying, that Mr. Anthony Guidot is come out of France, & brought word that the French King being desirous to treat of Peace, has named Commissioners accordingly; and that the King hath appointed the Lord Privy Seale, the Lord Paget, Sir William Petre & Sir John Mafon to treat with them. That the Earle of Arundell, Sir Thomas Arundell, & Mr Rogers, were sequester'd to their Houles; but that the report as if the Earl of Southampton was sequester'd also, is untrue. 56.

Num. 523.

45. The Council to Sr. Philip Hoby, &c. directing him to assist the servant of Count Ludovico Rangone, in soliciting his Masters business with the Emperor, since he hath always shewed himself affectionate towards the Kings Majesty; and hath presently bestowed one of his sonnes in service with his Highnes.

56. b.

46. Sir William Paget Comptroller of the Houehold, to the Lord Protector; relates the particulars of his passage to Brussels; his reception there by the Emperors Ministers, &c. at the Audiences he & Sr. P. Hoby had of the Empero, & the Queen of Hungary; and at a Conference with the Duke of Alba, Granvela, & his son Monfr. d'Arras. The business he was charged withal, was to encrease the amity between the Emperor & K. Edw. vi. which might be done more effectually, if they would agree that the Treaty between the Emperor & K. Henry viii. should be revis'd, & if need should be, corrected & explained, and afterwards solemnly ratified by all the Nations under the K. of England, or which would be under the Prince of Spain. To complain of the Emperors granting his subjects (of the Lowe Countries) Safe-Conducts, and of their furnishing the Scots with many necessities. To communicate to the Emperor the state of his Majesties affairs, with relation to the French & Scots. And to propose a marriage between the Lady Mary, & Don Louis the Infanta, & brother of the King of Portugal. To all which points the Comptroller mett with very good words; but as to the last when Monfr. de Granvela desired to know the Lady Maries portion, shewing that K. Henry viii. had given 200,000 Crownes with one of his sisters to the French King, & 100,000 Crowns with the other, to the King of Scotland; and that he had offer'd once before, 40,000. sterling with the same Lady to the same Infanta: Mr. Comptroller declared, that notwithstanding the long warres the King would advance what K. Henry left her, to twice so much; or peradventure to 100,000 Crownes, in case a convenient Dowry might be assured to her.

57.

47. Sir William Paget, & Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset; shewing how the Treaty between the Emperor & England, was revis'd at a Conference they had with the Emperors Ministers, and of the doubts which arose thereupon; as to which, and as to their demand that the Emperor should take B. (i. e. Boulligne) into his defence, they promised the Emperors particular answer.

64. b.

48. Sr. William Paget, to the Duke of Somerset, relating to him the Conference he had with Monfr. de Granvela, upon the Emperors not answering to the particulars mentioned in the last; and upon the practices of the French, against the Emperor & the Prince his son.

68.

49. Sir William Paget, & Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset, touching at what past between them & the President St. Maurice (wherein the Transcriber thought fit to leave out almost all the business); also the warm expressions which Mr. Comptroller used to Monsieur D'Arras, upon the Emperors not yet giving his answer, as to the doubtful expressions in the above-mentioned Treaty between him and K. Henry the viii.

70.

50. Sir William Paget to the Duke of Somerset; relating to the Emperors cold answer to the particulars above-mentioned, given by Monfr. d'Arras & two Presidents, with his reply thereunto. Also his answer to some complaints made on their side, against the English.

72.

51. The Duke of Somerset & the Counsaile, to Sir Philip Hoby, declaring to him the traitorous proceedings of the Lord High Admiral, the Dukes brother, viz. that he attempted to take into his own hands the most noble person of the Kings Majestie, & intended (by bandying himself with divers persons) to have moved plaine sedicion in the Parliament; & otherwise to have put the whole Realme in trouble & daunger; that such his practices being discover'd and he questioned, he seemed very penitent, whereupon he was forgiven, & his Living advanced almost 1000 marks per ann. That afterwards, he practis'd, & had almost compassed a secret marriage between himself & the Lady Elizabeth the Kings sister, & then intended to have taken into his hands & order, the person of the Kings Majestie & of the Lady Mary, & to have disposed of his Majesties whole Counsaile at his pleasure; for all which he is putt into the Tower of London.

52. The Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby, relating the valourous acts of the Lords Shrewsbury & G. ay in Scotland.

80. b.

53. The Counsellors Letter to Sir Philip Hoby, directing him to thank Monfr. de B for stopping a Ship of London laden with Wheat from the North, for the Kings use; which being taken by the French, was retaken by a Dutch Vessel, & brought into Flushing.

54. The Counsaile, to Sir Philip Hoby, setting forth the continued miscarriages of Stephen Gardiner, Bp. of Winchester, which, at the last, occasioned his imprisonment in the Tower.

81.

55. The Counsaile, to Sir Philip Hoby, thanking him for his Advertisements.

82. b.

56. Minutes of Advertisements, touching the War in Scotland.

83.

57. The Bishope of Norwiche, Sir Philip Hoby, & Sir Richard Moryson, to the Council of England, the 26th day of May, 1553. upon their Commission to negotiate a traictie amitie with th'Emperor, join'd wth th'other Princes of Germany. With the doubts which arose to them thereupon; and their opinion touching the same; and the method they thought most advisable to be taken, in order to the making such a League.

84. b.

58. Sir Richard Moryson to the Council, proposing the League, between the King, the Emperor, & the Princes of Germany; which, if effected, no Christian Prince would be able to aid the Turke; who, without Christian ayde, neither hath, nor canne annoyne Christendome.

91. b.

59. The Bishop of Norwiche, Sr. Philip Hoby, & Sr. Richard Moryson, to the Counsaile, 7th Maij, 1553. shewing what pass'd at the Audience they had of the Queen Regent (the Emperor being sick) when they offered the mediation of England, for a Peace between the Emperor & France.

93.

60. The same, to the Council, from Brussels, the 13th of Maij, 1553. relating the Communication they had with Monsieur d'Arras, touching the mediation aforesaid.

94. b.

Herewith, they sent

61. A short discourse drawn up by Sir Thomas Chamberlayne, touching the estate and governans of the Lowe Countreys, after Cesar's decease.

96.

62. The Bp of Norwiche, Sir Ph. Hoby, & Sr. Rich. Moryson to the Council, shewing that they had considered together upon the League lately projected (vid. N^o 52.) and had herewith sent their doubts, & opinions thereupon.

99.

63. The Council, to the same; recommending to him the case of a certain person, who as it seems, had received some injury, from certaine of the Emperors subjects.

98. b.

64. The Bp. of Norwiche, Sr. Phil. Hoby, & Sr. Rich. Moryson, to the Counsaile, the 4th of June, 1553. upon the difficulties wherein they found themselves engaged; first in that the French King, in shewing his disposition toward Peace, made demands (& thot unreasonable ones) instead of offers: & secondly, in that they can have no access to the Emperor. They therefore desire to know further what they must do. 99.

65. Doctor Wotton, Sr. William Pickering, & Sr. Thomas Challoner, the English mediators in France, to the Council, 18. . . . 1553. That the French King & his Council, seem loth to make the first offer for Peace, before they hear of the Emperors disposition thereto. That they demand the Duchie of Mylaine, & Countie of Ast; the Realmes of Naples & Sicile, & Arragone; the superiourite of Flaunders, & of Arthois; the Towne of Tournay, with the Countie of Tournes; the Kingdome of Navarr to be restored to the rightfull King; & Siena, thei are contente that be set at Libertie, as before; free from the subjection of th'on & th'other. As for Metz, Tuill & Verdune, thei challenge nothing but the garde & protection thereof. etc. 100. b.

66. The Counsaile to Sir Philip Hoby July, 1553; apprizing him of the decease of King Edw. vi. that he died the 6th day of this Month, of the putrefaction of the Longes, being utterly incurable. That he should declare this to the Emperor, and desire the continuance of the ancient Amitye. 101.

67. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett; thanking his Grace for his many acts of liberality to him; and particularly for the 4 Mules he gave him; which having used him to service, he sends him back again. 101. b.

68. Sir Phil. Hoby to the Duke of Somersett; sending him a Copie of the Emperors Order for the reformation of Priests, as alter'd by the Bishopes. The Transumpt, of the Originall (supposed to be much different from this, he can in no wayes gett, the Bishopes be so curiouse in laying it from going abroad. 102.

69. Sir Phil. Hoby to the D. of Somersett; about their mutual receipt of Letters. 102. b.

70. Sir Phil. Hoby to the Duke of Somersett; in behalf of some Gentlemen, who offer'd to serve his Majesty in his Warrs. 102. b.

71. Minutes of particular passages in some of Sr. Philip Hoby's Letters to the Duke of Somersett; if not rather putt down before-hand for him to use upon occasion. 102. b.

72. Sir Phil. Hoby to the D. of Somersett, in behalf of one of the Kings messengers; who being a right honest person, & unfaindly dedicate to the Kings Majesties devocion, meriteth to be gratified with Thanks, or some good wordes. 103. b.

73. Sir Philip Hoby to the D. of Somersett, in behalf of one of the gentlemen, before recommended by him (vid. N° 70.) whom he hears is very well qualified to be an Officer of Horie. 103. b.

74. The Counsell to Sr. Philip Hoby, thanking him for his Letters of Advertisement. 104.

75. Extract of a Letter from the Council to Sir Philip Hoby. 104. b.

76. Part of a Letter, to some Lord. 104. b.

77. Part of a Letter from the Duke of Northumberland (as it seems) to Sir Philip Hoby, in his commendation. 104. b.

78. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, in behalf of a certain prisoner for debt. 105.

79. The English Ambassadors in France, relating the particulars of an Audience they had of the French King, and the communication they had before it, with the Constable, upon the subject of their mediation of Peace between the Emperor and that King. 105.

80. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, setting forth the losses he has incurred by the service; and desiring a recompense. 107. b.

81. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, upon his coming over to Bruffels, to succeed Thirleby Bishop of Westminster in his residence there. He largely describes that Prelates great abilities in matters of State; & thinks it a disadvantage to come after such a Minister. 108.

82. Sir Philip Hoby to the Lord of Somersett, by Mr. C. (i. e. Sr. Thomas Chamberlayne. For in those days 'twas as common to give the Title of Maister to Knights, as of Sir to Priests) whose great experience, & other good qualities he mentions at large. 108. b.

83. Sir Richard Morien, to the Council; which seems to refer to his project of a League between the Emperor, England. & the Princes of Germany; which by their command, he had communicated to his Colleagues the Bishop of Westminster, & Sir Philip Hoby. 109.

84. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, a short Letter. 109. b.

85. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett; another. 109. b.

86. The Council (as it seems) to Sir Philip Hoby, certifying him of the late loss in the North; and directing him to desire the Emperors licence to levy 1000 Horsemen, & to send them to Calais. 109. b.

87. The Council, to the same, wondering at the Emperors refusal of their request, as to the 1000 Horse abovementioned. 109. b.

88. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, as it seems; setting forth his inability to bring the matters committed to him, to the desired effect; he having (as he writes) neither learning or experience; & without either knowledge of the Law; or practise in matters of Importance; voyde of the grave wisdom & prudence required in such an Office; & utterly without fight in the Latin Tongue; and therefore desires him to send over such a personage as is thoroughly learned; experte in the Civile Law; of great practise & experience; sene in Tonges; trained in waigtie affayres; fetled in Judgement; and of sycle gravitie, wisdom & prudence, as were hable to encounter in whatsoever occasion might occur, with enie such as he shoulde have cause to deale withall. Such a person he thinks Mr. C. (whom Mr. Starkey suppos'd was Mr. Comptroller Paget). 110.

89. Sir Philip Hoby (as it seems) to the Duke of Somersett, recommending G. G. to his favor. 111.

90. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, recommending Mr. H. as a godly & learned person; & desiring his Grace to procure the Kings licence for him to preach. 111. b.

91. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, in behalf of a person recommended to him by the Ambassador of P. (Poland?) as injured by an Englishman. 111. b.

92. Sr. Phil. Hoby, to the Council? that sundry Discouries & Judgements are made in those Countries, touching our communication with France. 112.

93. Part of two Letters of the Council, concerning certain French bragges of their recovering the Towne of Hadington in Scotland, which the Lord Gray had taken & fortified. 112. b.

94. The Council to Sir Philip Hoby, directing him again to recommend the case of Count Ludovico Rangone to the Emperor (vid. supra, N° 45.) 112. b.

95. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somersett, as it seems; thanking him for some new benefit (perhaps upon the application made to him, as above at N° 80.) 112. b.

96. Sir Phil. Hoby to the Duke of Northumberland, recommending the bearer. 112. b.

97. Letter of Revocation to requiring him thoroughly to instruct Sir Richard Morfion in the business committed to his Charge, to accompany him to an Audience of the Emperor, whom he must acquaint with his being recalled, and that Sir Richard is to succeed him, and then without delay to repair to the Prefence. 113.

98. Sir Thomas Ch. & Sr. Philip Hoby to the Lords of 113.

of the Council; shewing what had pass'd at the Audience they had of the Emperor, when they acquainted him with the apprehension of the Duke of Somerset; and that the King desired, for his money, to levy in his Countreys 2000 Horse & 4000 Foot, towards the defence of Boulogne; and what good words the Emperor returned them. 113. b.

99. The same; relating divers particulars of the Conference they had with Monfr. d'Arras; who (like the Emperor) gave'em good words; and insisted upon the demolishing of a Fort, which the English had built, partly upon the Emperors ground. 116.

100. Sir Thomas C. to the Lords of the Council, relating what pass'd at his Audience of Leave he had of the Emperor; who desired the King and his Counsaile to have matters of Religion recommended, to th'end we may be, at the length, all of one opinion. Till when, to speak plainly, he could neither so earnestly, nor so thoroughly assist his good brother, as his desire was. 116. b.

101. Thomas Thirley Bp. of Westminster, & Sr. Philip Hoby, to the Duke of Somerset; relating what pass'd at the Audiences they had of the Emperor, and of the King of the Romans; and at the visit they made Monfr. de Grandvela; when they shewed that the King had recalled the Bp. and had sent Sir Philip as Ambassador-Resident in his room. 117.

102. Sir Philip Hoby, to the Duke of Somerset, in commendation of Mr. Comptroller Paget, & the great prudence wherewith he demeaned himself during his Negotiations at the Emperors Court. 119.

103. Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset; in behalf of C. H. who (as it seems) was pinched too hard in his bargain, of levying Souldiers for the service of England. 119. b.

104. The Council to . . . requiring him to hasten to the Court. 120.

105. Sir William Paget & Sir Philip Hoby to the Duke of Somerset; concerning a gentleman, who being put out of his Living by the Bishop of Rome, offer'd to serve the King in his Wars, with some convenient number of men; and was going into England for that purpose, etc. 120. b.

A Book in fol. whereunto Sir Simonds D'Ewes prefixed the Title following,

An Inventorie of Cardinal Wolley's rich Houfhold-stuffe, Temp. Hen. viii. The original Book, as it seemes, kept by his own Officers.

I believe it may have been one of those Books, which at his fall (A.D. 1529. ann. 21 Hen. viii.) were placed upon Tables, & contained a perfect Inventory of all his moveable Goods: concerning which John Stow has transferred much from Cavendish the writer of Cardinal Wolley's life.

A thin Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. The Letters Patents of K. Henry the viii. whereby he erects a new Court of Augmentations of his Revenues; and appoints Orders & Rules for the several Officers therein. dat. in the 38th year of his reign.

2. Declaratio brevis omnium & singulorum Feodorum collectorum, ac aliorum, cum annuatibus, pensionibus & corrodijis diversarum personarum, tam per Sigillum Dñi Regis hujus Curie (Augmentationum) quam per Sigillum commune nuper Prioratuum, Abbatiarum, & Monasteriorum, in Comitatu Ebor. per termino vite & annorum, concessorum, & in compotis ministrorum R. Henrici viii. de anno 36to allocatorum.

3. A Note of certain Caviats made by the Commissioners, concerning Lands in different Counties (which should have been placed after 48.)

601.

A thin Book in fol. wherein is contained,

A short Account of the foundations & endowments of all the Colleges & Chautreys in the City of London, & County of Middlesex.

A Book in fol. written (as it seems) by the direction of Sr. Walter Covert Kt. who served as High Sheriffe, Justice of Peace, & Deputy Lieutenant, in the County of Suffex: and containing Copies or Entries of all Orders, Letters from the Privy Council, Lord Lieutenants, &c. relating to the public buisness of the County, or to those Offices, from 16th of November, 1583, to the 16th of November, 1627, with some other private matters, the particular enumeration whereof is not the design of this shorter Catalogue. But, that I may not be wholly silent, I shall take notice of these that follow:

1. Letter from the Lord Hunfdon & Sr. Francis Walsingham, dat. 16 Nov. 1583, to Walter Covert Elq; High-Sheriffe of Surrey & Suffex, to protect the houle wife & family of John Ashburnham of Ashburnham Elq; from the outrages of his Creditors. till they (by authority from the Queens Privy Council) should have determined therein as should be thought meet. 1. & 11. b.

2. An Advice to a Captaine of a Companie of Fote-men, howe to frame & instruct his Companie. 2.

3. Processe out of the Courte of Warre, &c. against many in the Counties of Surrey & Suffex. 3.

4. Letter from the Privy Council, recommending the deplorable condition of the Inhabitants of Nampwich in the County of Chelster, after the destruction of the said Town by fire. 12.

5. Letter of Sir Francis Walsingham to Walter Covert Elq; Highe-Sheriffe of Suffex & Surrey, requiring him to repayre to Petworthe, & in her Majesties name to apprehend one Shastowe a servant to the Earl of Northumberland, & to fend him up in safe custody; but in the performing this service, to use the Lady Northumberland with all curtesie & honor. dat. 16 Dec. 1583. 14. b.

6. Letter from the Privy Council, dat. 24th Maie, 1584. requiring, that there shall for the future be a general Sessions for the execution of justice, &c. for the whole Countie of Suffex, as in other Counties, the petty Sessions in each Rape, being very inconvenient, & dilatory. 15.

7. Letter from the Privy Council, dat. 27 October, 1584. requiring the High-Shryve of Suffex to be-lett the Houle of Edward Gage of Eyfeild Elq; where (as they were informed) Masse was sometimes laid; on the daie of All Saintes next coming, in the forenoone; to commit to Prison all suspected persons, and seize upon all the Popish Trinkets they should find, &c. 15. b.

8. Letter from Sir Francis Walsingham to Mr. Covert High-Shrive of Suffex, thanking him for his diligence in the execution of the service last mentioned, though sorry it took no better effect. Tells him he may keep the Pictures & Beads; but that he should return the Chalice, after he had defaced it so, as it might no more serve for a Chalice. 16.

9. The Lord High Treasurer Burghley, as Master of the Court of Warde, to the same High-Sheriffe, requiring him not to make any returne of Burgeses to Parliament for the Town of Gattou in Surrey, till he should receive directions from him. Now Gattou (as I suppose) being depopulate, one Mr. Copley used to nominate Burgeses to serve in Parliament, as for that Town; and he being deceased, his heir was then, within age, and the Queen's Ward. (dat. 13 Nov. 1584.) Ibid.

10. Another from the same to the same: dat. 24 Nov. 1584. requiring him, instead of Mr. Francis Bacon, w^lo with Mr. Thomas Bushoppe was nominated Burges of Gattou, to returne Edward Browne Elq. Ibid.

11. Letter of Sir Walter Myldmay, desiring Mr. Covert (since he had heard of his good disposition to bestow some porcion of Land, for the mainteyninge of Returning hearty thanks for his procuring the King to settle three Fellowships in several Colleges in Oxford, for the advancement & maintenance of young Students born in those remote Islands; & recommending Mr. Daniel Brevin for one of them. 96.

92. His Majesties Letter from Holdenby, to both Houses, dat. 6 March, 1646-7. desiring he might be allowed the attendance of his Chaplains. 97.

93. A Petition of ten Noble Men to K. Charles I. representing divers grievances to his Majesty, & praying that he would call a New Parliament. Concluded upon, 28 Aug. 1640. 98.

94. The Substance of her Majesties Embassadors Negotiations with the Prince of Orange, & others deputed by the States of the Lowe-Countryes. dat. Antwerp, 2 July, 1578. upon 3 points, or articles of their Instructions. 1. About a Reconciliation with the King of Spain. 2. About their Ability to continue the War. 3. About their receiving the Duke d'Alencon. 99.

95. The Substance of the Conference between the Lords the English Ambassadors, and the Emperors Ambassador at Antwerpe, 28 July, 1578. upon the subject of establishing Peace between the King of Spain & the Netherlands; and upon the means of overcoming the obstinate averfeneffe of Don John. 102.

96. Instructions for A. B. (i. e. Sir Francis Walsingham) to be sent to the Scottish Queen, to bring her on to a Treaty, which that imprisoned Queen had promised; with Threats, of having no farther concern for her, in case she should have failed in any point; or should be wanting in any Article of Compliance. 104.

97. Letter from her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, to the Regent of Scotland; requiring his Resolutions, upon the notice she gives him of (her enemy) the Lord Farnhurst's intention to go into France; and that he would write to the Earl of Argile to hinder one Surleboyn from levying men in the High Lands, for the assistance of her Rebels in Ireland. 105. b.

98. Secretary Walsingham's Letter to the Regent of Scotland; advertizing him of the death of the French King, perhaps that of Charles the ix. and exhorting him to shake off Security, & have his eyes open, &c. 106.

to be made for the assistance of the People of Geneva against the Duke of Savoy. 107. b.

102. The Queen's Warrant for Livery for the Kts. of the Garter elect; and for John Wolley Esq; Chancellor of the Order. A.D. 1589. 108. b.

103. A Speech made in Parliament, at his Tryal, by Arch-Bishop Laud; wherein he vindicates himself touching the two main points of his Accusation: namely, that his Intention was to subvert the Laws of the Land, & the Protestant Religion. 109.

104. Letter of Thomas Howard Duke of Norfolk, a little before his Execution, to all his Children, especially his son Philip, &c. 20 January, 1571. wherein he gives them all many pious & loving Admonitions. But among other things, affirms that (John Lesley) Bishop of Ross, & Barker, did falsely accuse him, & laid their owne Tr. asons upon his back. 112.

105. Another Letter of that great Peer, to his son Philip, of the same date with the former, & inclosed therein: the chief business is, to let him know whom he found to be his most faithful Friends, & Servants; desiring him to apply accordingly to the former, and reward & trust the latter. 115.

106. Another Letter of the same Duke, bearing date, 28th January, 1571. To all his Children, & especially the Lord Philip his eldest son; shewing how he had put them under the Tuition of the Lord Treasurer Burghley, whom, from henceforward, he charges them to look upon as their adopted Father. He again shews who were his best friends & servants; and acquaints them with his Will, touching some of his worldly concerns. 116. b.

107. Another Paper of the same Dukes, dated the 4th of Febr. 1571. wherein, for the discharging his Conscience, & the clearing of his Fame, he shews the several points wherein he was falsely accus'd; tho' he does not deny, but that he was unwise in concealing some things, which he ought to have discover'd. 118. b.

108. Letter of Mr. Randolph, out of Scotland, to the Earl of Leycester, dat. 6 Febr. 1564. about his proposed Marriage with the Queen of Scots. He blames the Earl of standing off, too far; & thinks it strange that he should wooe a Queen without Labour or Travell, Cost, Charge, Message, Token, or any one signification of his own good Will, &c. 121.

Num. 793--797.

A Book in fol. treating upon the History & Antiquities of Part of Yorkshire; containing,

1. Notes touching the History of the severall Townes & Villages, or Hamletts, within the Hundred of Hang-west, in the North-Riding: written, as it seems, by one Mr. Jennyns, who was (as I have been informed) an industrious person, and composed an Ordinary of Arms, yet extant in the Library belonging to the College of Arms, where it bears his Name, & is looked upon as a Book of good use & authority (Another Copie of the same, is now here inscribed N^o 1577.)

2. Notes illustrating the History of the severall Towns, Villages, &c. in Halkeld Hundred in the same Riding: written as it seems by one Mr. Tilleyson; who (as I have been told) was a Suffolk-Gentleman, that he wrote some things touching the Antiquities of that County, and that his Name ought to be written Tillotson. Some mention is made of him by Dr. Richard Kuerden a Cheshire Antiquary. 228.

And here it may be noted, once for all, that this Book, and the twelve that next follow, are collected from the Writings of that great Antiquary Mr. Roger Dodsworth, still preserved in the Bodleian Library in Oxford: but with this difference, that what Mr. Dodsworth wrote sparingly, in his severall Volumes, according as matter occurred to him, they place under the Name of the Towns to which such matter relates. And also, that whereas Mr. Dodsworth transcribed his Originals, in their own Language; they translate the same into English, even Epitaphs & Inscriptions.

3. The Valuation of the Spiritual Benefices, & Promotions within the Diocese of York; with the Names of their severall Patrons. Imperfect.

A Book in folio containing,

1. Like Collections from Mr. Dodsworth, relating to the severall Towns within the Wapentake of Ainsty, within the West-Riding of Yorkshire, written by Mr. Jennyns.

2. At the beginning is a List of the severall Gentlemen residing there, with their Arms Blazon'd; and at the end are some of their Pedegrees, done by another hand.

A Book in folio containing,

1. Like Collections relating to the Wapentake of Barkstone, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, written by the above-mentioned Mr. Tilleyson, for the most part.

2. At the beginning is a List of the Gentry there, with their Arms Blazon'd. And Pedegrees of some of their Families further in the Book.

A Book in folio, containing,

Almost all the same Collections relating to the same Wapentake of Barkstone: for the most part, seeming to have been written by Mr. Jennyns.

797.

A Book in folio, containing,

Like Collections relating to Morley-Hundred within the West-Riding of Yorkshire; seeming for the most part, to be of Mr. Jennyns hand-writing.

in; with their Arms Blazon'd.

A Book in folio, containing,
1. Like Collections relating to the Wapentake of Staincliffe, & Eucroffe, within the West-Riding of Yorkshire, written by Mr. Tilleyson.
2. At the beginning, is a List of the Gentlemen therein; with their Arms Blazon'd.
3. At the end, in another hand, are short Notes touching a Project, for a Description & History of Yorkshire.

805.

A Book in folio seeming to be one Volume of a large
Work of Mr. Jennynge; namely Extracts out of Mr.
Dodsworth's Collections, concerning the antient, noble, & worshipsful Yorkshire families. The Names of such as are herein mentioned, follow.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Certain Collections, by Mr. Jennyns (as it should seem by the hand) being Extracts from many old Deeds, illustrating the History of many Families, & Towns,

Num. 818 — 821.

Towns, in divers Counties: together with Draughts of some of the old Seals. All putt down without any order or method.

2. Nomina quorundam Militum, et Generorum de Com. Stafford, tempore R. 2. vel. H. 4.

Then follow, transcribed (as it seems) from the Collections of Mr. Sampson Erdeswike:

3. Blazon of the Arms of the Staffordshire Gentlemen.

4. Nomina et Arma Nobilium et Equitum Auratorum (de Comitatu Stafford) qui cum Edwardo primo Rege stipendia merebant in Scotia, et alibi.

5. Arma, Nobilium, &c. de Comitatu Stafford, ex Libro antiquo in Officio Armorum.

6. A Table of the Names of Families, many of whose Seals & Coates, with their Pedegrees & Descents are contained in this Book.

N.B. The Book here meant, I believe, was extracted from a Visitation of Staffordshire, & from the Collections of Mr. Erdeswike, partly by Ralfe Brooke, & partly by others: whereof but two portions do remain here, which I shall mention presently.

7. The Names of those that in the time of this Visitation of Staffordshire (A.D. 1583.) have made no proof of their Gentry, bearing no Armes, and yet (before time) had called & written themselves Gentlemen; and were therefore disclaymed in the chief places of the Hundred wherein they dwell.

8. Part of the Book above-mentioned at N° 6 that is from pag. 63. to page 88. according to its old notation.

9. Descents of many Families; for the most part antient Inhabitants in Kent, or otherwise settled therein; being, perhaps, part of a Visitation of that County.

10. Another part of the Staffordshire book mentioned above at N° 6. namely from page 133. to 147. and then follow other Leaves of the same, which ought to have preceded them, viz. from pag. 113. to pag. 132. according to the old notation.

11. Pedegrees of Grey.

12. Pedegree of Bacon of Suffolk.

13. Matches & Descents of most of the English Nobility, circa temp. R. Eliz. et Jac. I.

819.

A Book in fol. wherein is contained,

A Collection of the Arms of many of the English Nobility & Gentry, methodically disposed, by way of Ordinary.

1. Shields charged with one Lion, or more.

2. Fields of different Colours; with their Charges.

3. Shields charged with Barres.

4. Shields charged with Frets.

5. Shields charged with a Fesse, &c.

A thin Book in fol. containing only,

A Table to some large & notable Book of Heraldry, treating principally of the English Nobility & Gentry from the Conquest, down to Qu. Elizabeth.

Codex chartaceus et tenuis in fol. in quo continentur Fragmenta nonnulla cujusdam Libri ex Recordis publicis excerpti, viz.

1. Nomina eorum qui de Rege Edwardo III. tenebant in Capite per servicium militare, aut in vocagio ad terminum vite, v. l. in Burgagio. (f. Imperf.)

CAT. HARL. VOL. I.

2. Efectoria de annis 3. 4. 5. 6. 7. 8. & 10 R. Edwardi I.

3. Efectoria de annis 8. 9. 10. 18. 19. & 20 R. Edwardi II.

4. ————— de anno primo R. Edwardi III. Imperf.

Codex chartaceus in fol. et, quod dolendum, nonnullis in lēcis mutilatus: in quo continetur,

1. Bibliothecæ Theologicæ eximij viri Jacobi Usserij Archiepiscopi Armachani, Autographon; de quo, vide Prolegomena D. Guilielmi Cave Historiæ suæ Literariæ præmissa.

Quinetiam in pervolvendis hujusce Codicis folijs, repetæ sunt.

2. Rationes D. Petri de Marca, contra Usserij Judicium (in Dissertatione de Episcopis S. Ignatii) f. 35. posteriores Canones Apostolicos non ejusdem Antiquitatis esse ac 50 priores quos Dionysius Exiguus Latinitate donavit, sed sexto tantum Seculo confictos. inter pagg. 6. & 7.

3. A Letter from Mr. James Usher, afterward Archbishop of Armagh, to Mr. Sam. Ward.

4. A Letter from Mr. Sam. Ward to Mr. James Usher afterwards Arch-Bp. of Armagh. dat. 6 July, 1668.

5. Arch-bishop Ushers Answer to Mr. Francis Bunny, who wrote unto him that the Commentary upon the Apocalyphe set forth by Bishop Tunstall in the name of St. Ambrose, a Manuscript in Durham-Library, ascribeth the same to Berengarius. With Mr. Bunny's Note prefixed.

6. Letter of Alexander Cooke, to Mr. James Usher, dated from Leeds, A.D. 1612. mentioning certain of his own (i. e. Mr. Cooke's) Observations, proving, that the two Treatises ascribed to St. Ambrose, viz. Deijs qui Sacris initiatur, and de Sacramentis; as also that of Athanasius de Vita Antoni, are not genuine. His Reasons, are to be seen before this Letter.

7. Letter to Arch-Bp. Usher, dated from Oxford, 18 July, 1642. advertising, that his Majesty desiring a Loan of Money from the University those Colleges which had money in their Treasuries parted with it: those that had none, engaged their Plate for Money, for his Majesties use: which being notified above, there were Pursevants sent down, for the Vice-Chancellor & the 4 Deanes; but they returned with a Non sunt inventi. int. 582. & 583.

8. At the end, Arch-Bp. Usher has written a Table of the Authors Names, whose Works he has considered in the foregoing papers: but 'tis not compleat.

Note also, that although Dr. Cave had the use of these Collections, his Historia Literaria need not supersede the farther perusal of them; for many passages worthy of Note are here remaining, which the Doctor did not insert in that his elaborate & useful Work.

 2. The whole Proceedings of the Earl of Essex, & other of Queen Elizabeth's Ministers, in the discovery of the contrivances of the Spaniards against her life; by procuring her to be poisoned by Roger Lopez, a Spanish (new converted) Jew for the sum of 50,000 Crowns: with the confessions of the same Lopez & his accomplices. A.D. 1573-4.
 3. The Declaration delivered (in March, 1593-4.) by Judazer Fatim, a Jew; sent from Constantinople to England by his master Salomon (whom Armurath iii. had made Duke of Metilli; and who settled the Jews at Tiberias) to know whether Qu. Elizabeth would assist the Emperor against the Turks, or not. This Declaration as it is called) is, in French, & seems to have been delivered to the Lords of the Council, unfolds the reasons of his Journey; many particulars relating to the Grand Seigneur & his affairs; and particularly enlarges on the indiscreet & extravagant demeanor of the English Ambassador Burton then Resident at Constantinople. 65.
 4. Answers (in French) to many Questions, propounded to the same Judazer Fatim, by the Lords of the Council, as it seems; containing, among other things, an Account of the then chief Ministers in the Turkish Divan. 71.
 Then beginning at the other end of the Book, I find,

A parchment Book in a large, & thin 4to, written in the Reign of K Edw. iii. containing,

1. An Exposition of the Apocalypse, in old English.
The Version of the Apocalypse herein cited, is different from that in the New Testament, commonly ascribed to

Num. 874—877.

John Wyclef; and is much more agreeable to that of another (more polished) Copie of the same Treatise, extant in this Library, & inscribed 65. A. 7.

2. In the last page is the beginning of an old Poem, treating of the Universe, & describing the same according to the Doctrine of Ptolemy.

A thin parchment Book in 4to, wherein is contained,
That well known old English Poem, called PIERES PLOWMAN. Imperf.

One of the printed Editions ascribes it to Robert Longland: and from one of the MS. Copies, some have believed the author to be one John Malverne: but Leland, pag. 423. says it was the unanimous tradition or opinion of the learned in his time, that Geoffrey Chaucer was the author of it; which to me seems the most probable, for several reasons.

Codex tenuis, sed membranaceus, in 4to, in quo con-tinentur,

Codex chartaceus in fol. in quo habetur, Operis supradicti; Liber secundus.

884.

Codex superioribus confimilis, in quo cernitur, Ejusdem Operis, Liber tertius.

885.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained, Two Draughts of a Treatise compiled by John Cusacke, an Irish Gent. (the one being shorter than the other, and thus entitled, A Royal Presente; by way of Apology, for the Defense of a Royal Emprise (a Book so called) intitled Aurea Periscellis, which was presented unto his Majesty, A.D. 1638.

The Author threatens to confider of the Law of Honor & Arms, with the Grounds of Heraldry in this Work; but his way of writing is so heavy & tedious, & his hand so scrabbling, that I believe few will have patience enough to read him over.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A Visitation of Derbyshire, made by Will. Flower Norroy, & Robert Glover Portcullis, then in his company, A.D. 1569. with some additions by Ralfe Brooke, &c.

A Book in fol. which seems to have been (almost all) written by the hand of Mr. Ralfe Brooke, York-Herald. It contains,

1. The Visitation of Wiltshire, taken (circa A.D. 1564.) by William Harvey Clarendieux King of Armes, with some additions, perhaps by Ralph himself. 1.

2. The Visitation of Dorsetshire, taken (circa A.D. 1565.) by William Harvey Clarendieux King of Armes. 37.

N.B. There

Num. 888—892.

N.B. The Visitations are described in words, and not by Genealogical Schemes (if I may say so) in like manner as many other old Visitations are.

3. Each Visitation is preceded by its alphabetical Table of Families.

A Book in fol. at the beginning whereof I find the title following,

The Armes of the Gentlemen of Devonshire, as they were sett downe in the Survey (or Visitation) of William Harvey, alias Clarentius Kinge of Armes, in the year of our Lord God 1563. ann. 7 Eliz. R. with their Pedegrees: copied out of the Booke remaining with Mr. Taylor Herald-Painter in Fleetstreet, anno 1628. (At the beginning is an Alphabetical Table.)

890.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A Visitation of Northamptonshire, as it was taken, A.D. 1566. by Hugh Cotgrave Richmond-Herald, for William Harvey Clarentieux King of Armes. 1.
2. A Visitation of Huntingdonshire, as it was taken, A.D. 1566. by the same. 99.
3. At the end is an Alphabetical Table of the Names of the several families mentioned in both Visitations.

A Book in fol. written by different hands; wherein I find,

1. The Armes of Gentlemen in Cornwall, blazoned. 1.
2. A Kalendar or Table of the surnames of Families mentioned in the following Visitation of Suffolke. 6.
3. A Visitation of Suffolke, taken A.D. . . . by . . . with some Additions, by Ralphe Brooke, &c. (It wants the first leaf.) 7.
4. A Kalendar, or Table of the Names mentioned in the following Pedegrees. 36. b.
5. Pedegrees of many noble, & ancient Families; for the most part, described by Ralphe Brooke. They are chiefly, those of Pontz; the Royal Family; Dudley & West; Vernon; Lacy; Rouse; Talbot; Manors; & Roos; Mansell; Bohun; Percy; Vere; Clifford; Gwyn; Hasling; Hoby; Courtney; Gascoigne; Darell; Lovell; Dacre; Grey; St. George; Mansell; Purefoy; Mac-William; &c. 38. b.

froyed at the Dissolution of the Abbey there; & how the Abbots Dining Hall (which stands South & North) has been turned into a Parish Church, instead of the former; together with some Church Notes taken therein. 90.

4. Alphabet of Arms in Blazon, of many Gentle Families, chiefly of Suffex: including also divers others of Surrey, & other Counties. 92.

5. A Table of the Surnames in this Booke. 99.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. An Alphabet of the Arms of the Gentlemen of Cheshire & Lancashire, blazoned; those of each of these Counties being put down distinctly by themselves: together with additional Arms of many other Gentle Families.
2. In the last Page, are some Notes concerning the Creations of Sr. Donnell Mac Donnell to be Earl of Antrim; Sr. Oliver St. John, Viscount Grandison; Sir Richard Nugent, Earl of Westmeath; John Murray Esq; Viscount Amand, in Scotland; George Villers, Viscount Villers; & Christopher Villers, Earl of Anglesey: all by K. James I.

A Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts, written by divers hands; wherein are contained,

1. A Catalogue of the Dukes, Earles, Viscounts, & Barons, created, restored, & called by Writ, in the Kingdome of England, since the first Year of the Reygne of Kinge James, to the seventh year, inclusive. 1.
2. Earles, Viscounts, & Barons, created by Kinge James in the Kingdome of Scotland, since his Reign of the whole Islande of Great Britayne. 2.
3. The Order of the Queenes royal Proceedings from Summerseat Place, to Poues Church, Anno, 1588. and how all Estates were then marshaled. 3. b. & 3.
4. An Alphabet, in Blazon; of the Arms of many ancient & worshipful Families: perhaps, of Lincolnshire, and other Counties.
5. Another Alphabet of Arms, in Blazon; different from the former. 35.
6. An Account of the Nobility of England, & of their Creations, &c. from the Conquest, to A.D. 1572. I take this to be that Tract commonly ascribed to Robert Cooke, Clarentieux; of which many Copies are extant in this and other Libraries.

N.B. The Arms tricked or painted, in the margin of some other Copies, are wanting in this.

A thin Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. The Arms of the English Nobility, from the Conquest to the end of the reign of Q. Mary the 1st, in Trick, taken as I believe from some Copy of Clarentieux Cooke's Creations, and not herein completed. And as that Book is known to be faulty in divers places with respect to the persons therein mentioned: so, I'me afraid the Arms here (and in other Copies of this kind) ascribed to them, are not always right.
2. At the beginning is a Table to the Arms, above-mentioned; written, perhaps, by Tho. Cole.
3. Letter from Dr. Will. Parry to Queen Elizabeth; dated from the Tower, 14 Febr. 1584, confessing the treasons whereof he was accused by Mr. Edmund Nevenitt, &c. penult. b.

2. The Names, & Armes of all the Noblemen then being, or created, ſince the Conqueſte of Englande, & by whom they were created; deduced down to A.D. 1580. This is another of thoſe Accounts mentioned above, at the Book 62. C. 17. but in this Copie, the Arms (in blazon) conclude the Account given of each Nobleman.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by wherein are found,

1. A large Collection of Notes touching the Times when many noble, eminent, & worſhipful perſons deceaſed, and of their Funerals; & Diſcents; with Tricks of ſome of their Arms. The Collection was made during the reign of Queen Elizabeth, but relates alſo to many who lived long before her time. Herein are many Church Notes, as they are called; as alſo ſome few Additions of Raſſe Brooke Yorke-Herald.

2. Notes touching the Obſequies of foreign Princes, ſolemnized in England, from the ſixth year of the Reign of K. Henry VIII. to the 5th of Qu. Elizabeth, incluſive.

3. At the beginning is a Table to the Names mentioned in this Book thus far.

4. A Collection of the Pedegrees of many noble & ancient Families; with ſome uſeful Notes relating to them; as alſo the Arms of divers of them, whereof a few are painted.

5. At the end is a Table of the Surnames mentioned in the ſaid Pedegrees.

A Book in fol. formerly (as it ſeems) belonging to ſome of the Law-Offices; whereinto are entred,

The Sum of the ſeveral Writs iſſued out, their nature, & returns, during the 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, & 41ſt, years of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth.

899.

A thin Book in fol. wherein is contained,

An Alphabet of the Arms of Nobles & Gentlemen, of diſſerent Counties, in Blazon.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

& Judgements of the Courts (which by reaſon of confuſed Pleadings, Interlocutorie Speeches, & Arguments of Sergeants & Judges were very intricate, obſcure, & difficult, to find out) are clearly expreſſed, and laid open. Reduced under certeyne Paragraphs, Heads, or Diviſions, to which (according to the matter) particuler Caſes are applied. Published for the uſe of young Students of the Common Lawes, & all others, Lovers of the Fundamentall Lawes of England, by W. H. (i. e. William Hughes) of Graies Inn, in the County of Midd. Eſquire. Anno Domini 1647.

2. Charters, & Poynts of the auncient Charters, granted by the Kings of England, unto the honorable Citty of London; beginninge at William the Conquerour, untill the tyme of King Edward the Sixt. Collected & tranſlated out of the Latine Originalls into Engliſh, for the publique benefit of all the Citizens of the Citty of London. And published by Wm. H. (i. e. Will. Hughes) of Graies Inn, Eſquire, A.D. 1747.

Qu. Whether the above-mentioned Treatiſes have been yet printed?

A Book in fol. written by Mr. Robert Kemp, and containing his Hiſtorical & Heraldical Collections relating to the Countie of Norfolk, & Suffolk. More particularly, I find herein,

1. Nomina Hundredorum, Villarum, Dominorum, ac Tenementum in Com. Norff. (in Cuſtodia Rememoratoris Theſaurarij in Scaccario remanentia) certiſicata virtute Brevis Regis Edwardi II. gerentis Teſte, &c. 5 die Martij, anno regni ſui nono.

2. Arms (in Blazon) deſcrib'd from the ſeveral Church Windows, &c. in Norwich; with the Names of the Owners.

3. Names of Engliſh Noblemen, from the time of William the Conqueror; put into alphabetical Order: and in the margin, the Kings Names in whole Reigns they ſeverally lived, are ſpecified, or noted.

4. Table to the Names of Towns & Villages, to be mentioned preſently (viz. at N° 6.)

5. The Names of the Kinges, Princes, Dukes, Marquies, Earles, & Barons, ſaine in the tyme of the Variance betwene the Howſes of Lancaſter & Yorke, for the Crowne of England, during the ſpace of 54 Yeares. This Liſt is written on parchment, & paſted to the back of 43.

6. The Arms in moſt of the Towns & Villages in Norfolk, with ſome other Church Notes, taken by Mr. Kemp about A.D. 1575. He puts 'em down in Blazon, with the Names of the Bearers in the margin. And ſometimes, when a Coat is rare, obſcure, or otherwiſe liked by him, he expreſſes the ſame in Trick, as well as he could (for it appears, he could uſe the Pen better than the Pencil.)

7. A Table to the Names of Families whoſe Pedegrees (or Accounts of them) do next follow in the Book.

8. Extracts from the Pedegrees of ſome of the Nobility, & of many of the Gentry of Norfolk & Suffolk.

9. Then follow, Pedegrees (or Extracts from them) of divers other ancient Families, viz. Stelly, Devereux, Harcourt, Bagot, Arden & Bieton.

10. Inquiſitiones captæ (per ſingula Hundreda) anno R. R. Henrici IV. tercio, pro racionabili auxilio de Feodis Milium, ad Blanchiam filiam ſuam primogenitam maritandam, in Comitatu Norff. colligendo; in quibus recenſentur Terrarum et Maneriarum, in Capite Tenentes.

A parchment Book in 12mo, written partly in English, & partly in Latin. by divers hands; wherein I find,

1. Significationes Mysticæ elementum Alphabeti. 1. b.
2. An imperfect Poem in old English (long before Chaucer's time) wherein the ingenious Author describes the Land of Cockayne, as a Countrey far more pleasant than Paradise itself; and sets forth the luxurious lives of the Monks & Nuns there. 3.
3. A Ballad, wherein the Author satyrizes upon the Saints, religious Orders, and upon the cheats or frauds used in divers Trades (particularly he mentioneth the White Freres of Drogheda.) 7.
4. A Ballad made by Frere Michel Kyldare, upon the Vanity of Riches, and of the Enjoyments of this Life. 9.
5. A Song against the luxurious Abbat & Prior of Gloucester, in vile Latin Rhythms (but in the manner of Hymns) the Author using poor Priscian most barbarously, on purpose. 10.
6. Hore Sompnolentium adversus Capitulum. This is the Divine Service, villainously altered, by way of abuse upon some slothful & lazy Convent. 12.
7. Missa de Potatoribus, this is even much more villainous (or rather blasphemous) than the former. 13. b.
8. Adnotatio ex Operibus V. Bedæ, de Damnis emergentibus quando Sacerdos omittit Divinorum celebrationem. 14. b.
9. Monita Moralia, simul ac Medicinalia; Veribus. 15.
10. Certain Proverbs, in French; each Word beginning with the Letter F. 15. b.
11. Proverbia Comitum Desmonie, in French; almost every Word beginning with the Letter S. 15. b.
12. Ad extrahendum Salem de Potagio; si sint nimis falsa, absque ullo liquore. ibid.
13. A Divine Poem (perhaps by Michel Kyldare above-mentioned) upon Death; against Pride & Covetousness; upon the Deceit of Riches; mans last end, and the Joys of Heaven. 16.
14. xv. Signa ante Judicium. A Poem. (Imperfect.) 20.
15. A Fragment of a Poem against Covetousness, &c. 22.
16. Fragmentum Narrationis, de Dæmone (in muliere quadam obſessa) per Fratres exorcizato; deq; virtutibus cujusdam Indulgentiæ Papalis. Demon enim Veridicus, ait, Tante Virtutis est ipsa Indulgentia, quod si unus homo occidisset omnes homines de Mundo, manu sua, et ad locum illum, ipso die Indulgentiæ, vere Confessus et Contritus accederet; statim in ingressu loci illius ita mundaretur ejus anima ab omni Peccato, sicut anima Pueri perfecte in Baptismo mundatur. (vid. infra, ad num. 18.) 23.
18. Exordium Narrationis supramemoratæ (sc. ad num. 16.) de Virtute Indulgentiæ Ecclesiæ cuidam Civitatis Ravennæ, quam (taile nocte) Beatus Johannes Evangelista consecravit personaliter. 25.

A thick vellum Book in 12mo, (bought of me) being written by three different hands, which I shall here mention, though such remarks were not intended to be put into this shorter Catalogue.

1. The main body of the Book was (I believe) written in France, by some eminent Librarian or Book-writer, during the Reign of our K. Henry the third; who also adorned it with many curious & well drawn Pictures, the rudeness of the age considered. Among which Pictures, many (as may be seen) were intended to expose the wicked & inordinate lives of the then Clergy, who were hated by the Librarian, as taking away much of their business.

2. I find certain Ejaculations to our Saviour, &c. written on several Pages & Leaves at the beginning, not touched by the Book-Writer; which may have been done A.D. 1428. according to the Observation, inserted by a recent hand, in fol. 2. b. Though the Date he mentions, does not now appear.

3. The latter part of the Book, is of an English hand, & of English Parchment, written about the latter end of the reign of K. Henry the vi.

The Book contains the Horæ B. Marie, with Collects, &c. for the Holydays, whole Rubrics are in French; the Office for the Dead; and some of the Psalms: all in Latin.

Codex membranaceus in 12mo, nonnullis in locis, quod dolendum, madore læsus: in quo nitide scriptus fuit Liber Ecclesiasticus, qui dicitur Temporale, secundum Usum Sar.

930.

A thin parchment Book in 12mo, (bought of Mr. Le Neve) wherein are contained,

1. An old English Version, of the Treatise entituled Modus tenendi Parliamentum.

2. Translation of the Treaty between our King Henry v. and K. Charles v. of France; whereby the former was to be Regent of France during the life of his Father in law; & to succeed him in that Kingdom after his decease. Imperi.

931.

Codex chartaceus in 12mo, in quo continentur,

1. Annotationes, tam Græcæ quam Latine, ex Psalmis divinis desumptæ.

2. Annotationes ejusdem farinae, Ex Epist. Pauli Apostoli ad Romanos.

Codex membranaceus sed recentiori manu scriptus in 16to, quo continentur, Contenta Librorum omnium Biblicorum, versibus Latinis elucubrata.

933.

A paper Book in 8vo, bound long-wise, being one of those which the Germans call ALBUM's; and are much used by the young Travellers of that Nation;

Num. 933—936.

who commonly ask a new Acquaintance (even at the first meeting) to write some Sentence therein, with a Compliment to the owners Learning, good Sense, &c. which done, the names so gotten are laid before the next new face; and the young Man upon all occasions, especially at his return, by these hands, demonstrates what good Company he has kept.

Nevertheless in England there may be some good Use made of these Books (besides the benefit of some wife and uncommon Sentences to be found therein) I mean, by the original hands of Foreigners of the highest Quality, of both sexes, of other Noble Men, Ladies, learned & otherwise eminent persons, whose hands, perhaps, cannot otherwise be come at.

In this Book, which belonged to John Halsfurter a young Man, native of Amberg in the Upper Palatinate; and who (as it seems) practis'd Physic at Blandford in Dorsetshire, circa A.D. 1627, 1638, &c.) are,

1. Entrances of Names & Sentences, by (new) Acquaintance, as above-mentioned: with the Arms of some of them handsomely painted.
2. A few small Prints of the Habits of divers Sorts of People; taken from Speed's Maps, or worse Authorities.
3. Some few scattered medicinal Notes; in Latin.
4. Forms of Complemental Conclusions of Letters.

Codex pusillus, a Germano quodam, ut videtur, scriptus; qui Titulum insequentem ei præmisit, Summaria Delineatio eorum, quæ in Curia Locorum Theologicorum fufius tractavimus Anno 1657, die 6 Aprilis.

935.

Codex membranaceus, et probe scriptus in Volumine pusillo, in quo continentur,

Horæ Beatæ Virginis Mariæ; cum alijs Precibus, &c. (Desiderantur plurima folia: quin et ex ijs quæ restant, multæ, Bibliopægi Officantia e Sedibus suis transponuntur.)

In many places of this Book, are Prayers, & other Notes (in English) written by the hand of John Brygandyn Clerk, who (as he writes) married Isabella the widow of Ralf Darrelle, A. D. 1537. and afterwards, viz. A. D. 1546. married Johan Perpoynt; and as it should seem, might have been some Bishop, or Suffragan, in the time of K. Hen. VIII.

A little Book, consisting of but ten Leaves, (though each of them be triply folded up) the whole being so contrived with respect of its writing leaves, covers, & strings, as to hang (by the great knot) at a Girdle, whereby the Person owning it might easily peruse it, or any part of it, without taking it off. It contains, An Almanack for the year of our Lord 1431. with a suitable Tract concerning the various Rules in Computation, as to the Eclipses, Leap-year, Indiction, &c. written by the Author in English, & illuminated, for the use of his Soverayne Maistres, as he styles her. Who she was, does not appear, but that he was a Clergyman, is very probable.

A thin Book in 4to, bought of Mr. Le Neve, on the Cover whereof he has written the following Title, "Diploma from the University of Padua in Italy, to Edward Smithson for the Degree of Doctor of Phisick, dated, 24th of December, 1700."

It is written in the Italic hand (like that kind of Print called the Roman Letter) by Rochus Maria Castelli, subscribed by the principal Men of the University; sealed with the Seal of St. Mark of Venice, & of the University, and illuminated in the proper manner.

N.B. None of the Books, from N° 905. to N° 938. inclusive, above described, did belong to the late Bishop Stillingfleet.

Num. 939—941.

A thin Book in 4to, wherein is contained,
The Arraignement of Sir Walter Raleigh Kt. at Winchester, on Thursday the 17th of November, A.D. 1603. Upon the Trial, Sir Walter stood stoutly upon his Innocence, especially against Sir Edward Coke then Attorney General, whose zeal for the King threw him upon the frequent utterance of taunting, & ungentlemanly expressions. It appeared that his Accuser Henry Lord Cobham, had by a Letter to Sir Walter, retracted all his Accusation, and afterwards retracted that retraction. That Sir Walter who (besides extreme ambition and impious opinions) was noted for Coverousness, had been dealt withall, to be a Spy to the Spaniards, for which he was to have a Pension of 1500 l. and yet had made no discovery of this Practice to the King, or any of his Ministers. That the Lady Arabella, whose Title the same Lord Cobham, & Thomas Lord Grey of Wilton had determined to set up, & whom they had begun to tamper with, had behaved herself with prudence & loyalty, and was therefore wholly clear of their Treasons: not to mention other Circumstances of less Moment, excepting this, that it was the Opinion of the Lawyers then, that a man might be sentenced to Death, upon the evidence of one only Witness: or without any Witnesses at all, to be brought in Court, face to face.

The Author, at the latter end writes, that Æsop's Fables were translated out of Greek into Latin; and from thence into English (or Saxon) by King Ælfred; from whose Version (now lost) he made this in French.
Thus, these Fables cannot be the same with those that came out of the shop of Maximus Planudes the Greek Monk, who lived A.D. 1340. but may rather be expected to agree with the older Greek Copies; one of which I remember to have seen in the Bodleian Library among the Barroccian MSS. though I think it is not mentioned in Mr. Chilmead's Catalogue.

lost. 137. b.

Next follow, in very old French Verse, some fabulous Stories of Love and strange Adventures, made (as it seems by the Conclusions of several of them) by the Poets of Bretagne in France, who used to call this kind of Poems LAIS (which word is yet common among our modern English Poets) and they were sung to the Harp, as appears by the Conclusion of the Tale of Guygemar,
&c.

991.

A Book in 8vo, wherein divers Stories are written by the hand of Mr. Richard Symonds, partly in English, & partly in Italian. They relate to King Charles the First & others of the Royal Family, to many of the Nobility & Gentry of those times. To the long Parliament, Oliver Cromwell, his Family, Partizans, &c. Some of these Relations I shall more particularly take notice of, as follows.

1. That the Committee at Somerset House valued the King's Pictures & other moveable Goods at 200,000 l. notwithstanding that both himself & the Queen had carried away abundance. 5.

2. That the King gave most to, & pleas'd those most, that had most abus'd him, & cheated him. ibid.

3. How the Queen of Bohemia, & the Princess her daughter were obliged to act through Fear. ibid.

4. That the King had written a Book with his own hand, wherein were many things concerning Government, and the Model of Government for this Nation according to that of France, to be effected by bringing in the German Horse. That Oliver St. John, since Chief Justice, procured a fight of it by means of the Earl of Bedford, and made use of it afterwards against the King. 7.

5. The Vanity, Pride, & Beggary of . . . Clapham, one of the Gentlemen-Pensioners at Oxford. 12.

6. That Col. Wheeler was the Duke of Buckingham's natural son. 14.

7. Instances of the treacherous dissimulation of Oliver Cromwell: who by Williams pretended to be defended from Perkin Warbek. 16. 21. 22. 24. 94.

8. A Short Narration of the Ceremonies at Cromwell's taking the Protectorship upon him. 17.

9. Complements made by divers to Cromwell; with part of his Pedegree. 19.

10. Cromwell's Procession to London, being invited to dinner by Vyner Mayor of London. 20.

11. That at his return, one threw a Stone of 6lb. weight upon his Coach. 21.

12. That in acting a Play at Cambridge, he stumbled at a Crown, putton, & asked if it did not become him. 22.

13. That he required 1,900,000 l. per ann. to be settled on him for the support of his Government, though the King never had above 700,000 l. per ann. ibid.

14. His behaviour at his Daughter's Marriage-Feast. 23.

15. How Cromwell, with one Bowtell of Suffolke, would see the King's Corps after he was beheaded; and opened the Coffin himself, with Bowtell's sword. 24.

16. That Cromwell in his Prosperity, once restored a considerable Sum of Money, to one Mr. Compton, whom he had formerly cheated of it at Play. 25.

Num. 991.

17. That the Duke of Buckingham was very liberal to Mr. Nicolas Lanier. 34.

18. Of the Infolence and Malice of Carre Earl of Somerset towards Queen Anne whom he hated; with a Commendation of the noble nature of Prince Henry. 37.

19. Difcent of Reynolds of Chesterford. 45.

20. Of Sir Jofelyne Percy & others, who desired to be reconciled to the Popish Religion, & died before they could effect it. 45.

21. That the Lady Aftfield (married to Sr. Richard Minshall) had a son, heir to 2000 l. per ann. whom she sued for all that Estate, pretending that he was not begotten by her former Husband: but that her endeavours were defeated, and she fined 500 l. for her Impudence. 58.

22. The beginning of Cornelius Bee, the great Book-feller. 61.

23. How Benjamin More, by means of the Earl of Warwick & Holland, got many Warrants of the King for Baronets, which brought him in great gain: with the Names of some Baronets so made. ibid.

24. Difcent of Poole. 65.

25. Late Difcendants from Frecheville. 68.

26. Of the remarkable fidelity of a Ships-Crew to Prince Rupert, who (upon the springing of Plank) put him into a Boat, with such as he chose to row him; and then quietly sunk in his Sight. 71.

27. The gallant Answer sent by the Archbishop Chicheley to King Henry the vi. who, as the Archbishop thought, had reflected on the meanness of his Birth. 71.

28. That Hugh Peters became distracted, upon the Dissolution of the Protector's Government. ibid.

29. Late Difcent of Jermyn of Suffolke. 73.

30. The Trick used by one Taffborough an officer in the Exchequer, for gaining a rich Widow. 75.

31. Epitaph made for Philip Herbert Earl of Pembroke. 77.

32. Relation in part, of the manner of breaking up the Long Parliament, 13 Oct. 1659. 79.

33. A false Prophecy vented in Cromwel's time, concerning his Death, & the next Governors that were to be over this Nation. In favour of Popery. 81.

34. Difcent of Honeywood. 86.

35. The sharp Answer of a Gentleman to Henry Cromwell, who desired to borrow his Coach & Horses. 87.

36. The Manner of the King's escape from the Battayle of Worcester, as the Lady Wood relates it, who heard the King tell it his Mother. (Qu. If her Ladyship remembered the Story perfectly?) 90.

37. That Oliver Cromwell's Policy in suffering no Officers of the Army to have Power in Ireland, but those that had Lands in England, proved the ruin of his Son Henry's Affairs there. Recount when Lambert & Fleetwood had turned out Richard, those Officers durst not stir for fear of their Estates in England. 94.

38. That Oliver was poisoned; & that his Secretary Thurlow narrowly escaped. ibid.

39. Cromwell's Answer to the jeering Supercription of a Letter sent by one Faire to Haynes Deputy-Major-General to Fleetwood. 95.

40. Here are many Observations relating to the Families & Estates, of several of the Nobility & Gentry, which I have purposely omitted.

An old English Book in 8vo, well-written upon Velom; and thus entituled,

1. A Tretye of 8 Chapitres necessarie for Men that ziven him to perfection; whiche was founden in a Book of Maister Lowes de Fontibus at Cantebrigge, and turned into English bi Maister Water Hilton of Thurgatone.
2. On the last Leaf is the following Note, written by the first hand. This Book was made of the Goodis of Robert Holond for a comyn Proffite. That that Persone that hath this Book committed to him of the Persoone that hath Power to committe it, have the use thereof the terme of his Lijf; praynge for the Soule of the same Robert. And that he that hath the forfeld use of Commisioun whanne he occupieth it not, leave it for a Tyme to sum other Persoone. Also that Persoone to whom it was committed for the terme of Lijf under the forfeld Condiociouns, deliver it to another Persoone the terme of his Lijf. And so be it delivered & committed from Persoone to Persoone, Man or Woman, as long as the Book endureth.
3. After which, followeth this Note in a recent Hand. "James Palmer owneth this Booke, yet without the least Intent to pray for the Soule of Robert Holland, being a wicked & simple Custome of foolishly ignorant Paupits. J. Palmer Junior."

An Heraldical MS. in thin fol. being a Note-book for Funerals. It contains,

1. Entrances of the Arms of divers, buried in the Years 1637, 1638, 1639, 1640, 1641, & 1648, whose Atchievements, Elicocheons, &c. were furnished by John Withie; and their respective Arms are tricked by him.

Here it may be noted (once for all) that the Arms exhibited in this Book (as those also of the Book last described) are tricked, i. e. delineated or drawn, with Pen & Ink; which is the most usual way of entering or putting down Arms in Books. Therefore, if in describing the Arms in an Heraldical MS. I mention not in what manner they are done. I desire it may be understood that they are tricked, for if they happened to be colored or painted; or blazoned, i. e. described in Words or by Marks; I shall be fure to specify it accordingly.

2. Entrances of the Arms of Persons whose Funerals were served by John Sanders the Arms-Painter, or Painter-Stainer, in & from the Year 1681 to the Year 1687.

This Mr. John Saunders was Deputie of the Ward of St. Dunstan's in the West; was a man of the like character with John Withie abovementioned (tho' I think Mr. Withie was the better Tricker of the two). He bought Mr. Withie's Books after his decease; & died himself in a good old age, about the Year 1687, as I have heard.

3. An Alphabetical Table of the Families whose Arms are entered into this Book; begun by Mr. Withie, and continued by Mr. Saunders.

4. At the beginning of the Book, is a Sketch of a Vane which Mr. Saunders gave, & caused to be set up on the Steeple of St. Dunstan's in the West, 25 Sept. 1685.

5. A whimsical Atchievement, as for a Tipling Club or Society of Workmen, belonging to, or employed by the more substantial Painter-Stainers. Here are two Mottos; the one is NE QUID NIMIS, referring (as I suppose) to the Pewter (or Silver) Pot in the Elicocheon; the other being AD RIXATORES PUNIENDOS, & referring perhaps to the knotty Clubs drawn in & about the Elicocheon.

Num. 1043—1045.

8. A Table of the Families mentioned in the Treatise next ensuing: referring to the leaves, according to the old Numeration. 12.
7. The Visitation of the County of Worcester, as taken A.D. 1569, by Robert Cooke Esquire, Clarencieux King of Armes; with some Additions. 13.
8. A Table of the Families mentioned in the Treatise next following, according to the old Numeration of the Leaves. 52. b.
9. The Visitation of the County of Cambridge, as taken A.D. 1619, by Henry St. George Richmond, for William Camden Clarencieux, with some Additions. 53.
10. Another Table to the Visitation of Cambridge; more accurate than the other mentioned above at N^o 8. 113.
11. A loose Note relating to Sr. Edw. Byshe who was made Garter by the Parliament, & Sr. Edw. Walker by the King. 114.

A thin Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are putt down,

1. A Collection of Coats of Arms, tricked promiscuously; perhaps they may be of the Northamptonshire Families. Imperfect. 1.
2. Some other odd Coates. 14. b.
3. Pedegree of the Family of Pury; as sett forth by Sr. Edward Byshe Garter; & copied by John Saunders. 15. b.
4. Alphabetical Table to the Families mentioned in this Book. 19.
5. Difcent of Worth of Enfield. 21. b.

An Heraldical Book in fol. done by different hands; wherein I find,

1. A Collection of Arms putt down promiscuously, perhaps they may be Entrances made in some Arms-Painters book of the funerals of such Gentry or reputed Gentry, as were served with Escutcheons, Pencils, &c. by him. (among these, are Arms of 4 Families of Ramsay of Scotland. vid. fol. 7.) 1.
2. Receipts for the ordering of divers Colors, used in the Myltery of the Painter-Steyners, as it seems. 8.
3. Arms of the Company of Shipwrights. 11.
4. A Note touching the Family of Brewar, one of which (as the Writer affirms) was by William the Conqueror made Earl of Devonshire. 14.
5. Entrances of the Arms of Nobility, Gentry, & reputed Gentry, furnished by Mr. John Saunders the Painter Stainer, at their respective Funerals, from November 1652, to January 1675-6. 15.

In this Collection, it may not be amiss to have regard to Mr. Saunders's expressions; as, at the first Coat he writes, Mr. Bell—as at his Son's FUNERAL; whereby, I understand, that at his son's decease Mr. Bell applied to Mr. Saunders for his Arms, & that Mr. Saunders finding such Arms to have been borne by the Name of Bell, & being willing to take this Mr. Bell's Money, furnishes him with a sufficient Number of Escutcheons for the Funeral, which yet, he did not understand, as if Mr. Bell or his Family had thereby any Right to use. The second Coat being that of Mulsters, has no such Note tack'd to it; whereby it is to be understood that Mulsters had really a Right to it; but then 'tis said, per Bish, i. e. that those Arms were not used by Mulsters as insinuating on the ancient & known Usage of his Family, but by the Grant of Sr. Edward Byshe, Garter King of Armes.

Num. 1045, 1046.

Among the Entrances of Funerals abovementioned, I find,

6. The Confirmation of the Arms of Bartholomew of Lalam in Middlesex, by Sr. Rich. St George Clarencieux, & Sr. William Segar Garter, dated 29 March, A.D. 1632. 34.
7. Arms in the Baners, &c. at the Funeral of General Monke Duke of Albemarle. 80.
8. Pedegrees transcribed from the Visitation of the County Palatine of Chester, taken A.D. 1580, by William Flower Norroy, & Robert Glover, Somerset Herald. 116.
9. Arms of many Welsh Kings (as it seems) warranted to Sr. Daniel Donne Kt. by Thomas Jonnes of Fountaine-gate in Com. Cardigan. 132.

After John Saunders's Entrances, follow,

10. The Arms of the Gentry of Northamptonshire. 150.
11. A Collection of the Arms of many other Families, tricked by the hand of 162. b.
12. Another Collection of Arms promiscuously putt together; and might have been the Entrances of some Painter, before the Book came into the possession of Mr. Saunders. 173. b. 193. b.
13. Arms entred, in the former manner, by Mr. Saunders. 196. b.
14. An Alphabetical Table of the Names of Families whose Arms are tricked in this Book. 207.
15. In the Table abovementioned, between V. & W. are the Arms of Oliver Cromwell's Privy Counsellors blazoned.
16. Arms of Sheeres empaling Rutland. fol. ante-penult.

A Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts done by different hands; they are,

1. An Alphabetical Table of the Names of Families mentioned in this Book.
2. A Fragment of an Old Visitation of the Countie of Dorset, taken A.D. 1565, by William Hervey Clarencieux, & written all in words at length. fol. A. the remaining part of this Visitation follows in this Book, at fol. 126. (see N^o 17, & 22.)
3. Pedegree of Wrottesley. fol. D. b.
4. Arms of Families mentioned in the Pedegree of Wrottesley. 1.
5. Part of the Visitation of the County of Surrey, as taken A.D. 1623, by Samuel Thompson, Windsor; & Augustine Vincent, Rouge-Croix, by William Camden Clarencieux. 1. b.

In this Visitation, besides the handsome tricking of the Arms; I observe, (vid. infra, N^o 21.)

Certain Church Notes, i. e. Arms & Epitaphs, found in the Church of Riegate, 6 April A.D. 1623, during this Visitation. 22.

Delineations of the Seals of the Town of Guildford; with a Note touching the Privileges and Government thereof. 80.

A Treatise concerning the History and Antiquities of the County Palatine of Chester; the Author whereof (if he was the same with him who putt his name to some Prospects of the City of Chester A.D. 1588, extant herein) was called William Smith. It contains,

6. A Brief Account of the Kingdom of Mercia (whereof the present County of Chester was parcel) and of its Kings, Dukes, & Earls, to the Conquest. 122.

13. The Names of all the Knights, Esquires, Gentlemen, & Freeholders, in the Countie Palatine of Chester; & of the Hundreds wherein they dwell. 157.
14. The Names of the Majors & Sheriffes of Chelster, from A.D. 1320, to A.D. 1586. 160. b.
15. Discient of the Barons of Halton, Constables of Chelster. 168.
16. Arms of the Cheshire Monasteries & Families; some of them coloured, but most of them want the names. They seem to have been putt down according to the Names of the severall Families, in alphabetical Order. 175.

Next to the abovementioned Treatise of Cheshire; follows,

17. Another fragment of the old Visitation of Dorsetshire. (mentioned above at N^o 2.) 181. b.
18. Pedegree & Arms of Keck of Gloucestershire. 187. b.
19. Arms of Bury of Oxfordshire. 188.
20. Descents of Richbell & Browning, with their Arms. 188. b.
21. The remaining part of the Visitation of the County of Surry (above-mentioned at N^o 5.) 189.

Herein I take leave to mention,
The Arms usurped by Cole of Carleton, which were broken down out of his Glasse window by Samuel Thomson & Auguiline Vincent, 17 July, A.D. 1623. 190.

The Arms, Seals, & Note touching the Government of the Town of Kingston upon Thames. 199.

I took Notice of these things, & of the others above in N^o 5, because particulars of this kind, are often omitted by the Copiers of Heraldical Visitations.

22. The remaining part of the old Visitation of Dorsetshire (whereof there are some pieces abovementioned at the Numb. 2, & 17.) 126.

1047.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by the hand of Mr. John Withie, from certain Pedegrees belonging to Thomas Wentworth Earl of Strafford. They are,

1. The Quarterings of William Wentworth Earl of Strafford, amended & enlarged. A.D. 1661.

This is an Addition, & prefixed to the Book by Mr. Withie, long after he had finished the same. The Quarterings are in number, 92.

Then follows Mr. Withie's Transcript of the Book of the said Earl's Pedegree, which he did for his Lordship. It contains,

2. The Arms of Thomas Earl of Strafford, containing 80 Quarterings.

3. The Pedegree of Wentworth Earl of Strafford, from the Wentworths of Wodehus; set forth by the labour of Mr. William Gascoigne kinsman of the Earle of Strafford. 1.

2. The Armes & Crests, in Colours; of all Baronets, from the first, i. e. Sir Nicholas Bacon, 22 May A.D. 1611. to Sir Edward Mosely, 10 July 1640. exclusive.

A thin Book in long 4to, before which Mr. Withie has put the following Title:

In this Booke are contained the Names and Armes of the Gentry of Wilts, Hamshire, & Huntingdonshire. Accordingly I find therein

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of the Wiltshire families mentioned in this book. 1.

2. Armes (hastily trick'd) of the Wiltshire Gentlemen, taken from the Visitation of that County A.D. 1523, by Henry St. George Richmond Herald, & Sampson Leonard Blew-Mantle, Pursuivant, Marshals & Deputies to William Camden Clarencieux King of Arms. 4.

3. A like Table to the Surnames of Hamshire Families. 10.

4. Armes, hastily trick'd, from the Visitation of Hamshire, made by Robert Cooke Clarencieux King of Arms, A.D. 1576. 13.

5. A Table to the Surnames of the Huntingdonshire Gentry. 16.

6. Armes, hastily trick'd, from the Visitation of Huntingdonshire, made A.D. 1613, by Nicholas Charles Lancaster Herald, Marshall and Deputy to William Camden, Clarencieux, King of Arms. 19.

A Book in large 4to, compiled by some Hackney-Scribler, and by him entitled, Honour's Monument, or Faire Vertues Record. In perpetual remembrance of the generous, worthy and religious Sir James Weston, Baron of the Exchequer.

It contains,

1. The Epistle Dedicatory; to the right virtuous, worthy & religious Gentleman, the exact Patterne & Mirror of all Vertue, Mr. N. Bacon Esquire. 2.

2. An accrostique Epitaph upon the noble name and immortal Honor and Memory of the most worthy virtuous and religious Sir James Weston, Baron of the Exchequer, &c. lately deceased (The Initial Letters done by a Painter) 4.

3. The honorable Atchievement and Armorial Ensigne of the religious & judicious Gentleman Sir James Weston Knight, and one of the worthy Barons of his Majesties Exchequer. 5.

The Atchievement is torn out.

4. An Emblem of Mortality, erected upon the death of the truly worthy and virtuous Gentleman Sir James Weston, Baron of the Exchequer, &c. 6.

At the end of this, is his Armes, painted by an Armes-Painter.

CAT. HARL. VOL. I.

Num. 1055—1057.

5. Atchievement of the hopeful, honorable and virtuous young Gentlewoman . . . (here is a Blank left for her Name, this Poetafter being ignorant of it . . . Grand-child and Heire to the honorable, worthy, & religious Sir James Weston Knight, one of the Barons of his Majesties Exchequer, &c. (The Arms follow, painted in a Lozenge by a Workman.) 8. b.

6. Sir James Weston Baron of the Exchequer, his Soule's farewell to the Body. 10.

7. To the honor'd Name and Memory of Sr. James Weston Kt. one of the Barons of his Majesties Exchequer, &c. (another Poem.) 16.

8. True Worth's Memoriall; a Monument of Remembrance erected to the immortal Memory of the late truly virtuous religious and worthy Gentleman, Sir James Weston Kt. one of the Barons of the Exchequer; who departed this miserable and transitory Life at his Chamber in the Temple, the 10th of December 1633. 13.

9. A Kind of an Epilogue or Conclusion to these Poems. 33.

A Book in fol. lately written by the hand of one Moses Williams of University-College in Oxford; being

A Transcript of the Additions to, & Emendations of, Sir William Dugdale's Barriage of England, by Anthony Wood the Oxford Antiquary; from his own Papers remaining in the Ashmolean Museum, in that University.

A Book in folio, consisting of divers Heraldical Tracts & Fragments now bound up together, vizt.

An Heraldical Book in fol. on the Back-side of which Mr. John Spicer caused the following Title to be affixed, "Withie's Visitation of Cheshire," which must not be understood as if Mr. Withie took or made any actual Visitation of the Gentlemen of that County; or that this Book was done by his hand;
but only that this being a very good Book in its kind did formerly belong to Mr. John Withie, who also inserted some Things therein, which will be presently mentioned. In this Book I find,

1. Pedegrees & Arms transcribed from the Book of the Visitation of the County Palatine of Cheshire made A.D. 1580, by William Flower Norroy & Robert Glover Somerset, his Marshall; done (as it seems) for the most

Num. 1070-1072.

most part by Sir Henry St. George; to which some few Arms and Notes have been added by Mr. John Withie, and Mr. John Saunders.

2. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in the preceding Visitation; drawn up by Mr. Withie, and referring to it, according to the old notation of Pages.

3. Part of the Original Papers of Arms & Pedigrees of the Cheshire Gentlemen, allowed at the Visitation made of the same County, A.D. 1613, by Richard St. George Norroy, and (in his company) Henry St. George his son, who perhaps might then be Blew-mantle. Most of these Papers are subscribed by the hands of the Gentlemen themselves; and the Arms & Pedigrees are, for the most, done by the hands of Sr. Richard St. George & Sr. Henry St. George his son, above-mentioned. The rest (which is but little) was done by Mr. John Withie & others. (The remaining part of this Original Book of Visitation, is said to be in the Herald's Office.)

In this Book, I also find,

4. The Names of those that were disclaimed in Cheshire, viz. at this Visitation A.D. 1613.

5. The Names of all the Mannors or Lordships, Townes & Landes, which Sr. Geoffrey the sonne of Adam de Dutton, gave to certeyn of his Gentlemen & Yeamen.

6. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in this other Visitation of Cheshire; made by John Withie.

A Book in fol. made A. D. 1613, by Mr. Withie, and by him thus entituled,

The Nobility of Ireland; their Titles, Coats, Crests, Supporters, and Mottoes: sett forth in their severall Coullers, by me John Withy.

NB. Divers of the Mottoes, & some of the Supporters & Crests are omitted; perhaps, because Mr. Withie could not gett them.

A Book in fol. containing the Armes of many Families, for the most part, hastily tricked in printed Escutcheons; with some other Papers; vizt.

1. An alphabetical Table, referring to the Arms above-mentioned; but according to the old Number of the Leaves.

Then follow,

2. Arms of many Families (27 in Number) whose Surnames begin with Fitz.

3. Two Arms of Apulton.

4. Eight Coats of Leon, Lyon, or Lyons.

5. Ten Coats of Reynold, Reynold, or Reynolds.

6. Four Coats of Bekett.

7. Fourteen Coats born by so many families of the Name of Campion or Champion.

8. Two Coats ascribed to so many Families of the Name of Hickman.

9. Above Fourty Coats born by different Families of the Surname of Hill.

10. Two Coats, of Sherman.

11. Four Coats borne by those of the Surname of Chamberlaine.

12. Fourty-four Coats borne by those of the Surname of Greene.

An Heraldical Book in fol. all written and tricked by Mr. John Withie the Painter-Stayner; and by him thus entituled,

1. A Coppie of the Visitation of the Countie of Suffex, made anno 1633, & 1674, by John Phillipot Esq. Somersett, and George Owen Esq. Yorke, Heraults; Marshalls & Deputies to Sir John Boroughs Kt. Garter, and Sr. Richard St. George Kt. Clarenceux, Kings of Armes; with some few Additions.

In this Copie, which is a very good one, besides the Pedegrees & Arms, & the Notes of divers Grants I find,

2. A Commiſſion from Thomas Howard Earl of Arundell & Surrey, Earl-Marshall, to certain Suffex Gentlemen, to see that John Tye made his Submiſſion, in seemly manner, to John Willfon of Fletching, Esq. whom he had (out of plesene) wronged by divers disgraceful Speeches. Dated 7 Dec. A.D. 1631, with the form of the said Submiſſion. 57. b.

3. Certain Seals accurately tricked.

62. 95. b. 215. b. 220.
 4. Seal of the City of Chichester. 69.
 5. Seal of the Borough of Arundell. 70.
 6. Seal of the Borough of Lewys. 71.
 7. Divers Church Notes. 114. b. 116. 182. 218. 223. b.
 8. The Certificate of Will. Forster Esq. in the behalfe of John Forster of Angmering, whom he reputes to be his Kinsman, and therefore allows to bear his Arms with a Difference. dat. 21 March, A.D. 1635. 169.

9. Copies of the severall Notes which divers persons gave to the Heralds the Visitors, whereby they obliged themselves to make farther, or sufficient proof of their Gentility. 175.

10. Notes taken in Arundell Church, in the tyme of the Visitation of Suffex, 1634, per me Jo. Withie. 224. b.

Hereby it appears that Mr. Withie attended the Heralds above-mentioned, as their Arms-Painter at this Visitation.

11. Seals of the Port of Hastings. 228.

12. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in the preceding Visitation.

1077.

A Book in fol. the far greater part of which, was written & tricked A.D. 1621, by the hand of Mr. John Withie the Arms Painter. It contains,

9. The Names of those that (in the tyme of this Visitation of Staffordshire; have made no Proove of their Gentry, bearing no Armes; and yet before tyme, had called & written themselves Gentlemen; and were therefore disclaymed in the cheife Places of the Hundreds where they dwell. 84. b.
10. The Manner of disclaiming the Usurpers of Gentility, at this Visitation. 85.
11. Notes touching the method used in Visiting this County. 85. b.
12. Mr. Glover Somerset's Proclamation for the disclayming of the ignoble persons above-mentioned; with an Admonition to forbear the Styles & Titles of Esquires or Gentlemen, until such tyme as lawful Proof may be made thereof, for the Dignity of Honor & Gentrie. dat. at New Castle under Lyme. . . . A.D. 1583. 86.
13. Form of the same Herald's Warrant, directed to the High Constables of each Hundred, to summon the Esquires & Gentlemen inhabiting within their Precincts, to appear before him; with a particular Reflexion upon one William Dakins the late lawde Usurper of the Office of Norroy King of Armes. 86. b.
14. His Warrant of Summons against such as contemptuously refuse to appear upon the former Warrant, to make their further appearance before the Earl-Marshal. 87.

After the Visitation, follow,

15. The Genealogie of the ancient Family of the Minners of Blackhall, Uttoxeter, & Woodland in the County of Stafford; drawne downe in their funeral Branches, to this present year 1673, by John Tiltton Gnt Student in Antiquities. 101.
16. Pedegree of Leveson, written by Sr. Henry St. George. 103. b.
17. Pedegree of Leveson, by another hand; with Arms coloured. 105. b.
18. Copie of a Letter from Thomas Garull of Chelster, concerning the Family of Offeley. 107.
19. Descent of Nott of Cannock. 108.

NB. Mr. Withie transcribed the Subscriptions of the Gentlemen, at the bottom of their Descents, into this Book.

20. At the end is a Table of the Surnames of the Families mentioned in the Book.

1078.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein I find,

1. A large Collection of the Arms of English Families, disposed by way of Ordinary; although some of them might have been putt into fitter places.
2. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of the Families, whose Arms are found in the Book. But a Table shewing the Order of this Ordinary is wanting.

23. Grant of new Arms & Crest to John More of London Esq. Doctor in Physicke, by Sir Richard St. George Clarencieux; the Doctor milking his old ones, as being, perhaps, not so suitable to his Name, dat. 22 of January, A. D. 1626. 175.

24. An alphabetical Table for this Booke. 183.

An Heraldical Book in fol. which seems to have been written & tricked by Mr. John Withie when he was yet a young man; being by him thus intitled,

1. The Visitation of Daibylheire, made by Richard St. George Esq. Norroy, King of Armes, anno 1611. Together with the Visitation made anno 1569, and enlarged with some other Additions.

Here it may be noted that the Visitation of 1569, is not written wholly, & distinctly by itself, apart from the other; but that the Pedegrees of A. D. 1611, are Continuations of those of A. D. 1569. Also, that although this Visitation-book of A. D. 1611, be eminent for the Church Notes, Draughts of Seals, & Extracts of Heraldry. HARL. VOL. I.

Num. 1093-1094.

dences; yet this Copie (which exhibits the said things well done) has many other Additions & Continuations peculiar to itself, made by Mr. Withie & others.

Moreover I observe here,

2. A Trick of the Common-Seale of the Burroughs & Shire-towne of Derby.

3. An alphabetical Table to this Book; written by Mr. Withie at the end thereof.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by Mr. John Withie, and by him thus intitled,

The Visitation of Northamptonshire & Rutlandshire, made and taken by Augutine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshall and Deputie to William Camden Esq. Clarencieux King of Armes, of the South, East, & West Parts, of the Realme of England, from the River Trent, Ann. Dni 1618 and 1619, with the Visitation made Anno Domini 15 John Withie.

Here it may be noted,

1. This Visitation-book of A. D. 1618, & 1619, has many Additions & Continuations not to be met with in other Copies.

2. The old Visitation mentioned by Mr. Withie, seems to be taken A. D. 1566, for, or by William Harvey Clarencieux; it is not written apart, by itself, but is rather included in the other.

Among the Additions to the Visitation of 1619, I cannot but mention,

3. An original Letter of Thomas Lord Bradnell to Mr. Withie, wherein many errors & defects in this Book (though a very good one) are noted. ante 4.

4. The Pedegree of Bradnell, written by the same Lord. ante 34.

Omitting the mention of the Church Notes, and other Family Evidences preserved in this Visitation; I observe herein,

5. Mr. Augutine Vincent's Discharge to Mr. Lawrence Makepeace of Sulgrave, to use the Arms of divers Families which he had usurped; or any other Arms, until the Earl-Marshall's pleasure therein shall be known. ante 10.

6. The Pedegrees & Arms registred at the Visitation of Rutlandshire A. D. 1618. begin at 230.

7. The Pedegree of Rudd of Northamptonshire. 249. b.

8. Pedegree of Russell of Northamptonshire. 251.

9. Arms of the Huntingdonshire Gentry, registred at the Visitation, A. D. 1613, with a Table to them prefixed.

10. An alphabetical Table of the several Families mentioned in the preceding Visitations of Northamptonshire and Rutlandshire; at the end.

1095.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by Mr. John Withie; the greatest part of it about A. D. 1621.

In it are contained,

1. An alphabetical Table of Surnames, referring to the Pedegrees & Arms after-mentioned; at the beginning.

2. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Oxford made A. D. 1574, by Richard Lee, Portcuillis Marshall & Deputie to Robert Cooke Clarencieux. Herein, are the Names of many of the Gentlemen who subscribed to their Pedegrees.

Besides some Church Notes and other Additions; I find in this Copie,

3. The Arms of the City of Oxford. 1.

4. The Seal of the Borough of Witney. 2.

5. The Seal of the Borough of Burford. ibid.

6 Z

6. Notes

7. Arms of the Town of Woodstock. 49. b.
8. Seal of the Borough of Banbury. 62. b.
9. Arms of the Gentry of Bedfordshire: perhaps as they were regitred at the Visitation of that County A.D. 1634. 108. b.
10. Arms of the Gentry of Buckinghamshire; perhaps taken from the Visitation-book of that County, made A.D. 1634. 114. b.

1096.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. An Epitaph upon the Monument of John Browne & Richard Tichborne of London, Merchants, in Mercers Chapell. Erroneously written. 1.
2. A Table to the Surnames of Families mentioned in the Traët next ensuing. 3.
3. Arms of some gentile Families in London; as also the Arms of the Middlesex-Gentry as they were entered at the Visitation of that County, taken A.D. 1664, by William Ryley Esq; Lancaster-Herald, & Henry Dethick, Rouge-Croix, Marshalls & Deputies to Sr. Edward Byshe Clarenceux: tricked in printed Eicocheons, those of Middlesex by Mr. Withie. 4.
4. Arms of the King, Nobles, Knights, &c. temp' R. Henrici v. tricked within the like printed Eicocheons. 7.
5. A Collection of the Pedegrees of the Gentile Families in the City of London; written (as Mr Withie as noted) by Mr. Henry Lilly the Painter-Stayner: to which some Additions have been made by other hands. 12.
6. Church-Notes taken in St. Mary Magdalen-Church in Milke-streete, London. 107. b.
7. Evidences touching the Families of Botiler, Camoys, &c. from old Deeds. 108. b.
8. Arms & Epitaph of Mrs. Jane Russell (daughter of Tindal) buried in the Church of All-hallowes-Barking. 109.

Then follows a Traët thus entituled, "A Note of all such Monuments, or other Tombs & Gravelstones as remayne within the severall Churches of London, being begun to be taken the 25th of May, 1597." Some of these Epitaphs are more perfect than the same in Mr. Weavers Funeral Monuments; and many others are wholly omitted by him. The Arms are also here tricked, which are also wanting in Mr. Weaver. 'Tis pity that in this collection no more are described, than those in the following Churches.

9. In St. Mary Magdalen's in Old Fishstrete. 110.
10. In St. Nicholas Golden Abbaye. 110. b.
11. In St. Michael Pater noster, in the Old Royall. 112.

It being that common Treatise shewing the Names & Arms of the English Nobility from the time of William the Conquerour, to the reign of Queen Elizabeth, of which Robert Cooke Clarenceux has been supposed to be the Author. At the bottom of the Book, it is written by me Samuel Todd, one of a Coppy of

Num. 1101--1106.

of Clarencieux Cooke's, in the year of our Lord 1598. May the 20th." And after the mention of the Lorde Treasurer Burleigh, are these words, "Huc usq; Robert Cooke Clarencieux composuit, anno 1572. regni Regine Elizabeth. 14." from whence it is continued to Sr. Edward Wotton who was created Baron of Mürley by K. James I. At the end are these words, "Finis Februariæ 26. anno Domini 1638. per me T. M." and perhaps the whole Tract may be of the hand-writing of this T. M. and not of Samuel Todd. The 4 first Paragraphs, were by mistake inserted by Sam. Todd into his Copie, it being plain that they do not belong to it. 63.

In this Treatise, I find, what is often wanting in other Copies of it.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by the hand of William Penfon Chester-Herald; wherein are contained,

1. Mr. Will. Penfon's Arms in Colours, contrived, as I suppose, by himself, from the Arms of Pynfon, with a whimsical Motto, being an Anagram of his Name. At the beginning.

2. Will. Penfon's Anagrams upon Jacobus Stuart, James Stuart, Florencius Macartie, Georgius Roe, Joannes Andoenus, & Gulielmus Penfonus. 1.

3. Commission of James I. whereby he authorized Lewis Stuart Duke of Lenox, Thomas Sackville Lord Buckhurst, Charles Howard Earl of Nottingham, Thomas Howard Earl of Suffolk, Edward Somerset Earl of Worcester, and Henry Lord Howard (afterwards Earl of Northampton) to execute the Office of Earl-Marshal of England. Teste, &c. 4 Febr. anno regni 1. 2.

4. Order of the Lords Commissioners for the Office of Earl-Marshal of England, whereby he had liberty to trie his right to the Office of Chester-Herald, at Common Law. dat. 11 Febr. 1604. 4.

Note, that the Lords Commissioners were of opinion, that Mr. Penfon had obtained the Kings Letters Patents, sinisterly & underhand, & therefore putt Mr. Knight into the Place.

5. Warrant of the said Lords Commissioners, not to pay or make out any Debenture to Mr. Penfon, who had indirectly procured a Patent for the place of Chester-Herald; but to do the same to Thomas Knight. Directed to Sir Vincent Skyner Kt. 24 Febr. A.D. 1604. 5.

6. The Lords Commissioners Warrant for Mr. Penfons first Commitment to the Marshalsea, for most audaciouslie invading himself with the Kinges Coate of Armes, without usual and orderlie Creation, & by virtue of that false & disorderlie Investiture, levying Fees of many Knights, converting to his own private use the Profits that ought to have been divided amongst the whole Companie. dat. the 21st of April A.D. 1609. 5. b.

7. Warrant of the Lords Commissioners for Mr. Penfon's last Commitment; for which they specify no particular cause. dat. 22 of October, A.D. 1612. ibid.

8. A Copie of the Habeas Corpus upon Mr. Penfon's last Commitment; and of Sir Thomas Vavalor's Return upon the same. 6.

9. A Copie of Mr. Penfon's Release, from his last Commitment, by the Lords Commissioners. dated the 10 of December, A.D. 1612. 6. b.

10. The Proceedings of the Lords Commissioners for the Office of Earle-Marshal of England, against Ralf Brooke Yorke-Herald of Armes, at Whitehall, at a Marshall's Courte held the 18 of Januarie, 1609. which ended in his Commitment to the Marshalsea for his insolent behaviour. 8. b.

11. The manner of Penfon's obtaining his Judgement upon the Affize, against Knight. 9.

12. Verses of divers kinds, Anagrams, Acrostics, Epitaphs, Epigrams, Latin, & English. 10.

13. A Breviate of the whole Countie of William Penfon Chester Herald's Proceedings against Thomas Knight, & Robert Trefwell Somerset-Herald (for supporting the Charge whereof, he was forced to sell his Landes, and to spend his whole Estate & Substance, with his Wives portion to the value of 1800 l. when as the said Mr. Knight had received all or most part of the Profits of the said Office of Chester-Herald, for the space of Nynce Years past, amountinge unto 2500 l. at at least) made by manner of Reporte of Pericion to the Lord Cheif Justice Sir Edward Cooke and other the Justices of the Common Pleas, A.D. 1612. 13.

Num. 1107.

14. A trew & p'aine Demonstration & Reporte of the whole truth of William Penfon, Chester Heraulds Proceedings in the pursuite of his Righte to the said Office of Chester, for as much as he came call to present remembrance. (Written when he was in Prison the third time.) 15. b.

15. Divers Cafes howe Men have bin releafed out of Prison, being committed wrongfully by Men of Authority. 20.

16. An Acte of Parliament made at Westminster 13 Rich. II. for the Contrable & Marshalls Courte. 21. b.

18. A Coppie of an Alias Writte of Rediffesin, against the same. 23.

19. A Testimonialle Escrip't written by the Councillearned in the behalfe of Mr. Ralf Brooke Yorke-Herauld (who was falsely accused of Perjury by Robert Trefwell Somerset-Herauld) and subscribed with their handes, 24 May, anno 9 R.R. Jacobi. 24.

20. A Coppie of the Warrant or Execution from the Sheriff, for taking of Mr. Thomas Knight after the Triall of the Rediffesin. dat. 23d Sept. A.D. 1612. 25. b.

21. A Coppie of a Letter written by Sir William Segar Garter, to Mr. Penfon, by the Commandment of the Earles Marshalles in the behalfe of Mr. Thomas Knight being then in Prison for Damages upon the Affize. dat. 22 Febr. A.D. 1610. 26. b.

The Purport is, that since Mr. Knight & his Family were almost ruined, if Penfon would release Knight from Prison, & from all Actions; the Lords Commissioners would, by their permission, suffer him the said Penfon to act in all respects as Chester Herald.

22. Mrs. Elizabeth Penfon's Answer to the Letter last mentioned. 'Tis somewhat bitter, and seems to have been drawn up by her Husband. 27.

23. A Coppie of the Lord Treasurer Dorset his Letter to the Officers of the Customes, for the Release of Sr. William Dethick's Fees. dat. 28th December, A.D. 1605. 28. b.

IIII.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by divers hands wherein I find,

1. A Valuation of the Estates of many of the Wiltshire Gentry; made perhaps about A. D. 1565. 1.
2. The original Note-book of William Harvey Efq. Clarencieux, wherein during his Vifitation of the County of Wiltes, A. D. 1565, he (with others in his Company) noted down the Names & places of Refidence of the Gentry of Wiltshire. 7. & 22.
 As alfo,
3. Entries of the Names of many perfons of the fame County, who having ufurped the Title of Gentlemen, disclaimed the fame; leaft they fhould be publicly degraded thereof. 16. & 27.

Num. IIII-III4

NB. Clarencieux Harvey's hand appears particularly in this Tract, at the bottom of 17. and towards the top of 17. b. where he has written thefe words, "cleryd by me Clarencieux."

Then follows.

4. A Copy of the Vifitation Book of Wiltshire, as taken by the abovementioned William Harvey Clarencieux, A. D. 1565, copied by Jacob Chaloner, as I guefs by the hand. 28.

And herein, befides divers Church Notes, I obferve,

5. The Arms of the City of New-Sar. 30.
6. Arms of the Borough of Marleborough. 31.
7. Arms of fome Wiltshire-Gentlemen, inferted by Mr. John Saunders. 94 & 95.
 Then follow,
8. The Defcent & Arms of Benner, as produced at the Vifitation of Wiltshire, A. D. 1623. 96.
9. Part of a Table to the preceding Pedegrees. 97.

IIII.

An Heraldical Book in fol. made by Mr. John Withie in the year 1623, and by him thus entituled,

1. The Names and Armes of all the Knights, Esquires, & Gentlemen (that did appeare) in the Vifitation of Shropshire, made by Robert I refewd Somersfett, and Auguftine Vincent Rouge-Croix, Officers of Armes; Marshalls and Deputyes to William Camden Clarencieux, King of Armes. And taken by me John Withy, who rode Painter in the faide Vifitation, Anno 1623.

2. At the beginning is an alphabetical Table to the aforefaid Armes.

3. Towards the end are the rough Draughts of certain Seals; only traced with Black Lead.

4. In the laft leaf are rude Tricks of the Arms of Wynne of Dudliffon, Lutwich of Lutwich, & of Moore of Millichap; this laft with the Quarterings.

IIII.

A thin Heraldical Book in fol. which feems to me to have been written & tricked by the hand of Mr. Nicholas Charles Lancafter-Herald. It contains,

1. The Arms of fome of the Nobility, and many of the Gentry of the County of Leicefter. 1.
2. Pedegrees with Arms, of many of the Leiceftershire-Gentry. Inclusive. 12. to 34.

IIII.

An Heraldical Book in fol. compiled and handfomely painted (according to the Arms Painters manner) by Mr. John Withie, who has given it the following Title,

"The Nobility of England their Titles, Armes, Crests, Supporters, & Mottos, fet forth in their feveral Coullers.

NB. The laft Atchievement of the Earls, is that of Richard Burgh, who was created Earl of St. Albans, 3 April, A. D. 1628. The laft of the Vifcounts is that of Thomas Wentworth (afterwards Earl of Strafford) who was created Vifcount Wentworth 10 Decemb. A. D. 1628. The laft of the Barons is that of Henry Herbert who was created Baron of Cherbury 7 May, A. D. 1629.

An Heraldical Book in fol. done by divers hands; wherein are contained,

1. An Alphabetical Table of Surnames referring to the following Tract.
2. Grants or Confirmations of Arms or Crests; some put down at large, others only by way of Docquet; some of the Arms are tricked with the Pen, others only traced with the Black Lead Pencil, and others totally omitted. The Names of the Kings & Heralds at Arms who passed them, are these that follow, Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter, Robert Glover Somerset, Robert Cooke Clarenceux, Sir William Dethicke, Garter, William Harvey Clarenceux, Guyan K. of Arms temp. R. Henric vi. (f. Thomas More) Christopher Barker, Garter; Richmond alias Clarenceux temp. R. Henr. vii. (f. Roger Macado) Thomas Wriothesley, Garter; William Hawkesloe Clarenceux, ann. 13 R. Edw. iv. Norroy ann. 9 R. Edw. iv. (f. John Moore) with many others which seem to have been granted by William Camden Clarenceux, although his name be not expressed; Sir William Segar, Garter; Thomas Tong, Clarenceux; Sir Thomas Holme Clarenceux; Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux.

NB. The greatest number of these Grants seem to have been made by William Camden.

3. Arms of many of the Irish Nobility & Gentry.
4. Some Dockets of Grants of Arms, made by Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter.
5. Dockets of Grants (the Arms being handsomely tricked) made by divers, as William Segar, Norroy; Sir Thomas Wriothesley, Garter; Thomas Tonge, Norroy; Thomas Benolt, Clarenceux; Laurence Dalton, Norroy; William Flower, Norroy; Robert Cooke, Clarenceux; William Harvey, Clarenceux; Richard St. George, Norroy; Christopher Barker, Garter; Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter; Richard Lee, Clarenceux; William Camden Clarenceux; Thomas Tong, Clarenceux; Sir William Dethick, Garter; Roger Machado, Richmond alias Clarenceux, & Edmond Knight, Norroy.
6. Part of the Confirmation of Arms made to Hugh Middleton Citizen & Goldsmith of London, & Baronet; by William Camden Clarenceux, A.D. 1622. On the margin, is a Tree adorned with Shields, containing the Arms of Hatton empling the Arms of those Families wherein they had married.
7. Arms of divers Families, pretty well tricked. They seem to have been granted.
8. Arms hastily tricked by Mr. Withie; being Grants or Confirmations by Will. Harvey Clarenceux, or Laurence Dalton, Norroy.
9. Arms hastily tricked by Mr. Withie; being granted by Thomas Hawley Clarenceux.
10. Grant of a Crest to Francis Watmough, by William Segar, Norroy, dat. 17 Jan. A.D. 1602.
11. Grant of a Bordure engrailed (to be born as a difference from the Arms of all others of the same Family) to Peregrine Hoby of Byham in Com. Berks. Esq. natural son to Sir Edward Hoby of Byham afore-said Kt. by Sir Edward Byshe Clarenceux. dat. 17th Nov. A.D. 1664.
12. Instances of Usurpations of Arms: viz. The Arms of Russell Earl of Bedford, usurped by another Russell. Arms of Port Lord Port of Basing, as usurped by Disport. The Arms of Sir Thomas Cotton of Conington, as usurped by Cayne. The Arms of Sir John Strangways of Melbury usurped by Cuthbert. The Arms of Odron, usurped by Peryn. The Arms of Neale of

Num. 1115, 1116.

Middlesex & of Northamptonshire, usurped by Neale of London. The Arms of Caunfeld usurped by Camfield. The Arms of Deen of Lincolnshire, & of Yorkshire, usurped by Deane. The Arms of Hunt of Rutland, usurped by another Hunt.

13. Arms assumed by Burton, Nokes, Kem, & Taylor.

14. Arms, as it seems granted by William Flower Norroy, to Christopher Saxton of Duningley, to Salkeld, & to Clark of Ilvingham, all in Com. Ebor.

15. Grant of Arms to Sir Hugh Smithson Kt. & Baronet, & Bernard Smithson Apothecary of London, his brother: by Sir Edward Walker Garter. dat. 20th Nov. A.D. 1663. With a Trick of Sr. Edward Walker's Seal.

16. Transcript of an Instrument written in French, by Sir Gilbert Dethick Garter, who certifies that Sir Thomas Copley Kt. of Roughey in Com. Suffex, is the true Heir of the Baronies of Welles and Hoo; although by reason of his Uncle's wanting a great part of the Estate, he forebare to demand his right. dat. ad May, A.D. 1575.

1116.

An old Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. The Copy of a Dyde taken owte of the Evidences of Thom. Wolley of Hamfild in the Counte of Stafford Anno 1563.

It is a Deed in French, whereby Thomas the son of Sr. John de Heronell Kt. grants or passes away his own Arms to Roger de Wyrley. dat. ann. 38 R. Edw. iii.

2. An old Delineation (perhaps taken from some Window) of St. Michael the Arch-Angell in a fighting posture, passed upon.

On fol. 3. b. some Arms-Painter has drawn the Representation of a Dragon, who seems to have lost Three of his Seven Heads through the Valour of St. Michael.

3. Then follow 8 Leaves containing vacant Escucheons with Garters, Helmets & Mantles (18 in each Leaf) tricked, as I believe, in order to insert therein, the Arms of the several Knights of the Garter.

4. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Persons & Families mentioned in the ensuing Tracts.

5. Armes geven syns the tyme of Henry the viii. and in his tyme, to deep in the reign of K. Henry the viii. among which are the Arms of divers Abbats & Priors, & of others of the Clergy. At the end are some Additions by recenter hands.

6. Confirmation of Arms & Crest to William Hamner of the Fenys in Flynthyre Esq. by Robert Cooke Clarenceux.

7. Grant of Arms, in French, to John Fanthaw of Fanthaw-gate in Com. Derb. by Sir Gilbert Dethick, Garter; Robert Cooke, Clarenceux; & William Flower, Norroy. dat. 4 Jan. A.D. 1571.

8. Confirmation of Arms, with the Augmentation of a Dragon, granted to Thomas Venables of Gelbone in Com. Cestr. by Laurence Dalton Norroy. dat. 30 October, A.D. 1560.

NB. Mr. Norroy in this Patent, relates a romantic Story of a Dragon killed in Cheshire by the Ancestor of this Venables, as the occasion of this Augmentation.

9. Confirmation of Arms, to Francis Dymoke of Erdington in Com. Warr. by Robert Cooke Clarenceux. dat. 17th of June A.D. 1581.

10. Confirmation of Arms with many Quarterings, made to Thomas Penytone of Hawrudge in Com. Bucks.

Num. 1116.

Bucks. Esq. by William Hervey Clarencieux. dat. 8 July, A.D. 1564. 35. b.

11. Grant of Arms in French (without a Crest) to Peter Dodge a Native of Stopworth in the County of Chester, by James Hedingley Guyan King of Arms. dat. 8th of April, ann 34 R. Edw. 1. (with the Arms of the said Guyan.) 37. b.

If this be a true Grant, it is the oldest that I have, as yet, met with. But the Date makes me believe it to have been forged, it running in these Words, "Donné le 8 jour d'Auril le 34 an du Regne de nostre dit Seigneur Edward fitz au Roy Henry, et depuis la Conquest le premier du Nom." 'Tis notorious that the Phrase since the Conquest, was first applied to K. Edward the Third; not to insist upon the dictum, which seems more modern than the time it pretends to.

12. Confirmation of Arms & Grant of a Crest to Arthur Herrys of Cryxley in Com. Essex Esq. by William Flower Norroy. dat. 29 Nov. A.D. 1578. 38.

13. A Collection of Docquets of Grants & Confirmations of Arms & Crests (among which, are some Grants written at length) some with the Arms tricked, & others without. The Officers of Arms who made these Grants were Roger Machado Richmond alias Clarencieux; Thomas Holme, Norroy; Cristofer Carlele, Norroy; Thomas Benolt, Clarencieux; Gilbert Dethike, Norroy, afterwards Garter; Sir Cristopher Barker, Garter; William Harvey, Clarencieux; Sir Thomas Wriothesley, Garter; Thomas Hawley, Norroy, afterwards Clarencieux; Bartholomew Butler, Ulster; Sir William Segar, Garter, &c. 38. b.

In this Collection, the following Grants are set down at length, viz.

14. Concessio Additamenti Armis Everardi Everdes, per D. Gilbertum Dethike, Garterum. dat. 10 die Martij, anno . . . R. Mariz. 45.

15. Attestatio D. Gilberti Dethike Gart. de Armis Michaelis Locke. dat. 5 die Julij, ann. . . . R. R. Philippi et Mariz. 45. b.

16. Grant of a Lozenge with Armes, to the Lady Jone, wyffe unto Sir William Laxton Kt. & Alderman of London, sometyne Mayre of the same Citie, and daughter of William Kyrkby; by Thomas Hawley Clarencieux. dat. 20 July, ann. 2. & 3 RR. Philip. & Mar. 46.

1122.

A Book in fol. thus entitled,

Practical Perspective; necessary for all Painters, Gravers, Carvers, Architects, Gold-Smiths, Embroiderers, Arras-Weavers, and others who exercise themselves in Drawing. By a religious Man of the Society of Jesus. The First Part, the Second Edition.

Reviewed, corrected, and augmented in many places by the Author, with a Treatise of Military Perspective; or a Method how to raise any Figure upon a Geometrical Plane.

Thus it appears that this is a Translation from a Book printed in French at Paris, A.D. 1651, and I have seen (about 20 years ago) a Translation of this First Part of the Jesuite's Work printed in English, with all the Cutts; which Cutts are not copied into the MS. now before me.

A Book in fol. being a Translation of the second Volume of the French Jesuite's Perspective; & thus entitled,

The Second Part of Practical Perspective, which yields great facility in finding the appearances of all solid Bodies as well regular as irregular, leaning, inverted, inclining & declining, as you please; whether they stand upon the Ground, or hang in the Aire. Paris, 1647. (The Cutts omitted.)

Num. 1124—1129.

A Book in fol. being a Translation of The Third & last Part of Practical Perspective, wherein are to be seene the Beauties & Rarities of this Art, with Methods how to practise them upon all sorts of Planes. And the admirable Effects of Three Rayes, direct reflected, & refracted. By a religious Person of the Society of Jesus, at Paris, A.D. 1649.

1125.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained Translations of divers Charters granted by sundry Kings of England to the City of London, written as appears by a Note on the outside, A.D. 1581, for the use of Sir John Branch Kt. Lord Mayor of London. The Titles of them are,

1. The Charter of K. John. dat. 17th June anno regni 1. 11.
2. Another Charter of the same K. John. dat. 5th July, anno regni 1. 5.
3. Another Charter of K. John. dat. 17th June, anno regni 1. 9.
4. Another Charter of K. John. dat. 9th May, anno regni 16. 11.
5. Another Charter of K. John. dat. 20th March, anno regni 3. 13.
6. The Charter of K. Henry the first. (Wants the Date.) 21.
7. The Charter of K. Edward the fourth. dat. 9 Novemb. anno regni 2. 15.
8. Another Charter of K. Edward the fourth. Telle. &c. 27th August, anno regni 3. 65.
9. Another Charter of K. Edward the fourth. Telle. &c. 20th June, anno regni 18. 69.
10. The Charter of K. Edward the first. (anno regni 4.) 77.
11. A Table of certaine Charters granted by former Kings to the Citie of London, mentioned in this Booke. 111.

An imperfect Book in fol. whereof another Copie (viz. that inscribed 60. c. 4.) hath the Title following,

A Readinge and Declaration of the Auctorities, Liberties, & Olycers of a Forrester, made upon a certaine Statute called Carta de Forresteria, by one Traherne. It wants the latter end.

1127.

A parchment Book in a thin fol. relating to our Statute Laws; and containing,

A Table of the principal matters (the Titles thereof being fairly written in alphabetical Order) contained in the Statute-Laws of this Realm; from the first year of the reign of K. Edward the third, to the 23rd of K. Henry vi. (This Book was given by Mr. Le Neve.)

A thin paper Book in fol. bought of Mr. Le Neve, and thus entituled,

A Discourse of the Priviledge and Practize of the High Court of Parliament in England; collected out of the Common Lawes of this Land, &c.

At the end is this Note, "Imprime en Anuers par Michel Hoochstrate, demourant au dit Lieu chez le Cimentere Noster Dame, l'An Mil cinq Cens et Saize; par Congie et Privilege de nostre Prince." Mr. Anstis saith that this Author was Grenado, Herald to the Emperour Charles v.

Codex membranaceus in fol. min. (a Dño Petro le Neve simul cum alijs redemptus) in quo habentur, Annales Monasterij B. Eadmundi de Burgo, ab anno Domini 253. usq; ad A.D. 1216, secundum Evangelium; i. e. ab anno Dominicæ Incarnationis 231. usq; ad annum 1193, secundum Dionysium Exiguum; (Imperf.)

1133.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are put down by two different hands,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, mentioned in the ensuing Tract,
2. Pedegrees (with Arms) of many Worcestershire Families; copied (as it seems) from the Book of the Visitation of the County of Worcester, taken A.D. 1569, by Robert Cooke Clarenceux; and improved by several Continuations.

An Heraldical Book in fol. tricked, & supercribed by several hands; being,

A large Alphabet of Arms; the first part whereof is not so regular & slightly as the latter part; where the Arms are tricked in printed Escutcheons, 16 in a Page.

An Heraldical Book in fol. thus entituled,

1. A Visitation of Suffex, taken in the year 1633, & 34, by John Phillipot Somerset, and George Owen York

Num. 1135-1137.

Yorke, Herald of Armes; and John Withie who rode Painter in the said Visitation: Those two above-mentioned Heralds being Marshall & Deputies to Sir John Borough, Garter, and Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux, who by Agreement, visited jointly.

2. At the beginning, is an alphabetical Table referring to the said Suffex Pedigrees.

An Heraldical Book in fol. the Leaves whereof are both inverted and misplaced through the careless Neglect of the Book-binder. In it are contained,

1. Part of a Transcript out of the Visitation-Book of the County of Buckinghamshire made A.D. 1634 by John Philpot Somerset, and William Ryley Biewmantle, Marshall, & Deputies to Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux, and Sir John Borough Norroy, King of Armes; who visited jointly.

2. Pedigrees & Arms of the Suffolk-Families; copied from the Visitation-Book of William Hervey Clarenceux, made A.D. 1561. and perhaps, from some others.

3. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedigrees are described in this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by different hands; wherein I find,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Pedigrees are described in this Book.

2. An incomplete Table of the Arms of Families extant in this Book.

3. Descents of Parker, Buggs, Ap Walter, Hengham, &c. in an imperfect Paper.

4. Series Vicecomitum Essexie, ab anno 1 R. Henrici II. usque ad annum 43 R. Elizabethæ.

5. The Visitation of Essex taken by William Hervey Esq. alias Clarenceux King of Armes: begun on the 10th day of August Anno 1558. in the 5th and 6th years of the reigns of our Sovereign Lord & Lady Kinge Phillippe & Queene Mary, &c. being (with the List of Sherifes above mentioned: copied by Jacob Chaloner, and by him dedicated to Garter principal King of Armes, 26 December, 1611.

6. The Name and Arms of John Gough the Painter-Stainer, who owned this Book, A.D. 1638. and was a Man of the first rank in his business; being equal to Henry Lilly, Richard Mundy, John Withie, &c. ibid.

7. The Arms of Jacob Chaloner aforesaid.

8. The Names, and some of the Arms of the Justices of the Peace for the County of Essex, A.D. 1601. tricked in printed Escutcheons; but the Leaves inverted.

9. Arms of the Essex-Gentry, tricked in printed Escutcheons.

10. Some of these Arms, namely in fol. 16. & 17. appear to be put down by Mr. John Gough; whereby his hand, both in writing & tricking, may be farther observed; as in fol. 32. 33. 40. and in many more places both in this, and other Books.

11. It may be noted that Jacob Chaloner has brought down many of the Pedigrees to the year 1614. at which time the Visitation of this County was taken by John Raven Richmond Herald, Deputy & Marshall to William Camden Clarenceux; to which Mr. Gough has made some later additions; particularly from that Visitation which was made of this County, A.D. 1634. by George Owen York Herald, & Henry Lilly Rouge-Rose, for Sir Henry St. George Clarenceux & Sir John Borough Norroy.

Num. 1138-1140.

11. The Petegre of Thomas Whitebrode of Whight-Nottley in the Countie of Essex, taken the 24th of July, anno 1551. by way of Narration, with some other such Pedegrees, & Church Notes, which seem of the same Age.

12. These Descents all nine were taken in the last Visitation made of the County of Essex by George Owen Als York Herald, & Henry Lilly Rouge Rose, Anno 1634. being almost wholly written & tricked by John Gough abovementioned.

13. A Note touching the Honors, & great Employments of Sir Edward Conway Kt. Baron Conway of Rarley, Vicount Kilulta in Ireland, & Vicount Conway of Conway-Castle in Wales; with his marriage, children, & death.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. An Index, or alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedigrees are described in the following Work.

2. The Pedigrees of the Northamptonshire Gentry, with their Arms, as registered (by way of Narration) at the Visitation of that County, A.D. 1566. by William Hervey, Clarenceux.

Note, both the writing & tricking of this Copie, are very indifferent.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are jumbled together, The Pedigrees & Arms of three severall Counties; being copied from the Visitation-books following;

1. The Visitation of Berksire, as taken A.D. 1566. by William Hervey Clarenceux, and enlarged by William Smith alias Rouge-dragon, A.D. 1602.

2. The Visitation of Hampshire, as taken A.D. 1576. by Robert Cooke Clarenceux.

3. The Visitation of Buckinghamshire, as taken A.D. 1574. by Richard Ison, Portcullis, Deputy & Marshall to the said Robert Cooke Clarenceux; with Additions, or Continuations to them all.

Herein I also find Delineations of,

4. The Arms of the Abbey of Abendon.

5. The Arms of the Town of Abendon.

6. The Arms of Thomas Pentecost Abbat of Abendon, impaling those of his Monastery.

7. The Arms of the Town of Reading, in Berkshire.

8. The Seal of the Town of Andover in Hampshire.

9. The Seal of the Town of Basingstoke in the same County.

10. The Arms of the Town of Southampton.

11. The Arms of the City of Winchester.

All these at the beginning.

12. The Arms of the Town of Abendon.

13. An alphabetical Table containing the Surnames of those Families, whose Descents are described in this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by William Penlon Lancaster Herald; wherein are contained

1. Notes relating to eminent Persons of Herefordshire; collected from Holinshed's Chronicle.

2. Arms of the City & See of Hereford, in Blazon.

3. Pedigrees of the Herefordshire Families, with Arms, & other Note; which by reason of the variety of the Dates, seem not to be a Copie from any Visitation but rather a collection of Mr. Penlon's own making.

4. Arms of Herefordshire Families, 113. b. & 131.

5. Knights in the County of Hereford, in the time of Edward the first, with their Arms in Blazon.

6. The

Num. 1140, 1141.

6. The Armes of the Gentry of Herefordshire in 1140.
7. Notes concerning some of the Mortimers, &c. who were buried in the Abbey of Wigmore. 139.
8. Notes concerning the Family of Mylborne, Cornwall, & Blacket. 140.
9. Alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families mentioned in the preceding Pedegrees. 140. b.

An Heraldical Book in fol. which being remarkable, I shall more particularly describe. I find in it,

1. A Page which are the Arms of 16 Families impaled by, or having Wyndham; they belong not to the following Work, but are added to it.

2. The Original Book of the Visitation of the County of Somerset, as it was taken A.D. 1623, by Henry St. George Esq. Richmond Herald; & Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, Marshalls and Deputies to William Camden Esq.

Many of the Pedegrees are sett down by the hands of the abovementioned Officers of Arms, and especially by the former: the rest are done by others whose hands I know not.

The greatest part of the Pedegrees are subscribed by the particular Persons attending to give information of their several Descents at the Visitation; but why they are not all subscribed in the like manner, I cannot say.

There are but few Arms in this Book; and on the top of the Pedegrees, are put a Crofs or two made with red Chalk, and sometimes the Word ENTERED. The reasons of this, I take to be that at the Visitations, the Officers of Arms took the Descents on loose Quires or Sheets of Paper, omitting (for the most part) the Arms, especially if they found the same agreeable to those in the Book or Books which they brought along with them. Or if the Painter took a Trick of such Arms, it would be a great Accident if the same came to be inserted in, or pasted on these loose Papers. When the Officers were returned home from their Visitation, every One of their original Papers were fairly transcribed or ENTERED into a Book, which became the Office-book for that Visitation, and the said loose original Papers were sometimes neglected or forgotten, or not demanded, or not delivered up; so that after the decease of the said Officers, or of the Painters who attended at those Visitations, or were otherwise employed by them, many of these original Papers (sometimes not so much as bound up together) came into the hands of those who took care to preserve them; and others seem to be utterly lost.

Sometimes it has happened that such like original Papers, while they were loose, & not numbred, were transcribed by several People; which seems to be one reason, why the many Copies of such or such a Visitation-book, do not begin & go on like; but that a descent which is at the beginning of one Copie, shall be toward the middle, or end of another.

And by transferring from such original Papers, the Copies come to differ in the number of the Arms, because each Copist, or after-Owner of such a Book, might be more or less able to supply his Book with the Arms wanting.

As to the Seals of Corporations, I find many in these original Books tricked with Curiosity enough; except as to the Letters of the Epigraph or Circumscription, which the Painters might have copied with much more truth & exactness, if they had thought it worth the while.

These Remarks may serve for the other original Books of this kind, in this Library.

Num. 1141-1144.

In this Book I find registered, besides some Seals of Families, & Notes from old Deeds,

3. The Seals of the City of Wells. 13. b.
4. The Seals of the Town & Borough of Bridgwater. 14.
5. The Seals of the Town & Borough of Axbridge. 30. b.
6. The Seals & Arms of the City of Bath. 34.
7. Alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are described in this Visitation. 133.
8. Then follow divers additional Pedegrees, with Arms, done by divers hands; the first whereof I take to be, for the most part, done by the hand of Richard Mundy, an eminent Herald-Painter; but who continued it I cannot as yet learn, though I find much of his hand in this Library, at the College of Arms, and in the private Collections or Studies of Painters. 134. b.
9. Names of the disclaimed at this Visitation. 136. b. & 137. b.
10. The Remainder of the additional Pedegrees abovementioned, at N^o. 137. 137. to 143.

1142.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein is contained, 1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Cornwall, as it was taken A.D. 1620, by Henry St. George Esq. Richmond Herald, & Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle; Marshalls & Deputies to William Camden, Clarenceux, King of Arms.

In this Copie, the Arms are omitted, excepting some few which are put down in Blazon; but the names of the Subscribers to their Pedegrees are sett down.

2. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of those Families whose Pedegrees are described in this Book.

An Heraldical Book in thin fol. entitled both on the outside, & within, "A Book of single Coats of Wales." But the Tract contained therein beareth this that follows,

The ancient Descent of and worthy Gentlemen springing from Wales, and now fondry of them Great Howland of Honor, of Worship in England.

I have seen divers Copies of this Tract; and therefore take leave to specify that it is an older, and more complete Copie than that in this Library, marked N 1370. as containing 197 Coats, all in Colours; beginning with Kadwallader, & ending with Bowld. Every Coat is ascribed to the Patriarch of some Family (if I may say so) and the Place of Residence of his Posterity is particularly mentioned.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Guyfts of Arms, and Confirmations, both moderne & antient. The Person who designed to make a Collection of this kind, stopped in the beginning of his Course; he having put down but two, vizt. those of Wheeler of London Goldsmith, defended out of Worcester-shire, & Peers of West-downe in Kent. 1. b.

Then follow a few miscellaneous Pedegrees, sett down by

2. Descent & Arms of Whetham attested by William Ryley, Lancaster-Herald. 3. b.
3. Descent & Arms of Blinecarne; attested by the same. 5. & 6.
4. Descent & Arms of Aylmer. 6. b.
5. Descent of Gray. 7. b.
6. Descent of Taylor. 8.
7. Descent

Num. 1144-1147.

7. Descent & Arms of Buckoke. 8. b.
 8. Descent & Arms of Palmer of Okingham, attested by William Ryley. 9. b.
 9. Descent of Gill in Com. Hertford, with Arms. 10.
 10. Descent & Arms of Oswick, attested by William Ryley, Lancaster. 10. b.
 11. Descent & Arms of Thornton of Yorkshire. 13. b.
 12. Descent of Croft of Yorkshire; with the Arms and Crest as granted by William Ryley, Norroy. 14.
 At the other end of the Book, I find entered by the hand of the same
 13. Some few Arms of divers Families, hastily tricked. 1.
 14. Descents & Arms of Hobilday. 1. b. & 8.
 15. Descent of Keblewhite, as approved by William,
 Ryley, Norroy. 3.
 16. Descendants from Arthur Plantagenet, natural son to K. Edward iv. 5. b.
 17. Descent & Arms of Comport. 6.
 18. Arms of Holmes. ibid.
 19. Descent & Arms of Ellys of Chiselfirst. 6. b.
 20. Descent & Arms of Hobilday. 7. 6.
 21. Descent & Arms of Buckbridge. 9.
 22. Descent & Arms of Chowning, alias Chevening in Com. Kanc. as attested by Sir William Segar, Garter, 10.
 23. Pedegree & Arms of Norfolk; descended from Porter. 11.

1145.

An Heraldical Book in fol. being of much use at the Visitation of the County of Somerset, A.D. 1623.
 when Henry St. George Elq; Richmond Herald, &
 Mr. Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle took the fame for William Camden Clarenceux. For herein is entered, as into the proper Note-book,

1. The Names of the Gentlemen summoned to attend their Visitation, according to the several precincts wherein they did respectively dwell; with short Notes showing whose Descents were entered; who were rejected as Ignobles; the excuses sent by many who did not appear;
 and some other matters relating to the same Visitation.
 2. An alphabetical Table of Surnames, referring to most of the abovementioned. At the end.

1146.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,
 1. The Arms of the Gentry, & Nobility of the County of Essex; with Crests for the most part. 1.

2. The Pedegrees & Arms of the Gentry of this County (I believe) as they were registered at the old Visitations taken A.D. 1558. 1583. & 1614.

10. to 104. b. inclusive.
 3. These Descents following, were taken by George Owen alias Yorke-Herald, & Henry Lilly Rouge-Rose, in the last Visitation made for the County of Essex; anno 1634. they being Marshalls & Deputies to Sr. Richard St. George Clarenceux, & Sr. John Borough Norroy, who (by Agreement) visited each others Province jointly. 105. to 157.

4. An alphabetical Table of Surnames, referring to the Arms & Pedegrees above-mentioned. At the end.

 7 D made

Num. 1152, 1153.

made A.D. 1567. by William Flower, Norroy, by Thomas Knight then Rouge-Croix.

4. That this Tract is of the hand of this Thomas Knight (the same who for so many years contested with Will. Penfon for the Office of Chester-Herald; and is accordingly mentioned as Chester-Herald in Mr. Weever's Funeral Monuments, p. 682.) may appear by an Ordinary of Arms which I lately saw in the House of Mr. Charles Wiseman the Painter-Stainer, done by the same hand as this; and at the beginning of the said Book, in the same hand, were the Words following, vizt. Thomas Knight Rouge-Croix wrote this Book.

3. The Arms of some few Lancashire-Families; tricked by a later Hand.

4. Many Pedegrees & Arms, as it seems copied by Thomas Knight Rouge Croix, from the Book of the Visitation of the County of Chester, as it was taken, A.D. 1580. by William Flower Norroy, and in his Company Robert Glover Somerset Herald.

5. Some few Arms of Cheshire-Families; by the other hand.

6. Alphabetical Table containing the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees & Arms are mentioned in the two Articles next above. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts bound up together; and distinguished one from the other by Labels of Vellum which reach from the binding to the utter margin; which notwithstanding, I shall describe in the following manner.

1. A Descent of Battyn of Devonshire, sett forth A.D. 1646. by the hand of 1. b.

An Heraldical Book in a long & thin fol. all written & tricked by the hand of Thomas Knight, who was first Rouge-Croix, & afterwards Chesser-Herald. It contains,

Part of the Pedegrees of the Gentry of the County of Salop, copied (as I suppose) from those registered at the Visitation thereof A.D. 1584, by Richard Lee Portcullis, for Robert Cooke Clarenceux.

An Heraldical Book in fol. for the most part written by the hands of Henry St. George Richmond Herald, & Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-mantle; wherein are contained,

1. Most of the Pedegrees of the Cornish Gentry, as they were herein registered by the above-named Officers of Arms, A.D. 1620, when they visited the County of Cornwall as Marshalls & Deputies to William Camden, Clarenceux; and subscribed by the hands of those Gentlemen who gave the Informations touching their several Descents.

Farther, I take leave to observe,

2. That in taking the Descents, the said Officers entered the same into loose Quires of Paper (if I may use that term, for a number of Sheets exceeding 24.) as may plainly enough appear by fol. 50. & 51. by fol. 117. b. by the last Leaf of the Book; & by the sewing of the same. And that in process of time (after they had been copied by some, & before they were transcribed by others) they were bound up together by Mr. Sampson Lennard, whose Arms are stamped on the Cover.

3. That most of the Descents registered herein being to be transcribed, as out of the proper Original, into a Book for the use of the Office; such as were to be copied or entered into the said New Book, were marked with a certain Mark, thus * (which I know not how to Term Heraldically; but every one knows the Musicians call it a Sharp) as soon as any of these Descents were thus described in the Office-Book, the Copyist wrote this Word "Entred," upon the same. And this I take to be the reason why that Word, & that Mark are so often set down in this Book, either with Black Lead or Red Chalk.

4. For a Confirmation of what I have written concerning the Signification of that Mark so put down in this and other like Books (touching which I have asked divers well-skilled in Heraldry, without receiving a positive Answer from them) I find, that at fol. 12. 16. b. 21. b. 151. 145. b. it is omitted; those Descents being directed to be entered in the Visitation-book of Devonshire (For the Officers abovementioned, did also Visit the County of Devon, A.D. 1620) and when they were accordingly registered in the Devonshire Book, I suppose the Word "Entred," was to have been put over them.

5. The said Mark is also omitted in other Places, as it seems, for several reasons, vizt. at fol. 8. 16. 27. the Persons whose Descents are there noted, being perhaps disclaimed, or did not pay their Fees. And that this might be a Reason for leaving out such Descents, seems plain from fol. 2. b. wherein was this Note, now dashed out, "Not to be enter'd, but to be disclaimed;" under which is written "This must be enter'd;" and accordingly the Word "Entred," is written above the Descent, & the Mark * with Red Chalk as usual. As to the omission of the said Mark at the Descent of Penfonn. fol. 121. I know not what to say; whether it be now quite worn off (as others are almost gone) or that it was passed over by mistake. For the Word "Entred" is plain enough over the Descent, tho' the Descent itself is wanting in Mr. Withie's Copie of this Visitation. Not to mention this, that the Information touching this Descent, is not subscribed by any of the Name, but by one Philipp Hodgsham for Mr. Pigoric Penfonn.

6. In some places the usual Word "Entred" is omitted, where the * is expressed, as relating to either Extracts from Deeds, or to Descents, as at fol. 73. b. 109. b. 124. as it should seem by the oversight of the Copyist neglecting the due Entrance of them. Thus after fol. 133. he seems to have turned over two Leaves together instead of one, there being no "Entred" on fol. 133. b. & 134. a. whereas there are Twelve Marks * or +, and in fol. 134. b. & 135. the Entrances are observed duly enough. Nor should the turning over of two Leaves together instead of one, be much wonder'd at, since many have, in haste, done so; even these Officers themselves, as may be seen at fol. 90. b. & 91. In other places the said Word is also omitted, namely at fol. 116. b. where the Descent is crossed, as I suppose for not paying the Fees: At fol. 127. & 170. b. perhaps through negligence, the Descents being in Mr. Withie's Copie: And here it may be also noted, that the Crossing out a Descent in an Original Book, is not always to be understood against the Family there mentioned; because, what is crossed at fol. 115. b. is again enter'd at fol. 171. b.

7. In some Places, both the * & the word "Entred," are wanting; as at the first Leaf of the Book, which plainly appears to be an Addition; not belonging to the Quire beginning at fol. 1. & ending with fol. 50. And 'tis needless to observe that Richard Lord Arundell of Trelyse, created so by K. Charles the Second, A.D. 1665, could not be registered as such, A.D. 1620. The Leaf 84. is also a single Leaf pasted to fol. 83. The Descent of Petit, at fol. 118. b. is also of the same late hand, which wrote that of Arundell, in the first Page.

8. As to the Arms of Families in this Book, they are but few; and, for the most part, added by Henry Parker

Num. 1162, 1163.

ker the Painter, as I suppose; whose hand-writing also (by way of Addition to some Pedegrees) appeareth in fol. 49. b. 50. 122. b. &c. but particular Directions relating to the Arms of some Families, which were to be entered into the Office-book, may be seen at fol. 153. 158. 159. 160. & 168.

Moreover I find in this Book,

9. The Grant of Arms to John Bonnatre Gent. by William Hawkeslowe Clarenceux. dat. 1 April, ann. 20 Hen. vi.

10. Copie of a Warrant of K. Henry VIII. whereby he gave Licence to Stephen Tucker of Lamartyn in Com. Devon. Gentleman; to wear his Bonnet upon his Head as well in his presence, as elsewhere; i. e. at Divine Service; and this in respect of certayne Diseases & Infirmities (perhaps a Scald Head, or Leprosie) attending the said Mr. Tucker. dated 2 July, anno regni 10. Sir Henry St. George, or somebody else for him, has endeavoured to imitate the King's Hand & Signet. 68.

It seems as if the Defendants of this Mr. Tucker thought the Warrant abovementioned to be a glorious Mark of the King's Favor to their Ancestor & Family; which really was only a Liberty procured for him, that in such Places where he (as well as his Superiors) must otherwise have been uncovered; he might by wearing a Bonnet or Cap hide a loathsome Sight. See this Catalogue where (from MS. No. 1856. fol. 7. b.) another Instance may be seen of that King's giving a like Warrant to Bartholomew Helketh, because of divers Infirmities in his Head.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written (for the most part) by Sir Henry St. George while only Richmond-Herald, & Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle; being the greatest part of those Papers wherein they registred the Descents of the Gentry of the County of Devon, at the Visitation thereof made for William Camden Clarenceux, A.D. 1620. in the same method with that relating to Cornwall, last mentioned.

1. This Book consists of six double Quires of Paper, whereinto (while they were yet loose) the several Pedegrees were entered into them, and subscribed by the Gentry who gave or sent the Informations. Afterward they were bound up together by Mr. Lennard, whose Arms appear on the Cover.

2. Before these Pedegrees were to be transcribed from his ORIGINAL Book, into another Book for the OFFICE, they were reviewed, and this Mark * put upon those Descents, & Proofs from Deeds which were to be transcribed; which when done accordingly, the Copyist put also thereon the Word "Entred;" as in the former Book.

3. Thus it may be seen, that one Whyte proving that his Father had the Stile of Gentleman, in certain Deeds, had his Descent registred (at fol. 7. b.) & subscribed the same; and it was marked * in order to be registred in the Office-book: but upon further Consideration, that he had not shewed any Right he had to Arms, these Words were written upon it, "To be disclaimed," and therefore the Word "Entred" is not added to it. The Arms on the Margin were put down afterwards, by Henry Parker as I suppose; who seems to have put down divers others herein.

4. Some other Descents, where there are no notices of any Entrances thereof made into the Office-Book; may be seen at fol. 80. b. & 84. b. 257. &c.

5. The Descent of Norleigh is noted to have been entered by a "Mifinformation," and is therefore struck out, at fol. 210. b. Some others in like manner struck out, may be seen at foll. 118. 131. And the particular direction tion of Mr. St. George, at fol. 160. about entering the Descent of Yeo, is not unworthy of Remark.

6. The Descent of Fulford, fastened in, between the Leaves 213. & 214. is a later Addition, and belongs not to the original Papers.

7. Towards the end of the 5th Quire, namely at fol. 218. one Henry Parker, an Arms-Painter, has added a Descent of his own Family (a Tradition about it, & his forging the same, is still among the Heralds.) He mentions himself & his Children at fol. 220. stiling himself Possessor hujus Libri, from whence his hand-writing, so frequently seen, may be certainly & easily known. It seems, that after the death of Mr. Lennard, his Books came into the hands of this Mr. Parker; before that Robert Fisher bought them; and then he put in this his own Descent, which wants the * and the usual Word "Entred."

8. This same Henry Parker also finding (at fol. 153.) a Descent of his Name, duly subscribed, and from thence entered into the Office-book; has much enlarged the same, both in that & the preceding page.

9. He has also made some other Additions, at fol. 141. b. & 147. &c.

10. The Descents also of Drake, &c. 220. b. &c. are added to this original Book, by Parker & others.

In this Book, I also find,

11. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Descents are herein set down. 280.

12. Descent of Fynes, Viscount Say & Sele, from Wickham; written by Henry Parker, after fol. 283.

13. Descent & Arms of Warren of Rame in Cornwall; set down by Henry Parker after fol. 284.

An Heraldical Book in fol. for the most part, written by the hand of Sampson Lennard Blew-mantle, A.D. 1620, when he with Henry St. George Esq. then Richmond-Herald, took the Visitation of the Counties of Devon & Cornwall; this Book being a part of the original Visitation Book of each of them, and therefore should have been bound up together with the two Books last described.

That this Book is the Original, appears plainly enough from the hands of the Gentlemen & Magistrates, &c. who gave the Information; from the usual Word "Entred" put upon the Pedegrees with Black Lead, or Red Chalk; and divers other convincing Notes. Why the usual Mark * or + being a direction to the Transcriber, should be all along omitted, I cannot say positively.

This Book being not only the Original, for so much as it contains; but otherwise rare, in escaping the Transcription of most of the Arms-Painters, I shall describe more particularly; as follows,

1. At the beginning is an alphabetical Table containing the Surnames of those Families whose Descents are registred herein.

2. That part of this Book, which relates to Devonshire; begins at fol. 1. & ends at fol. 54.

And herein I find the Arms & Seals of divers Corporations, curiously tricked: vizt.

3. The Common Seal of the City of Exeter. 3. b.

4. The Arms & Common Seal of the City of Exeter. 4.

5. The Arms (or Seal) of the Merchant-Adventurers of the County & City of Exeter. 5.

6. The Arms of the Guild & Fraternity of St. John Baptist, of the Marchant Taylors of the Citie of Exeter. 8.

 17. The Common Seale of the Towne & Bourouge of Broadwinche. 33.
 18. The Common Seales of the Towne & Borough of Plymouth. 34.
 Other Things I observe in this part of the Book, are,
 19. Some Continuations, by the hand of Henry Parker, at 3. 6. b. 18. b.
 20. The Pedegrees & Arms of Tiderleigh, are directed to be entred into the Book of Dorsetshire. 17. b.
 21. Many considerable Extracts from Deeds, & Tricks of the Seals of some Devonshire Families. sparsum.
 22. The other part of the Book is inscribed "The Visitation of Cornwall;" & begins at fol. 59.
 And herein, besides the Pedegrees of Families, I find elaborate Tricks of 23. The Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of Dunhuved, alias Launceston. 71.
 24. The Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of Bodmin. 72.

 34. Articles of a Complaint made by Sir William Segar Garter, against Ralf Brook, York Herald; whereby it appears that honest Ralph had been burnt in the hand; and that one of his practises against Sir William, was to procure him to confirm the Arms of Brandon, to a Gentlemen living in Spain, as Ralph pretended; but really (as Sir William complains) hereby to confirm a Coate of Armes to the Hangman of London, to his subversion & utter undoing. 130. b.
 (NB. I have been told, that, for this fact, both Sir William & Ralf were put into the Marshalsea; where the latter was long detained.)

Num. 1165, 1166.

1165.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by Henry St. George Esq. & others, upon three loose Quires of Paper, which were afterwards bound up together in their present condition, by Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, as it seems.

1. This Mr. Parker has given it the Title following; "The Visitation of Wiltshire, taken A^o 1623, by Henry St. George Richmond & Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, Marshals & Deputies to William Camden, Clarentiux, King of Armes." And this Book by the Subscriptions of those who gave the Informations; and by the Marks made with Black Lead, or Red-Chalk, relating to their being "Entred" into the Office book, appears to be the Original.

2. These Marks are Crosses thus + made above the Pedegrees, Extracts from antient Evidences, &c. which were the Directions for entering the same into another Book for the Office: which being done, I suppose that the Copyist made another, either near it or upon it. Thus, most of the Pedegrees appear doubly crossed x x or + &c. without writing the Word "Entred," as in the other Books last described.

3. In this Book there are Notes relating to the Descents, or Arms of many Families; whether they were proved, or wanted proof; whether those who were summoned to attend, were respited, &c.

4. Some of these Pedegrees have received Additions from Mr. Henry Parker the Arms-painter, as appears by his hand, at fol. 27. 27. b. 28. 29. 31. b. 33. b. 34. b. &c.

The Arms and Seals of Corporations, tricked in this Book, are,

5. The Arms & Seale of the Towne & Borough of Merleberge. 12. b.

6. The Armes & Seales of the Cittie of New Sar. 13.

7. The Common Seale of the Town & Borough of Malmesburie. 32. b.

8. The Common Seale of the Towne & Bourouge of Chippenham. 33.

9. The Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of Wotton-Bassett. 60. b.

10. The Arms & Common Seals of the Guild & Stewards of the Towne & Bourouge of Calne. 62. b.

11. The Common Seal of the Towne & Borough of Wilton. 63.

12. The Armes & Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of the Devises. 88. b.

13. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are described in this Book. 101.

14. A Note of all such as have usurpt the Name & Titles of Gentlemen without authoritie, & were disclaimed at Salisbury in the County of Wiltshire, in September, Anno 1623. 105.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written upon three large Quires of Paper when loose (which have been since bound up together, perhaps, by Henry Parker the Arms-Painter) by Mr. Henry St. George then Richmond-Herald, Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, and others, A.D. 1623; when they took the Visitation of the County of Dorset, for Mr. William Camden, Clarenceux.

By the Subscriptions of the Gentlemen who gave Information, by the hands of Mr. St. George & Mr. Lennard, by the Mark + or x made with Red Chalk over every Descent, being a more sure Note of its being "Entred."

Num. 1166, 1167.

"Entered" into the Office-book; & by divers other Notes occurring herein, this appears to be the Original.

1. I have heretofore observed, that at the Visitations, the Officers of Arms did not usually trick the Arms of the Gentry, in their loose Papers along with their Pedegrees; although they did not at the same time neglect the Seals of Corporations & private Families. And I believe that most of the Arms found in this Book tricked with Pen or Pencil, were added by Mr. Henry Parker the Arms Painter; whose handwriting also appears at fol. 31. 33. 39 b. 49. b. and in divers other places. Herein also may be found, Tricks of

2. The Common Seals of the Town of Weymouth & Melcomb Regis. 8.

3. The Armes & Common Seal of the Towne & Borough of Brideport. 8. b.

4. The Common Seales of the Towne & Borough of Dorchester. 21.

5. The Armes & Common Seale of the Towne & Borough of Pole. 27.

Moreover, I find herein,

6. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents were registered at this Visitation. 82.

7. Tricks of fifteen Coats, born by so many Families of different Counties, by Grants or otherwise, here put down by Henry Parker with black lead only, for the most part. 86.

8. A Note of all such as have usurpt the Names & Titles of Gentlemen without Authority; and were disclaimed at Bridport, & Dorchester, in September A.D. 1623. At the end.

1167.

An Heraldical Book in fol. before which Mr. Henry Parker has written this Title,

1. "The Visitation of the County of Warwick; taken Anno 1619. by Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, & Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, being Marshalls & Deputies for William Camden Clarentiux, King of Armes."

This Book is almost entirely written by the hand of the said Mr. Lennard; and being bound up by his Order, has his Arms stamped on the Cover. This Book wants all the hands of those Gentlemen who gave Information touching their respective Descents (excepting that of Mr. John Kynnerley, at 30. b.) and therefore cannot be the Original: and some of the original Papers so subscribed at this Visitation, are yet extant in the Book inscribed 66. c. 22. as will appear, in its proper place.

2. Although this be not the Original, it appears to be transcribed from the original loose Papers by Mr. Lennard, & others who wrote those Papers, or such like, at other Visitations taken by this Mr. Lennard, the Identity of the hands being plain in many places. And it is observable, that the Corporation Seals, & many of the Arms are tricked in this Book by the same Painter who rode with him to this & other Visitations, & tricked them in the original Papers.

3. The original Book at the College of Arms, is no more an original Book than this; consisting not of the loose Papers abovementioned, but of a fair Transcript of the same by Mr. Augustine Vincent & Mr. Sampson Lennard; with the Seals, &c. tricked by the same hand which delineated those in this Copie. But then many of the Pedegrees, especially in Mr. Vincent's part, are subscribed by the hands of the Gentlemen who gave the Information; which makes the College Book authentic, especially so far as those hands go. Hereby it seems that these Officers of Arms, caused the Pedegrees they took from the Information of the Gentry in the loose Papers, to be signed by them immediately. And before they were dismissed, there was a fair Transcript of the same got ready, to which they likewise subscribed. I suppose that Mr. Lennard designed this Book for that use; but by that in the College of Arms, it should seem that Mr. Vincent was rather inclined to bring into the Office, the Descents registered by him at this Visitation all written by himself. Mr. Kinnerley's hand, is also put to his Pedegree in the said Book.

4. Whether that Book aforesaid in the Library of the College of Arms was transcribed from this, I will not now determine, although it may seem likely enough, this having a Cross + or + made with Red Chalk or Black Lead, at the top of almost every Descent, which that Book wants. So that if that Book was not a Copie of this, I believe some other Book in the same Office was, before that might be brought in by Mr. Lennard & Mr. Vincent aforesaid. For that the Officers who took the Visitation, did not presently bring into the Office the authentic Books or Regitries of the same, may appear by the conduct of Mr. Nicholas Charles Lancaster-Herald, who took the Visitation of the County of Huntingdon (a small County) A.D. 1613, but did not bring into the Office his Registry or Visitation-book thereof until the 5th of May A.D. 1621.

In this Book also, are preserved the Tricks of

5. The Common Seale of the Borough of Warwick. 62.

6. The Armes of the City of Coventrie. 65.

7. The Seale of the Borough of Stratford upon Avon. 76.

8. The Seale of the Towne of Sutton Colfield. 99.

9. Some few Additions of Mr. Henry Parker may be discerned, at fol. 53. b. 115. 119. b. 120. &c.

10. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are entered in this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Copie of that Visitation-book of the County of Durham, as it was taken A.D. 1615, by Richard St. George Esq. Norroy, & his son Henry St. George then Blew-mantle, in his Company. (Herein most of the Names of the Gentlemen subscribed to their respective Descents are omitted.) 4. b.

2. A Note of all such Persons as were disclaimed in the Time of his Visitation, 1615. 2.

3. The Arms of the Gentry of the Bishoprick of Durham, registered at the "owld Vefetation," A.D. 1575, by William Flower Norroy, & in his company Robert Glover Portullis. 58.

4. Alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents and Arms are entered into this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by divers hands; wherein are contained,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are described in the Tract next ensuing. 1.

2. A large Collection of the Pedegrees of Suffolk Families; which by reason of the great variety of the Dates, appears to be taken from no one Visitation-Book of this County; although it be plain that many of them were copied from that of John Raven Richmond-Herald, which he made about A.D. 1612, for William Camden Clarentiux, King of Armes. 5. b.

Who it was that made this Collection, I cannot certainly say; though it is not unlikely that William Winchell

Num. 1169—1171.

Winchell of London Painter-Stainer who married Mary the daughter of the said John Raven, might do it. (see the said Ravens Pedegree at 61.)

The Vacancies in some places of this Collection, were afterwards filled up by another hand, to me as yet unknown. And some few Additions of Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, may be discerned in foll. 28. 55. b. 81. 96. b. &c.

Then follow,

3. A Fragment of a Copie of the Pedegrees of Devonshire Families, regitred by William Hervey Clarenceux, at his Visitation of that County (which seems to have been begun A.D. 1562.) by way of Narration. 125.

4. Some few Pedegrees of Devonshire Families, perhaps taken from the Visitation-book of that County made A.D. 1620, by Henry St. George Esq. Richmond Herald, & Sampson Lennard, Blew-Mantle, for William Camden Clarenceux. 127. b.

5. Another like fragment of William Hervey's Visitation-book of Devonshire above-mentioned. 139. b.

An Heraldical Book in fol. all written by the hand of . . . wherein are contained,

1. A Collection of the Pedegrees of Cheshire-Families; extracted, as it seems, from divers Visitation Books of that County; vizt. that of A.D. 1566, made by William Flower, Norroy; that of 1580, made by the same William Flower & Robert Glover, Somerset-Herald; & that of A.D. 1612. & 1613. made by Richard St. George Norroy, & Mr. Henry St. George his son; and some other Authorities.

2. To many of these Pedegrees, the Arms of the respective Families are added, being tricked by . . .

3. An Alphabetical Table of the Names of Families, whose Pedegrees are set forth in this Book. At the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts, & lesser matters distinct from one another, & written in the following disorder.

1. Part of the Visitation-book of the County of York, as it was taken A.D. 1575. by William Flower Esq. Norroy, which has in some places the usual signs of the Original Papers; but whether these are so, or not, I will not take upon me to determine. These Signs are, the greatest part of which, were bought of this Fisher's son by one Shires an Arms Painter, of whom I bought this Parcel for my Lord.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written & tricked by different hands; wherein are contained,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Pedegrees or Arms are described in the Visitation-book next ensuing.

2. A Copy of the Visitation-book of Staffordshire, as it was made A.D. 1583. by Robert Glover, Somerset Herald, Marshal & Deputy to Will. a. n. Flower-Norroy. 1.

I take this to be a Copie of John Withie's Book, extant in this Library, & inscribed 65 B. 11. But it is to be noted, that notwithstanding many gross faults in this Copy, through the ignorance and carelessness of the Copyist, it is of value because of many considerable Additions made to it, which are wanting in Mr. Withie's Book; as Mr. Withie's also has many recent Additions inserted into it, since this Transcript was made.

I believe I have elsewhere observed that Mr. Robert Glover who took this Visitation of A.D. 1583, was a very good Officer; and therefore besides Church-Notes, Tricks of Family-Seals, & Abstracts of ancient Evidences; we meet with the following remarkables herein, vizt.

3. Trick of the Common Seale of the Borough of Newcastle under Lyme. 1. b.

4. Nomina et Arma Nobilium et Equitum Auratorum, de Comitatu Stafford. qui cum Edwardo primo Rege, Stipendia merebant in Scotia. 2.

5. Arma Nobilium (et Equitum) de Comitatu Stafford. ex Libro antiquo in Officio Armorum. 2. b.

6. Trick of the Common Seal of the Town of Stafford. 4. b.

7. Trick of the Seale of the City of Lichfield. 5.

8. Arms born by divers persons; but noted to be doubtful. 32.

9. The Names of those that at the time of this Visitation have made no proof of their Gentry, bearing no Armes, and yet before time had called & written themselves Gentlemen, and were therefore disclaymed in the chiefe Places of the Hundred where they dwelt. 84. b.

10. The manner of disclaiming publicly the Usurpers of Arms. 85.

11. The Method of collecting the Names or the Nobility & Gentry, in Order to the Visitation of a County. 85. b.

12. Mr. Robert Glover Somerset-Herald, his Proclamation for disclaiming the ignoble Persons abovementioned; with an Admonition to forbear the Titles of Esquires or Gentlemen, until such time as sufficient Proof may be made thereof. dat. at Newcastle under Lyme A.D. 1583. 86.

13. Form of the same Herald's Warrant, directed to the High Constables of each Hundred, to summon the Esquires & Gentlemen inhabiting within their precincts, to appear before him; with a particular Reflection upon one William Dakins the late lewde Usurper of the Office of Norroy King of Armes. 86. b.

14. The Tenor of Mr. Somerset's Warrant for such as contemptuously refused to appear upon the former Warrant; to make their further appearance before the Earl Marshall. 87.

After the Visitation-book of A.D. 1583. follow,
15. A Collection of Arms & Epitaphs (commonly by the Herald called Church Notes) of divers of the Staffordshire Gentry. 108.

16. A Copy of the Book of Visitation of the County of Stafford. made & taken by Richard St. George Esq. 108.

An Heraldical Book in fol. well written & tricked by some Arms Painter, as it seems; being,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Huntingdon, as were taken and made by Mr. Nicholas Charles Lancaster Herald A. D. 1613, as Marshal & Deputy to William Camden Clarenceux.

This Mr. Charles being a very good Officer, & having the countenance of Sir Robert Cotton whose chief Seat was at Conington in this County; somewhat more than bare Pedegrees & Arms may be expected herein: accordingly, in turning over the Book, I find,

2. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are registred at this Visitation; made by Henry Parker the Arms painter.
 3. Trick of the Common seale of the Towne of Huntingdon. 1.

Num. 1180, 1181.

1180.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written, & good part of it tricked by the hand of Mr. Sampson Lennard, whose Arms are stamped upon the Cover. It contains,

1. The Visitation-book of the County of Leicester, as it was taken A.D. 1619, by Mr. Sampson Lennard afore-said Blew Mantle, & Mr. Augutine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Pourfuivants of Arms, being Marshalls & Deputies to Mr. William Camden, Clarenceux.

2. This Book is not composed of those loose Quires of Paper, whereunto those Gentlemen who gave the Information sett their hands; although one original Subscription may be found therein, namely at fol. 5. b.

3. The Pedegrees registred herein are all marked with one of more Croffes, of Red Chalk or Black Lead, denoting there being copied from hence, for the use of the Office or Officers of Arms.

4. Mr. Vincent & Mr. Lennard being both skilfull Officers, have inserted into this Registry of their Visitation, divers Extracts from the antient Evidences of Families, and Tricks of several observable Seals appendant to them. Besides which, herein may be found,

5. Tricks of the several Arms & Seals, used by the Corporation of the Borough of Leicester; tricked as it seems, by Mr. Richard Munday; who perhaps might ride Painter at this Visitation.

Since the writing of this Book, & the transcribing the same, certain Entrances have been made by other hands, which are not marked with the abovementioned Croffes; as,

6. An Account of the Fees & Rewards given to the Officers of Arms 24th March, A. D. 1619, by Prince Charles & divers Lords at their first entrance into the Tilt-yard.

7. Arms of Sir Arthur Hasebrigg, as they were marshalled, A.D. 1644, tricked by Henry Parker.

8. An erroneous Descent of Cater of Leicestershire; put down by the said Henry Parker.

To these I may add the Notice of some Continuations of Pedegrees; as,

9. The Descent of Noell, is continued by Henry Parker; and as I think, by Robert Fisher the Arms Painter.

5. b. & 6. Farther, this Hen. Parker's hand may be seen in 68. b. 16. b. 17.

10. Descent of Welleborough, entred by Richard Mundy (who seems also to have tricked many of the Family Arms in this Book.)

11. Continuation of the Descent of Beaumont; by Augutine Vincent.

12. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are entred into this Book.

An Heraldical MS. in fol. written & tricked by the same hand as the Book, perhaps by one Joseph Wright. N° 1179. pag. 1. and wanting the Subscriptions of the Gentlemen who gave Information touching their respective Descents as that does. It contains,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Wiltes. as made & taken A.D. 1565. by William Hervey Clarenceux.

2. At the beginning, is an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families whose Pedegrees are herein set forth.

Other remarkables of this Copie are,

3. The Arms & Supporters antiently belonging to the City of New Sar.

4. Certain Additions made to divers Pedegrees by Henry Parker.

Num. 1181—1185.

5. The ancient & modern Arms belonging to the Borough of Marlborough.

6. Certain Additions made to the Visitation, and written by the first hand, as may be seen at 17. & 109.

1182.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. Most of the Pedegrees registred by Robert Glover Somerset Herald, A.D. 1584, & 1585. at his Visitation of Yorkshyre; as Marshall & Deputy to William Flower Clarenceux, with some Additions.

2. Some Additions & Continuations, made by Henry Parker & others.

3. At the end are two alphabetical Tables of Surnames; one of which does not belong or refer to the Pedegrees entred into this Book.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A good Copie of the Account of the English Nobility since the Conquest, and of their several Creations, in each King's reign, commonly ascribed to Robert Cooke Clarenceux King of Arms.

In this Copie I observe,

2. The Arms of each Nobleman, are both painted & described by Blazon.

3. The Work is continued down to the Creation of Sir Thomas Knyvet, Lord Knyvet of Elfrick, 4th July, 1607.

4. At the beginning is an alphabetical Table of Surnames.

An Heraldical MS. in fol. written & tricked by different hands; wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Northampton, as it was made & taken A.D. 1618. & 1619. by Augustin Vincent Rouge-Rose Pourfuivant of Arms, Marshall & Deputy to William Camden Clarenceux.

This Mr. Vincent being a learned Antiquary, & curious Man, one might well expect that his Visitation-books should abound with Tricks of antique Seals, Church-Notes, & Transcripts of Records & other Evidences: the contrary whereof appears, this being barely a Register of the Descents & Arms of the Northamptonshire, wherein all the extraordinary matters, are only these that follow.

2. Some Church Notes relating to the Family of Catesbie.

3. Richard Wilmer's Epitaph in the Church of Ryetun upon Dunnesmore in Com. Warr.

4. Some Notes touching the Family of Bigot Earl of Norfolk.

5. Mr. Vincent's Inhibition to Laurence Makepeace, requiring him to forbear the further Uturpation of the Arms of divers antient Families, & the use of all other Arms, until the Earl-Marshall's pleasure therein, should be known. dat. 24th December, A.D. 1619.

6. To this Visitation, some Additions have been made by Henry Parker, & others.

7. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of those Families, whose Pedegrees are described in this Book. At the end.

A Book in fol. written by different hands, wherein are contained,

1. A Receipte to make Metheglin.

2. A Water for soare Eyes.

3. Translation

Num. 1185-1187.

3. Translation of the Commission of K. James I. whereby he gives full power to Sir John Digby (afterwards Earl of Bristol) to treat of & conclude a Marriage between Prince Charles his son, & Mary second daughter of the King of Spain. dat. 16th April, A.D. 1617.

4. The particular Contents of the following Work; in a Tract by itself.

5. A large & useful Collection of Law-Precedents, to the end.

6. A Medycine for the Tothe-Ache, in the inside of the Cover at the end.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. An alphabetical Table of Surnames; referring to the Arms & Descents entered into this Book.

2. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Southampton, as it was taken A.D. 1575; or 1576, by Robert Cooke Clarenceux.

And herein I find,

3. The Arms, Crest, & Supporters of the Towne of Southampton.

4. Notes touching those who were disclaimed at this Visitation. 5. 43. b. 45.

5. Arms of the City of Winchester. (Here is a Note, shewing those to be Arms of Doncaster; but it appears to be otherwise by 81 B. 10. fol. 265-.) 12.

6. Towards the end, are the Arms of divers Families of this County; but without any Pedegrees.

1187.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by different hands: wherein are contained two Treatises. At the beginning, I find,

1. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of those Families whose Pedegrees are registred in the following Work.

2. The Arms of the Northampton-shire Gentry in Blazon, & put down by way of Alphabet.

3. A Copy of the Visitation-book of the County of Northampton, as the same was made & taken A.D. 1618 & 1619. by Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshall & Deputie to William Camden Clarenceux.

This Copie is preferable to that inscribed N^o 1184. &c. as containing divers laboured Pedegrees, Church-Notes, Extracts from Records, & Charters, &c. not entered into them: among which are some Notes and Queries of Mr. Henry Ferrers of Tamworth Castle, touching the Family of Catelby.

This part of the Book, may possibly have been written by Mr. John Gough the Arms-Painter: The other part is of a hand plainly different, and is thus entitled,

4. The Visitation of the County of Leiceſter, taken by Sampson Lennard alias Blew-mantle, and Augustine Vincent alias Rouge-Rose, Pursuivants of Armes, A.D. 1619.

The remarkables of this Copie are these, 97.
5. It omits all Church Notes, and other Prooves; as also all Tricks of the Family-Arms; excepting some few Crests.

6. The Pedegrees are extended from the Schemes Genealogical (wherein they were taken by the Officers abovementioned, as appears by the original Papers) into a verbal Narration, according to the old way of entering such Pedegrees.

7. The Arms of the several Families are put down in Blazon.

8. The Matches of each Family are noted in the margin.

Num. 1187-1196.

9. The Seal of William de Lichfield, at fol. 128. b. I suppose to be added by another hand; as also the Arms & Note touching Halesrigg. at fol. 101.

10. Alphabetica hujus Libri Visitationis Comitatus Leicestriae: i.e. An alphabetical Table of the Names not only of the Families, but of the Matches mentioned in this Work. 142.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained, 1. Part of the Visitation-book of Northamptonshire, as taken A.D. 1618. & 1619. by Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshall & Deputie to William Camden Clarenceux.

Note, this Copie agrees with that abovementioned in the Description of the Book N^o 1187, so far as it goes; and is written by the same hand.

2. Alphabet in Blazon of the Arms of the Northamptonshire Gentry.

3. Some additional Pedegrees entered by the said hand, & by Henry Parker.

4. Henry Parker's alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents, or Matches are described in this Book. At the beginning.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by the hand of Mr. Jacob Chafones; wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Leiceſter, as the same was made by Mr. Sampson Lennard Blew-Mantle, & Mr. Augustine Vincent Rouge-Rose, Marshalls & Deputies to William Camden Clarenceux, A.D. 1619.

In this Copie, almost all the Seals, Church Notes, Extracts from the Records, & other Proofs, are omitted; as being of less use to the Arms-Painters, for whose use this, and such like Copies were made.

Before the Pedegrees, I find,

2. A List of the Justices of the Peace in this County, A.D. 1610, &c. with the Arms of many of them.

Here are also,

3. The Arms & Seals of the Town Leiceſter; tricked by another hand.

4. Some later Additions have been made to divers of the Pedegrees.

5. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Pedegrees are herein described. At the end.

6. Copie of a Letter from Thomas Babbe, to some person of Worship, who owed him money upon Bond. pag. ult.

1190.

An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Lincoln, as it was taken A.D. 1562. by Robert Cooke Chester Herald, for William Hervey Clarenceux. It consists for the most part of bare Pedegrees, the Custom of registring the Seals, Church Notes, & other Proofs of the Antiquity & Gentry of Families, not obtaining in those early Visitations.

2. Since the Writing of the said Pedegrees, the Arms of many Families have been added by Mr. Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, & others.

3. There are also certain Additions & Continuations of some of the said Pedegrees, by the same Henry Parker, &c.

4. The Pedegrees are followed by the Arms of the Lincolnshire Nobility & Gentry; but there Names are, for the most part, omitted.

5. At the end, is an alphabetical Table of Surnames, referring to the Pedegrees aforesaid.

Num. 1191, 1192.

1191.

An Heraldical Book in fol. written by divers hands, wherein are contained,

1. An Alphabet of the Arms of the Gloucester-shire Nobility & Gentry, in Blazon; written, as it seems, by Robert Fisher the Arms-painter.

2. An alphabetical Table, containing the Surnames of those Families whose Descents are described in this Book; having a double Reference; that is, to the folios marked upon the top of the Leaves, & to the Pages marked at the bottom.

3. A Collection of the Pedegrees of the Gloucester-shire Gentry, from the three first Visitation-books thereof, as it seems.

Although this does not appear to me to be a Copie of any one Visitation-book, it does nevertheless contain divers Extracts from Evidences, &c. as proofs to the Descents; among which, I observe,

4. A Letter from Prince Edward, son to K. Henry vi. to John Daunt, requiring his personal appearance in Armes, against Edward Earl of March (K. Edward iv.) dated at Weymouth, 13th April.

- An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein are contained,
1. A Copie of the Visitation-book of the County of Buckingham, as the same was made & taken by John Philipot Somerset Herald, & William Ryley Blew-Mantle, Marshalls & Deputies to Sr. Richard St. George Clarendoux, & Sr. John Borough Norroy, A.D. 1634. who, by agreement, visited in each others Province jointly.
2. This Copie seems to have been begun by Henry Parker the Arms-Painter, and as to the Writing-Part to have been carried on by his Apprentices. But the Tricking looks to be all his own.
3. The same Henry Parker has also putt down certain Additions, in some places.
Observables in this Visitation-book, may be
4. Certain Churches-Notes, so far from agreeing with the same in Mr. John Saunders's Copie of this Visitation (18 A. 7.) (which I like better than this) that some things here seem to have been delineated by a Description in words only, and not by Draughts lying before the eye. 18. b.
5. Trick of the Common Seal of the Town of Chipping-Wycombe. 20.
6. The old Story about the Family of Hampden. 21.
7. Church-Notes taken at Goat-hurff. 29. b.
8. An alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are entred into this Book. 100.

1194.

- An Heraldical Book in fol. wherein is contained,
1. A Painter's Copie of that Visitation-book of the County of Suffex, which was made & taken A.D. 1637. & 1634. by John Philipot, Somerset, & George Owen York

Num. 1194, 1195.

York Heralds; Marshalls & Deputies to Sir John Borough Garter, & Sr. Richard St. George Clarenceux.

2. Although this Copie is not comparable to that of Mr. John Withie extant in this Library, at 65. B. 10. (which Mr. Withie Rode Painter at the same Visitation, as may be easily gathered from 224. b. of that Book) it is nevertheless of some value, as containing some Notes & Additions not to be met with in that.

3. Part of an alphabetical Table of the Surnames of Families, whose Descents are extant herein.

An Heraldical Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts & loose Papers, bound up together in the order following, vizt.

1. Laboured Pedegree of Anthony Browne Viscount Montacute: wherein are Descents of Spencer, Marshall, Bruer, & de Cadurcis, Tipote, de Clare, Baddelemere, Wentworth, Montacute, Mount-Herner, Holland, Neville, Stoner, &c. 1. b.

2. Descent & Arms of Beauchamp Baron of Hachee. 5. & 10. b.

3. Part of a Descent of Beauchamp of Treflins in Cornub. 5. b.

4. The Honorable Descent of the Right Honorable Thomas Lord Wentworth of Nettlested in Com. Suff. Knight of the Bath to Prynce Henry; deduced from the Bodye of Reginalde Wentworth of Wentworth in Yorkshire. 9. 8. 7. & 6.

5. Arms of Harward, & Harwood; of Le Neve impaling Monke; & of the Lady Stowell. 9. b.

6. Part of a large Pedegree of Sir Thomas Windfor Lord Windfor; with Descents of Andrews, Echingham, Blount, Wingfield, Drewe, Sambourne, &c. 11. 12. & 14.

7. Another Descent of the Family of Wyndfore. 12.

8. Descent of Raven of Hadleigh in Com. Suff. as also of Ryvett of Suffolk. 14.

9. Pedegree of Stireley. 15. b.

10. The true & auncient Descent of the right honorable Thomas Lord Windfor, deduced from the Body of Sir Walter Windfor a Norman; and from the Conquest; as it was gathered out of the auncient Records of that Honorable Familie: herein are Descents of Berners, & of Bourghier, &c. (Imperfect. 18. 17. & 16.

11. Extracts from antient Deeds, touching Bulkeley Bromley, & other Cheshire Families; by Mr. Sampson Lennard &c. 19.

12. Original Letter of Sr. William Pole, dated 27 of April, A.D. 1604. which he sent with some Papers of his touching the Family of Reynell. He intimates a design of publishing the Antiquities of Devonshire, & craves the assistance of his Correspondent, in that affair. 37.

13. Transcripts & Extracts of Records & other Evidences, touching the Families of Reynell, Malleston, &c. by Sr. William Pole, by the care of Mr. St. George, & by others. 38.

14. Tricks of the Arms of Mansbridge, Lutman, Farre, & Passell. 45. b.

15. Trick of the Arms of Rigden of Essex; with an original Draught of a Letter of Robert Fisher the Painter-Stayner. 46.

16. Arms of divers Families tricked by Robert Fisher. 46. b.

17. More Transcripts & Extracts of Records & Evidences, touching the Families of Reynell, Le Fraunceys, &c. by divers hands. 47.

Num. 1105.

Among which, is,

18. A large Pedegree of the Family of Reynell. 52. a.

Then follow,

19. Hally Trickings of the Arms born by divers Families; by Robert Fisher. 56. b.

20. A Copie of the Certificate of William Pawlet Marquis of Winchester & Lord High Treasurer of England, & of Robert Dudley Earl of Leycester; upon the Contest between the Officers of Arms, & the Dean & Prebendaries of the Collegiate Church of Westminster, each party claiming the Herse of the Lady Katherine Knowles deceased, lately sett up therein, and all such as should thereafter be sett up therein. Which matter being by the Queens Privy Council referred to them, & they hearing the Allegations of both Parties, found that the said Dean & Prebendaries had no manner of right to any Herse or their Furniture; but that the same did belong to the Officers of Arms, as their Fees: and do therefore certifie the Earl-Marshal thereof. dat. 6 April, A.D. 1560. This Certificate is preceded by the final Determination of Thomas Howard then Duke of Norfolk & Earl-Marshal of England, adjudging the said Herse, & all other Herse, so sett up, for the future, with their Furniture, to the Officers of Arms only. dat. 26 April ann. 11 Eliz. (Both these are written by the hand of Mr. Robert Glover Somerset Herald.) 58.

21. A short Tract entituled, "Of Gentry, Bearing of "Armes;" whose Author seems to have but little Learning or Judgement. 62.

22. Descent of Allington. 69.

23. A fragment of the Heraldical Tract above-mentioned at No. 21. It treats of the 9 Worthies of the World, among whom, Guy of Warwick has a place. 70.

24. Some of the original Papers, whereon the Descents of divers Leicestershire-Gentlemen were registered at the Visitation of that County by Mr. Sampson Lennard, Blewmanle; & Mr. Augullin Vincent Ruge-Rose, Pursuivants of Armes, as Marshalls & Deputies to William Camden Clarenceux; A.D. 1619. (Sundry of these Papers are signed by those who gave the Information.) 72.

25. Some of the original Papers of the Leicestershire Officers of Arms, whereon they registered divers Descents of the Warwickshire Gentry, at their Visitation of that County A.D. 1619. for Mr. Clarenceux Camden: several of which are subscribed by the said Gentry. 101.

N.B. Some of the Warwickshire Descents seem to be mixed with those of Leicestershire, above mentioned at no. 24. not to insist upon that Descent of Gobart of Coventry, which precedes those of Leicestershire; namely at fol. 71.

Note also, that each of these Descents are marked with a Black Lead-Pencil, with such usual marks, as shew them to have been transcribed into other Books, for the use of the Office of Arms.

26. A Fragment of the Book touching the Creations of the English Nobility from the Conquest, commonly ascribed unto Robert Cooke Clarenceux; of which there are many entire Copies, both in this Library and elsewhere. 118.

27. A Discourse concerning the Order of the Garter; its Foundations, and of the Ceremonies commonly observed by the Knights Companions of the same. 129.

28. The manner of making a Knight Banneret. 131. b.

29. Trick of the Arms of Sterling of Scotland, impaling those of Rous of Huntingdonshire. 132.

30. The Descent of Albert 1. Esq. of Germany, & of Elizabeth, his wife: taken out of "the Great Genealogia of the Palatinate." 133.

31. Lists,

Num. 1195.

31. Lists, Notes, & Genealogies, of several German, and Italian Princes. 133. b. 138. b. 139. 142.

A thick Book in 4to, containing the following Tracts written by different hands, partly upon Paper, & partly upon Parchment;

1. The latter part of an Explication of the Ten Commandments, in old English. 1.
 This Tract is intire in the MS. inscribed 63 B. 15.
2. De septem Peccatis mortalibus; in like old English. 9.
 3. The Lord's Prayer explained, in like old English. 22.

4. De Tentacione et fui Abnegacione; this Title is written by a modern hand, which at the end of the Tract hath added these words, "Here endith the Booke cauld the Poore Caytife, which lacketh the begynth." 49.

In the abovementioned MS. 63 B. 15. this is divided into three Tracts, thus entituled, "Council of Crist, of Vertuous Pacience, and of Temptacion." 5.

5. De Militia spirituali; Libellus mancus in fine: in the like old English. 5.

In the MS. 63. B. 15. This is divided into two Tracts, the former whereof entituled, "Hors, ether Armor of Hevene, is here intire; the later inscribed, "Love of Ihesu;" is here imperfect, as above insinuated.

In some Books, these Tracts abovementioned are ascribed to John Wyclif.

6. Twelve Uses or Services of Tribulacion; in old English; written by another hand. 61.

Some think this Tract was composed by Petrus Blesensis, & translated by Richard Rolle the Hermit of Hampole.

7. A Prolog of a Tretis that tellith of v Willis (al. Wyles) that Kyng Pharo did to the Childer of Israel to kepe hem in his Lond: by which is wittli understoncyn the v Willus of the Fend Imperfect. 75.

Hitherto all is written upon Parchment: what follows is upon paper, excepting one Leaf.

8. Epistola cufudam Willelmi Jerarde Clerici, ut videtur. 77.

9. A single Stanza of some old English Poet. 77. b.

10. Tractatus Theologicus cui Titulus, Speculum Cristianum; manu cufudam Gulielmi Averli Londoniensis, nonnullis in locis, notatus. 78.

Num. 1197-1201.

- A learned Treatise, or Summary, entituled, "The Use of the Lawe.

Num. 1202—1205.

1202.

A paper Book in 4to, wherein is contained,
An History of the Amours of Madame d'Olonne: translated, as I suppose, out of French.

A parchment Book in 4to, (thought of me) wherein are contained,

1. An Exposition of the book of Revelations in old English. 1.
 2. A Comment, in old English, upon these words in St. Matthew's Gospel, "Attendite a falsis Prophetis, qui veniunt ad vos in Vestimentis Ovium; intrinsecus autem sunt Lupi rapaces." 64.
 3. Expositio Evangelij, Matth. Cap 24. "Regressus Ihesus de Templo." &c. Imperf. 91.
- These two last Tracts seems to be of John Wycliffe's composing; the Author was certainly a Lollard.

1204.

Codex chartaceus, et Hebraice scriptus, in 4to, in quo continetur,

Liber Cabalisticus, dictus Sopher Olam Habâ; quem alij, forte, vocant Kolbû. Tractat de 72 Nominibus Dei; deq; mystica elementorum Alphabeti explicatione; ut accepi, a quodam Isaac Bernard, Judeo Prageni.

Hic Codex manu cujusdam Judei conversi videtur exaratus; in folij enim 158vi, facie secunda, habetur Adnotatio Hebraice viridi atramento scripta, quam sic Latine vertit Vir cum Hebraicarum tum Arabicarum Literarum scientissimus, Simon Ockley, "Perfectus est et finitus Liber Tennesoth (i. e. Similitudinum) Benedictus fit Deus Creator Mundi, et Benedictus filius ejus, qui redemit Hominem Sanguine suo ex manu Inimicorum fuorum, et aperuit nobis Portas Cœli, adeo ut possimus inspicere Seculum venturum, Similitudinem (vel Imaginem) ejus sanctam, et Lucem ejus supernam et terribilem; ut exultemus et gaudeamus perfecto Gaudio et Recto. Quod perfectum reddit Intellectum nostrum et Animas nostras inter integros Cordis, et Spiritus Superiores, qui quotidie canunt ad Gloriam ejus, et Nomen ejus, et Pulchritudinem ejus, Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus, Dominus Sebaoth, benedictum fit Nomen Gloriz regni sui in æternum: ut perficiatur quod dictum est Satur ero, cum experigiar Similitudine tua."

In fine Codicis habetur et alia Hebraica Adnotatio, viridibus Literis scripta, quam sic Latine reddebat Vir reverendus Simon Ockley, benedictus fit Deus qui dat fessis vires ad perficiendum Librum Mundi venturi; cujus Ope, in Mundo venturo videbimus Substantiam suam, absq; dubio, in æternum. Et cognoscemus eum sicut est, Facies ad Faciem, et non Similitudine neque repræsentatione, neque Imagine. Amen et Amen, Selah.

1209.

A Theological Book in 4to, containing certain Difcourſes or Sermons, upon various Texts of Scripture, in the following order,

1. John, iii. 18. "He that believeth not, is condemned already." 1.
2. Hebr. xii. 12. "Wherefore lift up the Hands which hang downe, and the feeble Knees." 52.
3. Titus, iii. 8. "This is a faithful Saying, and theſe Sayings I will that thou affirme constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works; theſe things are good and profitable unto men." 61.
4. Colofs. iii. 18. 19. "Wives ſubmit yourſelves to your owne Huſbands, as it is fitt, in the Lord: Huſbands love your Wives, and be not bitter againſt them." 66. b.
5. Titus iii. 5. "Not with the Works of Righteouſneſs which we have done, but according to his Mercy he hath ſaved us by the waſhing of Regeneration & renewing of the Holy Ghoſt." 72.
6. 1. Theſſal. i. 5. "For our Goſpell came not unto you in Word only, but alſoe in power, and in the Holy

Num. 1209, 1210.

Ghoſt, and in much aſſurance, &c." In the precedent Verſe, "Knowing Brethren, beloved, your Eleſtion of God; for our Goſpell came not unto you in word, &c." 91.

At fol. 156. b. I find this note, "Theſe foregoing Sermons upon the 1 Theſſalonians i. & 5. doth moſt chiefly handle the nature of the Thoughts & Affections in general. October, 1. Anno 1631. London."

The date above-written being in the time when William Sedgewick the puritanical Preacher lived, and this Book being not much unlike that above deſcribed at 1198. I leave it to others whether theſe Sermons be of his own compoſure, or not. I will only take leave to add this Memorandum of him, which I have been told by a Gentleman (who I dare ſay did not invent it) that William Sedgewick had pretended to foretell to his Congregation, the certain day when the Day of Judgement ſhould happen. Which not being far off, all thoſe who believed in him, prepared themſelves accordingly. The day being come, it ſo happened, that there was a very terrible & dreadful Tempeſt of Hail, Rain, Thunders & Lightnings, with a ſhock of an Earthquake, which not only confirmed the believers in their ſentiments, but made many of the Scorners doubtful what to think of it, they having never known ſuch a day before. At laſt when the Sun had appeared for ſome time, and nothing more extraordinary fallen out; the diſmal apprehenſions of the poor honeſt Diſciples began to vaniſh; and he being thus known to be a falſe Prophet, was in deriſion called "Doomſday-Sedgewick" to the day of his death.

7. Matthew, xii. 31. "Wherefore I ſay unto you, all manner of Sin & Blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven unto men, but the Blaſphemy againſt the Holy Ghoſt ſhall not be forgiven unto men." 157.

A Theological Book in 4to, written in old English, upon parchment; wherein I find

1. A Reule that telleth in which Chapitlis of the Bible, ye may fynde the Lessouns, Pistilis, & Gospels that ben red in the Chirche, after the Us of Salisburi, marked with Lettris of the a. b. c. &c.

At the end is this Rubric, Thus endith this Kalendar of Lessouns, Pistilis, & Gospels of al the year.

2. The New Testament with the usual Prologues, of that Old English Translation, which is by many ascribed to John Wycliffe; concerning which, I believe, I have heretofore putt down my Opinion.

3. The Old Translation of the Epistle to the Laodiceans; with the Prologue, wherein are these Words "but this Epistle is not in comyn Latyn bookys, & therefore it was but late translated into Englishe tunge". And indeed I have not often seen it in the common, & recenter Latin Bibles, although it was in that well-written MS. Latin Bible which (being then but a very young man) I gave to the Bodleyan Library, about A.D. 1693, wherein it has long been inscribed NE. B. 5. 15. and is mentioned in the printed Catalogue of the MSS. preserved in that famous Library.

As to the present Epistle & Prologue; they are badly written in an old Text Hand, imitating the Character of some old Book, without doubt; but otherwise legible enough. However, Major Mould (of whom this Book was bought) thought fit to prefix this Note before them,

Num. 1212—1216.

"I suppose Mr. Richard Smith (whose MSS. this was) transcribed this Epistle out of some old MSS. he had by him, and with the same Character, which without good application is not to be vnderstood or read." But:

"Nil tam difficile est quod non solertia vincat."

John Mould.

4. Lastly; here follows a Table of the books of the New Testament, as written in the present MS. with the Number of Chapters (according to the modern Division) contained in each of them; by the same Mr. Mould, as it seems.

1213.

Codex chartaceus in 4to, manu Italica descriptus; in quo habentur

1. Tractatus, sive Disputatio Theologica, de sacrosancto Incarnationis Misterio. 1.
2. Disputatio de Unionis Verbi Incarnati. 94. usque ad 118.

1214.

Part of a parchment Book in 4to, consisting of 11. Assisa Panis et Carviæ. 148.

12. Judicium Pillorie et Tumbrelli. 150.

1215.

A paper Book in 4to, written all in French, and thus entitled, L'Histoire de la Duchesse de Savoye; traduite d'Anglois en François, par Hugues le fils du Monsieur Aime Poulet, Capitaine et Gouverneur de l'Isle et Chateau de Cerfè.

As to the Work itself, it is a Romance of Knight-Errantry, and was translated by this Mr. Hugh Poulet, being then (as it seems) a young gentleman, by way of exercising himself in the French Language, wherein, it appears, that by this time, he had made a great proficiency. As to the person of this young Translator; looking upon the Pedegree of the antient & truly noble Family of Poulet described by Mr. John Withie in the Book 65 B. 7. I find him to be Sir Hugh Poulet the direct Ancestor of the present Right Honble. John Earl Poulet now Lord Steward of Her Majesties Household.

A paper Book in 4to, containing a large Collection of French Poems; written in the following Order.

Num. 1219.

This Letter accompanied that munificent Prelates last Benefaction of Manuscripts to the Bodleyan Library; for which in the Answer above-mentioned at N^o 5. the University returned their Thanks. They are both, uncorrectly, translated from the original Latin.

7. Letter of K. Charles I. to the Lord Mayor of London, given at York 26th Sept. anno regni . 6. enforcing the Letter of the Peers to the City of London (to be found at fol. 165.) for the Loan of 200,000l. for keeping his Forces together, & dismissing them in orderly manner, after that the Scots should be disbanded. (vid. infra, No. 53. & 15.) 26.

8. A rough Draught of Proposals read by the Archbishop of Canterbury 25th April, A. D. 1628? and sent to the House of Commons for their Assent. The effect of them, is, that the King would declare that Magna Charta & the Six Statutes declaring or explaining the same, do stand still in force.—That every free Subject of this Realme hath a fundamental Propertie in his Goods, & a fundamental Libertie of his Person.—That he would ratifie & confirm unto all & every his loyal & faithful Subjects, all their ancient & several just Liberties, Privileges & Rights.—That in all Causes within the cognizance of the Common Law, and concerning the Libertie of his Subjects, he would proceed according to the Common Law of the Land, and according to the Lawes established in the Kingdome.—That he would not use or direct his Prerogative to the prejudice of any of his loyal People in the propertie of their Persons. But in case he should find just Cause for Reason of State, to imprison or restrain any Man's person, he would within a convenient time, expresse the Cause of his Commitment either General or Special, and leave him immediately to be tryed according to the Common Justice of the Kingdom. (vid. infra, No. 56. & No. 87) 27.

9. Two Resolutions of the House of Parliament, made 15th December, 1640. First that the Clergy of England convened in any Convocation or Synod, or otherwise, have noe Power to make any Constitutions, or Canons, or Acts whatsoever, in matter of Doctrine, Discipline, or otherwise, to binde the Clergie or Layety of this Land without Consent of Parliament. Secondly, That the several Constitutions & Canons Ecclesiastical, treated upon by the Arch-bishops of Canterbury and Yorke, Presidents of the Convocation for the respective Provinces, & agreed upon, with the King's Majesties Licence, in their several Synods begun at London & at York, 1640. do not binde the Clergie or Layety, or either of them. 29.

10. The Petition of the Grand Jurye in the County of Berks. delivered to the Justices of Assize, on the behalfe of themselves and the rest of the Countye, 11th July, 1640. 31.

This Petition was against Grievances, as Ship-money, & other new Taxes, & Exactions; Monopolies; the increase of Deer in the Forest of Windfor; and the rigid Execution of the Forest Laws.

18. A Letter sent from the Scottish Lordes, to the Lord Mayor of London, after their taking Newcastle Sept. 1640. 61.

Herein they give plausible words; promise not to interrupt the Navigation of the Tyne, or the bringing of Coals from thence to the City, or other places; as also to cultivate the friendship thereof. 61.

19. A Petition sent from the Scotts to the King; with His Majesty's Answer thereunto from Yorke; 5th Sept. 1640. 63.

In this Petition the Scotts set forth their great Grievances (in general Terms only) that extreme Necessity constrained them for their Reliefe, & obtaining their humble & just Desires to come into England (with a numerous Army) wherein they have carried themselves in a most peaceable manner, 'till they were pressed, with strength of Armes, to put such Forces out of the way, as did oppose their Passage at Newbourn on Tyne, and did thereby bring their owne Bloods upon their owne Heads, against their (the Scotts) purposes & desires. For preventing therefore the like or greater Inconveniences, that without further opposition, they might come unto the King's presence, for satisfaction to their just Demands: they intreat him to provide for the repaying of their Wrongs & Losses, and with the Advice and Consents of the Estates of the Kingdom of England convened in a Parliament, to settle a firm & durable Peace against all Invasions by Sea & Land, &c. His Majesty's Answer by the Lord Limerick, was to this effect, that they should putt down the particular Grievances they could complain of; that he had given out Summons for the Meeting of all the Peers of England in the City of Yorke, that with their Advice he might give Answer to their Petitions; and that, in the mean time, if they desired Peace (as they pretended) they should advance with their Army, no farther. 63.

20. The Proceedings between the English & Scottish Lordes, at the Treatie at Rippon, 2nd Oct. 1640. 71.

21. An Overture about maintaining the Scotch Army, presented to his Majesty, from the Scotts, by the Lord Mandevill, 12th October, 1640. 78.

22. Remembrances for the Lords the Commissioners (on the part of England) to put them in mynde of such things as have fallen into Debate, about the Demands of the Scotts, for the maintenance of the Army, during the Treary. 78. b.

Num. 1219.

23. A Proclamation made at Sunderland by the Scotts, the 23d of September, 1640. 81.

The Purport of it is, to charge all the People of the Bishoprick of Durham, & County of Northumberland, to come in at times appointed (they not being enemies to the Protestant Religion) and declare their Names, & the designations of their Houses & Lands, in order to their being as tenderly dealt withall, in the payment made to the Scotts, as the necessity of their Army could suffer. 81. b.

24. Two Notes; the one shewing, that a Scott had entered upon the Custom-house of Newcastle & Sunderland; the other, that the day after the Scotts had made the Proclamation above mentioned, they took all the King's moneyes from the Officers, and the moneyes for Sale. 82. b.

25. Petition of the Scots in Scotland presented to the King by the Earl of Holland, humbly supplicating his Majestie to appoint some few of his Kingdom of England well affected to the true Religion, and the common Peace, to heare by some of themselves (of the same disposition) their humble Desires, &c. 83.

26. The King's Answer to the Scotts Petition: herein he requires them to publish the Proclamation he had sent to them, for the Information of all his Scotts Subjects; which being done, he would hearken to any supplication of his People. 84. b.

27. Letter of the Covenanters of Scotland, to the Nobility of England. 84.

This was sent to back their Petition (No. 25.) declares their sentiments for Peace & Obedience; and imputeth the blame to others, if there should happen a War between the two Nations. 84.

28. A long winded canting Preamble of the Scotts, to the Sixth Article of their Demands, delivered by the Earl of Bristol, to the English Commissioners A.D. 1640. (vid. infra, No. 36.) 85.

Herein they say (after many vehement aggravations of their Sufferings & Losses, couched in general terms) that as the Warr on their parte is noe other then their coming into England with a Guard defensive; which all Men do acknowledge that in common equitie, the Defendant should not be suffered to perish in just & necessary Defence; but that the Pursuer, whether by way of legal Process, in time of Peace; or by way of Violence, in time of Warr, ought to bear the Charges of the Defendants: They trust that their Lordships the English Commissioners will not think that it is against Reason, for them to demand some Reparation of this kind: but that the Parliament of England (by whose Will-dome & Justice they have expected the Redresse of their Wrongs) will take such Course as both may in Reason give them satisfaction, & may in the noblest Demonstration of their Justice, serve most for their own Honour. 85.

29. Sum of the Articles charged against Mr. Secretary Windebank: all for protecting or favouring Rebels. 87.

30. The King's Answers given the 3d of February, A.D. 1640-1. to the Remonstrance made to him by both Houses of Parliament. Herein he renits the Case of Godman the Priest, (who seemed to have been condemned merely for Religion) to them: since other States might think his Execution to be a Severity with Surprize. 89.

100. vid. infra, No. 59 & 60.

31. A Message sent from the Queenes Majestie to the House of Commons, by Sir Thomas Jermyn Comptroller of her Houlehold, 5th Febr. A.D. 1640. 104.

46. A Privy Seale for the transporting of Horses, dated 30th June, 3 Caroli. 1. 144. b.

This Title is wrong: for it requireth the Treasurer & Under Treasurer of the Exchequer, to pay 30,000 l. to Philip Burlemache, to be by him returned to Sir William Batford Kt. & John Dalberes Esq. who were appointed therewith to buy up in the Netherlands & in Germany, a certain number of Horses, Muskets, Corselets, Pikes, Cuirasses, & Carbines; & to bring the same into this Kingdom.

47. A Report made unto the House of Commons, by Sir Dudley Digges (as I take it) of a Speech made by K. James, at Theobalds, to a Sub-Committee of both Houses, as it was reported by the Arch-bishop of Canterbury, 11th March, 1623. 145.

In this Speech, which is a very plain & honest one; the King asks their Advice how he should be able to carry on a War with Spain, & the Emperor, with whom they had advised him to break: since he could expect no Assistance from Abroad, his Revenues fallen short, & his Debts increased, &c.

48. Sum of a Report made to the House of Commons, 11th March, 1623, by Sir Richard Weston Chancellor of the Exchequer; whereby it appeared that the Spaniards suing the King about the Match & Palatinate, had cost him 661,670 l. and that the King had grown into Debt 219,000 l. 146. b.

49. Part of another Speech of his Majesty (K. James I.) the whole whereof was reported by the Archbishop of Canterbury, 25th March 1624, at a Committee of both Houses. 147.

Hereby & in pursuance of it, it was declared that the King had broken off both the Treaties.

50. Sir Edwyn Sandes his Report of a Message brought by the Duke of Buckingham, the 17th of April, 1624. to a Committee of both Houses: concerning the King's Proceedings upon the Dissolution of the Treaties abovementioned. (Imperfect) (vid. MS. No. 159.) 148.

51. Grounds of Exceptions against the Oath required in the Sixth Canon established in the Synod anno 1640. from Northamptonshire. 149.

52. Exceptions taken by the Gentry & Clergie of Devonshire, to the Oath enjoyned by the Synod convoked anno 1640. (with their Petition thereunto annexed.) 155.

53. A Letter from the Nobility assembled in the Great Council at Yorke, to the Citizens of London, for Loans of 200,000 l. to supply his Majesties occasions, until the Parliament should furnish him with money: dated, 26th September, A.D. 1640. (vid. supra, No. 7. & 15.) 165.

54. Resolutions to be taken into Consideration, for present necessary Supply. 174.

Here was a vast Project, to fit out divers Navies, raise an Army, supply the Stores, build new Ships, & pay off Arrears; but no mention of money to do it withall. (temp. Caroli 1.)

55. A Petition presented to the King by some of the Nobility of England, on the behalf of the whole Kingdom . . . September, 1640. 175.

Herein many grievances are enumerated; and his Majesty is desired to call a new Parliament.

56. A torn Letter of K. Charles 1. to the House of Lords; wherein he asserteth his Regal Power, upon the urgent occasions of the State, to imprison the Subject without shewing the cause: but qualified by some Concessions. Given 12th May, A.D. 1628. (vid. supra, No. 8.) (this is intire in MS. No. 161. fol. 194.) 128.

57. A Petition preferred to the Commons house of Parliament, by divers of the Inhabitants in, & about the Citie of London: . . . December A.D. 1640. 183.

That the Hierarchy of the Church of England, with all its dependances, Roote & Branch, may bee abolished, and all Lawes, made in favour thereof, made voyd.

58. A Particular of the manifold Evils, Pressures, & Grievances, caused, practised, & occasioned by the Prelacy and their Dependants. 186.

This was annexed to the Petition; and contains 30 Articles, being the Sept-essence of the most malicious & villanous Contrivances of the Euristicall Faction against the Church.

59. A Petition of John Goodman a Priest, condemned; to his Majesty, . . . January, 1640. 203.

The Sum thereof is; that since many of his Subjects were in great discontent, in that his Majesty had reprieved him; he desires his Majesty rather to remit him to their Mercy who were thus discontented, than that he should be the occasion of a Difference between his Majesty & his People.

Num. 1219.

60. A Remonstrance of both Houses of Parliament, to the King; delivered by the Lord Keeper, . . . February, 1640. 204.

This is against Priests & Jesuits residing in England; & particularly against Goodman, whom they would have left to the Execution of the Lawe. (vid. supra, No. 30.)

61. Objections about the Bishops answered; A. D. 1640. 213.

This is a Puritanical Libell; drawn up in pursuance of the Petition abovementioned, at No. 57. & 58.

62. Mr. Macon of Lincolne's Inn, his Speech, 2d Majj, 1628. 219.

This was spoken in the Commons House; and is about a Law then making, whereby it was to be enacted, that no Free Man should be imprisoned, without shewing the cause of such Imprisonment.

63. Articles exhibited in the Parliament, against the Lord Arch-bishop of Canterbury, 15th November, A. D. 1640. 222.

These relate to Innovations in the Kirke of Scotland, & are subscribed by the Lord Blaire.

64. Queres propounded by the Clergie of the Diocese of London, &c. touching the Oath enjoyned by the late Synod, Cap. vi. wherein they desire satisfaction; that for they may the more willingly take the said Oath, when Authority shall tender it unto them, as by that Canon is enjoyned, &c. 252.

65. Mr. Goodwin's Speech, in the House of Commons, 22 Marcij, A. D. 1627. 263.

He moves to supply the Kinges occasions; yet so as to satisfie the Countrey, & preserve their Rights & Priviledges.

66. Sir Benjamin Rudyard's Speech, 22d Marcij, 1627. (imperfect) ibid.

Moving the House to trust the Kinge; to supplie him without Conditions; to represent their Grievances unto his Majestie, humble, moderatie, & briefe; and to do all this speedily.

67. Fragments of the Lord Keeper (Sir Thomas Coventry) at the opening of the Parliament the 7th day of March, 1627. (this is intire, in No. 161. fol. 127.) 264.

68. Sir John Finche his Speech, on Wednesday the 19th of March, 1627. of his disability, being chosen Speaker of the House of the Commons Howse of Parliament. 265. b.

69. Proceedings of the House of Commons, 14th of April, A. D. 1628, upon occasion of the Earl of Suffolk's saying, that Mr. Selden (a Member of that House & employed by them in the Conference with the Lordes in that great Cause concerning the Libertie of the Persons of the Subject) had raised a Record, and deserved to be hanged; which they took as an unjust & scandalous imputation upon the whole House. 266.

70. Rough Draught of the Lord Keeper's Speech, at the opening of the Parliament in March 17, 1627-8. (the same with that in No. 161. mentioned above, at No. 67.) 266.

71. The Lord Keeper's Speech, to both Houses of Parliament. 28th April, 1628? urging the Commons to a quick Dispatch of the necessary Supplies; and assuring them that his Majestie holdeth the Statute of Magna Charta, and the other Six Statutes insisted on for the Subjects Libertie, to be all in force: and that he will maintain all his Subjects in the just freedoms of their Persons, & safety of their Estates; and that he will govern according to the Laws & Statutes of the Realm, &c. 274.

72. Sir John Cooke his Speech at the Conference betweene the Lords & Commons about the Petition to the Kinge against Recufants. 275.

Num. 1219.

73. The Archbishop of Canterbury's Speech the 25th of April, 1628. at a Conference of both Houses. 227.

74. Sir Dudley Digges his Speech, 25th of April, 1628. at the same Conference, when it appeared that both Houses were agreed to maintaine & support the fundamental Laws & Liberties of England. 277. b.

75. Whether Baronets ought to have Precedency before the younger sonnes of Barons. (Imperfect.) 279.

This seemeth to have been drawn up by Sir Robert Cotton, in behalf of the Baronets.

76. Report to the House of Lords of Speech, against the King's Prerogative of imprisoning the Subject without shewing Cause. (Imperfect.) 281.

77. A Message from the Kinge to the Lower House of Parliament, delivered by Sir John Cooke, the 12th of April, A. D. 1628. 284. b.

That his Majestie expected, that without anie further unnecessary delay, they should proceed with his business—Left he should be enforced to make an unpleasant end of that which had bine for him happily begun.

78. Mr. Speaker's Message to the Kinge on Easter-Mondait, 1628. 285.

In this Speech he clears up the Proceedings of the Commons, from the Imputation of unnecessary delay of the Supply; and desires that his Majestie would receive noe Information touching their Proceedings from private Relations, but to judge of them by those Resolutions of the Howse, that should be represented from themselves.

79. The Petition of the House of Commons, to the King, against billeting of Soldiers. 288. b.

This was presented by the Speaker, at the same time.

80. The Kinges Speech in Answer to the Speaker, 14th Aprilis, 1628. 292.

Hastening the Commons to go forward with the public Business of the Nation (the Supply) with all speed, & to avoid all Occasions of disputing, lest they should thereby hazard both his Prerogative, and their own Liberties to their common Enemies.

81. Another Copie of the Proceedings of the Commons, upon the Earl of Suffolk's charging Mr. Selden with raising a Record. (vid. supra, No. 60.) 293.

82. The Earle of Warwicke (Robert Rich, the son) his Speech in the Upper Howse of Parliament, the 21st of April, 1628. 296. b.

A strenuous Speech against the King's power of imprisoning, without shewing the Cause.

83. The late Motions of the Lower House, to the Higher. 300. b.

This seems to be a Libell, bantering the King's method of disposing the Subsidies lately given him, the Duke of Buckingham, & the other Ministers.

84. The Catechisme. 302.

Notwithstanding this seems to be vehement against the Puritans; I take it to be a puritanical Libell against the Catechism of the Church of England, and the Ministers thereof.

85. Mr. Rouse his Report to the Grand Committee of Religion, touchinge Doctor Mainwaring's Charge. (i. e. the Charge of the Sub Committee against Dr. Mainwaring.) 307.

86. The Archbishop of Canterbury his Speech, the 25th of April, 1628. at a Conference of both Houses. (vid. supra, No. 73.) 308.

87. The Lords Propositions unto the Lower House, the 25th of April, sent by the Archbishop of Canterbury. (being the same with those mentioned before, at No. 8.) 309.

88. Sir Dudley Digges his Speech Congratulatory, to the Lords, the 25th of April, A. D. 1628. 310.

The same with that above mentioned at No. 74. 89. The 89. The Lord Keeper's Speech, 28th Aprilis, 1628. to both Houses of Parliament. 311.

This Copie is imperfect: but agrees with that above at No. 71.

90. Fragment of a Speech made by Mr. . . .
Hackwell, in the House of Commons (1 May, 1628.)
upon a Bill brought into the House for securing the Liberty of the Subject. (It is intire in N^o 161. at fol. 85.) 312.

91. An imperfect but famous Tract (in the book N^o 161. fol. 220) thus entitled; The Remonfrance of the House of Commons, in Parliament, touching the daungerous Estate of the Kingdome, and the great Grievances of the Common-wealth: presented to his Majestie by their Speaker, in the Banqueting House at Whitehall, the 17th day of June, 1628. 313. 333.

92. The Kinges Speech in Answer to the Remonfrance, 17th Junij, A.D. 1628. 316.

93. His Majesties Speech to both Houses, at the end of this Session, beinge 26 Junij, 1628. 316. b.

94. A Remonfrance propoed to be delivered to his Majestie, by the Commons. 317. b.

This Second Remonfrance asserting that the King ought not (even by his Answer to the Petition of Right) to continue the taking of Tonnage & Poundage, without consent of Parliament; occasioned him to putt an end to that Session abruptly; that he might prevent its being delivered unto him.

95. The Earle of Warwicke his Speech in the Upper House of Parliament, on Tuesday, 21 April, 1628. 321.

This is the same with that abovementioned, at N^o 82.

96. A Message from the Kings Majesty to the House of Lords? by the Lord Keeper Coventry, (Conway?), delivered, 1 May, 1628. desiring to know whether they would rely upon his Royal Word? 323.

97. The Lord Keepers? Speech to the House, the same day, concerning himself, and the Nature of his Place under his Majesty, wherein he asserted, that if he would discharge the Duty of his Place, & the Oath he had taken to his Majesty, he must commit, and neither expresse the Cause to the Gaoler, nor to the Judge, nor to any Councellor in England, but to the Kinge himself. ibid.

98. A Message to the House of Commons, delivered the 2 of May, 1628. from his Majesty, by Mr. Secretary Cooke (vid. N^o 161. 189.) 323.

99. The Conclusion of the Petition of Right; as it feemes. 324.

100. The Kinges Letter given unto the Higher House of Parliament. Given, 12 May, A.D. 1628. 324. b.

This is the same with that abovementioned, at N^o 56.

101. The Reasons of the Commons House, delivered by Mr. Glinville (at the Conference, 23 May 1628.)
why they cannot admit of the Proposition tendered unto them by the Lords, in order to be inserted into the Petition of Right. 326. b.

102. Sir Henry Martin's Speech at the Conference, 23 May, 1628. 329. b.

Here is but the three first Lines.

103. Sir John Eliotts speech, spoken 28 April, 1628.
during the Debates of the House of Commons, about the Right, Liberty, & Property of the Subject. 330.

104. The Remonfrance presented to his Majesty. 333.

This is the famous Remonfrance presented 17 June 1628. the Title whereof see above at N^o 91.

105. The King's Message to the Lords of the Higher
House of Parliament, reported to the Lower House
23 January 1628. 337.

This was touching John Goodman the Romish Priest, who was condemned merely as such; and to whom the King was willing to extend his mercy, as Q. Elizabeth, & his Father had before done in the like Cases.

Num. 1219.

106. Articles exhibited by the Commons House of Parliament to the Lords of the Upper House against John Lord Finch, Lord Keeper, &c. December 1640. 339.

This was an Impeachment of High Treason & other Misdemeanors.

107. Mr. Secretary Windebanck's Letter to my Lord
Chamberlaine. Febr. 1640. 353.

This Letter Sir Francis wrote to the Earl of Pembroke from Calis, in the time of his Affliction by the adverse Party. He begs that Lord's favor & kindness to himself & his family, & purges himself of the Imputations laid on him, as if he had raised a great Estate by his Service; was a Papist; and had endeavoured to introduce Popery into these Kingdoms.

108. The voluntary Confession of John Browne a Romish Priest, of the Age of 72 years, a prisoner in the Gate-house; twice examined by a Committee of Six from the Honble. House of Commons. A.D. 1641. 353.

In this Confession, it is pretended to discover secret
Intrigues, with relation to the Jesuites; to the Queens Court; to Arch-bishop Laud; to the Popes aspiring to the Temporal Monarchy of these Kingdoms; & the restraining the English Papists from selling their Lands & sending the Money beyond the Seas. But though the Jesuits, & Popish Clergy were bad enough (whether this was Browne's Confession, or was made by the Committee of Six) 'tis plain that it is a most impudent Libel.

109. A Petition from many of the Inhabitants of the County of Kent to the House of Commons, against the Hierarchicall Government of the Church. Dated 23
January 1640. 395.

110. The Duke of Lenox (Lowdowick Stuart) his Speech unto his Majesty, concerning Warrs with Scotland, 8 July 1638. 403.

111. A Letter from the Lord Rothes from Edenbo-rough the 29th of January 1639. to the Earl of Pembroke then Lord Chamberlayne. 409.

Herein, he threatens the English Nation with war, if the Hierarchy of the Church was not new-molded, to the minds of the Scotch Covenanters.

112. The Lord Chamberlaynes Answer to that Letter, dated 8 March 1639. written in a style suitable to the honorable character of an able & faithful Councellor, a loyal Church-man, & Peer of England. 411. b.

113. Speech of Gordon (the Marquis of Huntley's brother, to the Covenanters in Scotland, when he was a prisoner in their hands; wherein, after many noble Arguments against their traiterous Rebellion, he concludeth, that they may, when they please, take his head from his shoulders, but not his heart from his Sovereigne. 415.

114. The Protestation of the Scottish Covenanters made at Edinburgh, 1 July 1639. when the Indication or Summons of the Generall Assembly was there proclaymed. 420.

115. A Letter from the late Lord Keeper Finch, to my Lord Chamberlaine, from the Hague: dated 3^d Jan. 1640. wherein he wrote, that neither the Loss of his Place, & with it his Fortunes; nor his Exile from his dear Countrey & Friends, afflicteth him so much as the displeasure of the House of Commons. 425.

116. A Petition to be preferred by the Apprentices of London, to the Lord Major, & to intercede with his Majesty, for redresse of sundry Grievances. A.D. 1640. 428.

117. A Petition preferred to the Commons House of Parliament, Anno 1640. by Peter Smart one of the Pre-bendaries of the Cathedrall Church of Durham; who stands suspended & imprisoned in the Kings Bench for Non-Conformity. 432.

Herein, the Petitioner chargeth Dr. Cofins the Dean of Durham, & others, with introducing divers Popish practices.

prædices in that Church : and twns that for his preaching against them, he was suspended, excommunicated, & degraded; that he lost his Prebend, Parsonage, & whole Estate, being utterly ruined with his wife & children : and had besides suffered many years Imprisonment.

1220.

A Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts bound up together, in the order following,

1. Concerning the Decay of Rents; with the means of improving them. 1.
2. Proposals for the better ordering the Poore of the Parish of 7.
3. A ready Way, as is conceived, to settle the Peace of the Common-wealth of England, both in Church & State. 10 b.
- This Discourse consists of 53 Articles, intended as a Scheme whereby to settle the Government of this Nation, under one Head, a stranger to the Royal Family.
4. A Discoverie of the Hollanders Trade of Fishing, and their circumventing us therein : with the means how to make profit thereby. By which, they have gathered, & still do gather soe great Benefit, together with Honour & Security, that will redound to his Majestie, & all sorts of Subjects within these three Kingdomes by it. 21.
5. A Tract wherein means are proposed to prevent the growth of Popery in England, and the ill consequences thereof. 53.

This was written in the latter end of the Reign of K. Charles II. by the Author of a Book entituled Anti-Papal Society, as appears in fol. 61. who, perhaps, might be the same with that Mr. Jones mentioned in 60. b.

6. Tom Tell-Troth : or a free Discourse touchinge the Murmurs of the Times; directed to his Majestie by way of an humble Advertisement, A.D. 1621. 63.

This is a malicious, & most impudent puritanical Libel; composed (as I have heard) by one Willon. 82.

7. A Treatise of Lordships Marchers in Wales. Shewing how, why, & when, they were suppressed : and how they may best be known & tryed, at this day from other Lordships that were not Lordships Marchers. 82.

41. Letter of Sir Charles Cornwallis to the Kinges Majeſtie. Dated 22 June 1614. 96. b.

Craving his Majeſties Pardon if he had offended, with relation to Parliamentary proceedings. It ſeems, that Sir Charles thinking himſelf ſure to be choſen as Burgeſs for Eye in Suſſick, had premeditated about what he ſhould think proper to ſay in Parliament, about paying the King's Debts, & preventing more Debts for the future, about giving ſatisfaction to the Subject with relation to Religion; and about ſtopping the Inundation of Scots into this Kingdom. That nothing of his Election, he communicated his thoughts to one Mr. Hitchcock, & he to one Mr. Hoytkyns, who moved the Houfe only about the Scots, but with matter different from Sir Charles's meaning.

42. Letter of Sir Charles Cornwallis to his own Lady; written during the time of his Retirement in the Tower; it is much upon the Tranſitoryneſs of this World; and ſhews that Sir Charles was the Owner of an honeſt & generous mind, joynd to great Abilities. 99. b.

45. An Eſſay, or Character of a King. 114.

46. Letter of Francis Phillips to the King (James I.) It is long, but artfully penned. The Occaſion of it was, that he would releaſe his elder Brother, a Member of Parliament, who during the Chriſtmas Reces, was arreſted by a Sergeant at Armes, brought priſoner from his Houſe up to London, & committed cloſe Priſoner to the Tower, by the Lords of the Council, where he had been kept from all Company without farther Examination. The writer alſo infinuateth ſome damage his Family had ſuffered, by his Fathers dying in his ſaid Majeſties diſpleaſure. 106.

47. Mr. Recorder Benn (Sr. Anthony) his Will. (ſome-what torn.) 108. b.

'Tis an Extrad from thence, the Preamble, & other expreſſions therein being remarkable, & of the puritannical Strain.

48. Verſes Latin & Engliſh, made (as it ſeemeth) by ſome State-Priſoner in the Tower, during the Reign of K. James I. 110.

49. The Remonſtrance purpoſed to have been delivered to K. Charles I. by the Commons (being the ſame with that in the Book 67 B. 3. at fol. 317. b.) 110. b.

50. Rough Draught of a Proteſtation, or a Combination; intended, as it ſeems, againſt the King & the Royalists about the time of the beginning of the late Civil War. 112.

51. The Argument of Judge Crooke in the Exchequer Chamber, before all the Judges of England concerning Shipp-money, the 14th of April, 1638. (He was againſt it.) 113.

52. A ſhort Account, together with an Extrad of the Hiſtory of Sweden by John Robinſon (the ſame who is now Biſhop of Briſtol, Lord Privy Seal, & this 22 of December A.D. 1711. is reported to be ſetting out ſer his Majeſties firſt Plenipotentiary at the Congreſs appointed to meet at Utrecht, in order to conclude a good Peace: which God grant!) This Treatiſe is dated 25 February 1692-3. 120.

53. The Proceedings which happened touching the Divorcement between the Lady Frances Howard & Robert Devereux Earle of Eſſex (an uncorrect, & imperfect Copy.) 192.

54. A printed Traſt in 4to, thus entituled, "Eſſex's Innocency & Honour vindicated: or Murther, Subornation, Perjury, & Oppreſſion, juſtly charged on the Murtherers of that Noble Lord & true Patriot Arthur Capell late Earle of Eſſex. As proved before the Right Honorable late Committee of Lords, or ready to be depoled. In a Letter to a Friend. Written by Laurence Braddon (of the Middle Temple) Gent. who was upwards of five Years proteſtuted or imprifoned, for endeavoring to diſcover this Murther the third day after the ſame was committed.

Then followeth,

55. Another Treatiſe printed in 4to, without a Title-Page or Frontiſpiece; but beginning abruptly, with this only Title, An Account of the Death of the Earle of Eſſex.

It appears to have been written not long after the Trial of Laurence Braddon aforeſaid, and containeth ſome pieces of Evidence, different from, or omitted in Braddon's Book. Whether Braddon was the Author of this, or not, doth not directly appear: but it ſeems not to be written with that Cleareneſs, Gravity, & Temper, neceſſary to convince impartial Poſterity.

56. A Diſcourſe endeavoring to prove that Arthur Capel Earle of Eſſex, did not murther himſelf: herein are the Depoſitions of many Witneſſes, with ſome Reflexions, 216.

As to the Method of this Diſcourſe, laid down at fol. 220. my Lord has ſtruck it out, and deſcribed the ſame more conciliſy & accurately in 218. b.

A Book in fol. conſiſting of divers Traſts bound up together, in the order following,

1. Serjeant Davis his Charge, delivered to the Jurors of the Grand Inqueſt, for the mainteyning and contynueing the publique Peace by the Execution of Juſtice. 1.

2. A Catt may look at a King. 24.

This tranſcendently villanous Libel, is ſuppoſed to have been written by one Needham; whoſe Character may be found in Anthony Wood's Athenæ Oxoniæ.

3. The Duke of Buckingham's Speech in the Houſe of Lords, 15 February, 1676. 53.

In this, he endeavoured to prove that the Parliament then mett, was no Parliament; becauſe it had mett after a Prorogation of above a Year, when as his Opinion was, that, by Law, the Parliament was to meet within a Year. But that which occaſioned the Debates of this kind, was the Diſpleaſure during the laſt ſeſſions, the Peers had

16. The Pleadings, on both sides, in the Court of King's Bench, 4th Nov. A. D. 1693. by Mr. Cowper, &c. for the Crown, & Mr. Serjt. Croftwell Levinz, &c. for the Defendants, in the Cause when their Majesties (who had conferred the Bishoprick of Lincoln on Dr. Thomas Tenison, late Vicar of the Parish of St. Martin's in the Fields) brought a Quare impedit against Henry Bishop of London, & Dr. William Lancelot his Clerk, for Recovery of the Presentation to that Benefice, for that turn. The Defendants Council denied the Prerogative of the Crown in this Case; and the Lord Chief Justice (having noted that a Clergyman was the first that ever questioned the King's Prerogative) offered the farther arguing of this Cause, to the next Term. 169.

Then followeth the Opinions of the Judges, given at the King's Bench, the 31st January, A. D. 1684. u. o. i the Trial of the Cause between the East India Company & Mr. Thomas Sandys. And first,

17. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Walcott, the Sum whereof is, that the Grant made by the Crown to the Company, & the Prohibition of Interlopers were good; and consequently, that the Action was well brought. 195.

18. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Charles Holloway; to the same effect. 196. b.

19. The Opinion of Mr. Justice Withins; to the same effect. 119.

20. The Opinion of the Lord Chief Justice Sir Thomas Holt, very long, but to the same effect. 205. b.

A Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts bound up together; whose Titles are,

1. Some Remarks on the Decays of that, so useful Trade the English had before the Year 1661. to Newfoundland, & Nova Scotia, &c. in the Northern parts Portugal, & St. Jago. Palace: and how thereby the great Nurkry of English Seamen is lost to this Nation, which threatens its destruction. It having been brought about by the subtle Contrivances of the French Ministers, having met with proper Instruments to work on in the persons of the four last Kings & their Ministers of state; having ever been for the increasing the Power of France, in order to the establishing Tyranny & Popery in England, &c. which was taught them by their Popish Counsels could not be effected but by weakening & impoverishing their own Subjects, & setting up France. Most humbly offered to the Parliament of England for redress. 1.

2. An Essay on publick Virtue, to his Grace the Duke of Shrewsbury; and the Rt. Honble. Sidney Lord Godolphin. Part 1. 7.

This Tract is Anonymous; but seems to me to have been compiled by Dr. Charles Davenant, in the year 1697. by laying together divers passages to be found therein.

The Title "Public Virtue" not being extensive or clear enough to let the Reader into the purport of the Treatise, I shall take leave to observe that, the design of it is to expose the English Ministry of that time, and their Administration of Affairs, not only in general, but particularly with relation to, 1. The War with Ireland. 2. The Foot upon which the War with France has been putt. 3. Trade. 4. The Revenues. 5. The Coin of the Kingdom.

3. A Memorial concerning Credit; and the means & methods by which it may be restored, by Doctor Charles Davenant; directed to the Right Honble. the Lords Commissioners of His Majesties Treasury, 15th July, 1696. 71.

4. Reflections upon the Coyne of Money of England. 96.

Num. 1223;—1225.

Herein the Author gives his Opinion, against raising the Standard of our Coin; how to prevent its Exportation; and how to prevent its being clipped. For, lays down a method how our clipped Money may be called in, and our Mint set to work (written in the time of K. William.)

5. A Memorial concerning the Coyne of England; which hath been the subject of many Opinions.

Whether if the Money be new coyned, it be advisable to raise its Value?

Whether it be advisable during this War, to new coyn the Money?

Whether it may be possible for us to pay the Armies abroad, & carry on our foreign & domestic Trade in the present posture of our Coin?

Whether there are any Expedients that may help the Publick, till the true Species of Money can be restored?

A little lower, in my Lord Treasurer's hand, are these words "Written by Charles Davenant L.L.D." Nov. 1695. 115.

6. A Memorial concerning the East India Trade: i. e. for preserving the same, in a Company to be erected by Authority of Parliament) inscribed to the Right Honble. Sir William Trumbal Secretary of State. Written or received, as is observed by my Lord Treasurer, Feb. 6, 1695-6. by Doctor Charles Davenant, and in many places corrected by his Lordship's own hand. 157. b.

7. Quantulumcumque, or, a Discourse about the Money of England, consisting of 32 Questions and their Resolutions. Written A. D. 1692. by Sir William Petty, & inscribed to the Lord Marquis of Halifax. 169.

8. Reflections on the Coin now current, A. D. 1695. Written, as my Lord Treasurer hath observed, by Abraham Hill Esq. 176.

9. A Memorial concerning a Council of Trade. (Qu. if not by Dr. Charles Davenant?) Yes. 124.

10. The humble Informations & Petitions of William Stockton Gent. touching the present State of the Excise of the Beer & Ales in England; to the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury. 190.

He sheweth the Causes of the Decay of Excise, & the Remedies thereof.

11. A Treatise shewing the state of K. Charles the 2nd's Revenue, with accompts of all Receipts & Payments during divers of the first Years of his Reign. Drawn up in the name of Thomas Wriothesley Earl of Southampton Lord High Treasurer of England, signed by his hand, & presented by him to the King. 200.

At the beginning are some Notes, of my Lord the Earl of Oxford, the now Lord High Treasurer of Great Britain; one of which is in these words, "This Book (I suppose) was composed by Sir Philip Warwick."

At the end, my Lord hath written this Note, "Examined with the Original signed by the Earl of Southampton's own hand, by me R. H. Nov. 9, 1693."

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. An Alphabet to the Calendar of the Acts of Parliament, in the Parliament Office. 3.

It beginneth with the 12th year of K. Henry vii. & endeth with the 32d year of K. Charles ii.

2. Index to the Journals of the Lords, temp. Caroli ii. (for the first, second, & third Parliament) as to Parliament Business. 357.

A Book in fol wherein are contained,

1. A Treatise of Wills & Executors, directorie to Testators in the choyse of their Executors, and contrivance of their Wills; and to Executors in the Execution of

Num. 1225—1228.

of their Office, according to the Common Law; and to Creditors in the Recoverie of their Debts. Expressing the Dutie, Right, Interest, Power, and Authority of Executors, and how they may be fashioned either generally or specially; with divers other particulars incident to the Office of an Executor. (This takes up 245 Leaves)

2. The Parsons Lawe: collected out of the whole Body of the Lawe, & late Reports.

This learned Treatise is divided into 27 Chapters; & taketh up 112 Leaves.

1226.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained, a Treatise concerning the Court of Starre-Chamber, divided into 3 parts:

The First, concerninge the Court it selfe, the Judges, Officers, & Ministers thereof.

The Second, concerninge the Jurisdiction of the same, and the Causes which are there handled & properly determinable.

The Third, & last, concerninge the Courfe of the same Courte, in what forme Causes are there proceeded in, and there determined.

By this it may appear, that this Treatise is the same with that in the Book inscribed No. 736. at fol. 267. which is Anonymous. But the Author's name is preserved in a Note written in this present Book at the beginning, by the Lord Keeper Finch; which I shall here transcribe.

"This Treatise was compiled by William Hudson of Graies Inne Esq. one very much practised and of great experience in the Starre Chamber; and my very affectionate friend. His sonne & heyr Mr. Christopher Hudson (whose handwryting this booke is) after his father's death gave it to mee. 19th Decembris. 1635.

JO. FINCH."

In the first leaf of this Book, is an idle or whimsical Epitaph, said to be written upon the Tombe of Mrs. Francis Hewite, daughter to the Lord Hubbart, Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas.

1227.

A Book in fol. written since the Restoration of K. Charles II. wherein are contained,

1. Collection of Precedents for Pleadings, &c. in the Court of Chancery. 146.

2. A Table to the Collection abovementioned. 129.

3. A Collection of Precedents of a mixt nature, as Conveyances, Bonds, Leases, Assignments, &c. useful to Counsellors, & Attorneys, &c. 137. to 357.

These Precedents are not only useful to a Student, or practiser of the Law; but to others who may enquire into the History of divers noble & worshipful Families. Moreover, I find among them,

4. The Style of George Villiers (the second) Duke of Buckingham. 146.

5. The Style of George Monk Duke of Albemarle. ibid.

6. Observations on the making of a Lease of a Farm or Mannor. 147. & 148.

7. Observations on the making a Deed of Bargain & Sale. 148.

A Book in fol. wherein are contained,

1. A Kalender of the Names or Titles of those who claim Liberties in the several Counties of England. 1.

2. A Declaration made by (Christopher Vernon, & John Parkinson) the Surveyours of his Majesties Reve-

Num. 1228, 1229.

new called the Green Wax (who were so constituted; Junij, anno 1 R. Caroli 1.) of the Estate of the said Revenue at the Time when they entred into the Execution of their Office; what Courfe they have since taken for Reformation; and what now may remayne for the perfecting of the said worke.

3. An Abstract of all the Claimes of Lordes of Liberties within the severall Shires of England: and of the severall Titles of Greene wax allowed upon their severall Claimes, within the Landes mentioned therein; as also of the Greate Rolle where they stand in the Pipe. 7.

Intermingled with this last mentioned Tract, I find,

4. Notes of some Occurrences, in December, 1666. particularly, about Mr. Serjt. Glynne, who was then buried: about a Suit between Sir Francis Godolphin and Mr. Groffe with Francis Buller Esq. concerning a Tenement in Breage called Trenowaile, & the occasion of it; wherein Sir William Godolphin & Mr. Charles Trevanion are named. 7. b.

5. News from Genoa, of 24th Novemb. that the Duke d'Albuquerque had made one of his Litter-men Godfather to his Daughter's child, & given him a Pension for Life. 8.

6. Some of the Articles of Peace betweene the English & Dutch, concluded 21st July, 1667. S.V. 8. b.

7. Dr. Buck's Opinion touching the import of the word "Amen," delivered in a sermon preached at the Temple, on Easter-day 1667. from Luc. xxiii. 43. with a correction of another word in the English present Translation. 9. b.

8. Copy of the last Will of Sr. Henry Berkeley of Yerlington in Com. Somerset. with a Note touching the Letters of Administration granted to Maurice Berkeley Esq. his son, 21st of Sept. 1667. 11.

9. A Copie of a Fine levied A.D. 1655. by Thomas Groffe & wife, & David Groffe and his wife, to Sir William Godolphin, of Lands & Tenements in Treno-weale & Breage, in Cornwall. 11. b.

Beginning at the other end of the Book, I find,

10. The Plea between Henry Neville Esq. & William Stroude of Ruffcombe, late Sheriffe of Berkshire; for a false Return of a Knight to serve in Oliver's Parliament, A.D. 1656. 1.

11. A Plea between John Philipps, & Francis Bishop; for Cattle, A.D. 1657. 1. b.

12. Part of a Plea between the Executors of Richard Lane, Gent. & Sir John Lewis late of Abernambearham in Com. Cardigan; who was outlawed, A.D. 1651. 2. b.

The last four Numbers, being written in English, in the Book; shew how improper our Language is for Law-Terms.

13. Some few Collections from Grayes Inne Moote-book, compiled by Elias Brentingham, Reader there, A.D. 1617. 4.

Codex membranaceus in fol. cum literis grandioribus, tum manu satis antiqua, Calamo descriptus Metallino: scilicet Liber Missalis: quem quidem cum pluribus in locis Codices recentiores sinceritatis atque praeae simplicitatis laude facile praestet, penitus & fufius duxi recensendum. An Heraldical Book in fol. consisting of divers Tracts bound up together; vizt.

1. An imperfect Copy of the Visitation-book of the County of Buckingham, as it was taken A.D. 1634. by John Philipot Somerset-Herald, & William Ryley Blew-Mantle, for Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux, & Sir John Burrough Norroy; who visited jointly. This Copie seems to be of the hand-writing of Augustin Withie, son of Mr. John Withie the Arms-Painter; who (as I have been told) was an ingenious young man: but that falling into ill Company, he lived too fast, & died accordingly. 69. b.
2. Arms of the University of Cambridge; and of the several Colleges thereof; tricked in printed Escucheons, by Mr. John Withie. 69. b.
3. Arms of the Town of Cambridge, and of the Cambridge-shire Gentlemen; tricked by Mr. John Withie, A.D. 1622. from the Visitation-book of this County, made A.D. 1619. by Henry St. George Richmond Herald, for William Camden, Esq. Clarenceux. 70.
4. A Table to the Tract last above-mentioned; made by Mr. Withie. 86.
5. An Alphabet of the Arms (in Blazon only) of the Cheshire Gentlemen (seems to be taken from a Cotton MS.) 87.
6. Arms of the Hartfordshire Gentlemen; tricked from the Visitation-Book of that County, made A.D. 1597. together with the Arms of some of the London Gentry; taken from the Visitation book thereof, made A.D. 1633. & 1634. 97.
7. A Copie of the Visitation-book of Hartfordshire, as it was taken by Henry St. George Richmond Heralde, Anno 1634. being Deputy to Sir John Burrough Garter, & Sir Richard St. George Clarenceux, Kings of Arms. (This seems to be somewhat imperfect.) 112.
8. Arms of the Kentish Gentlemen, tricked from the Visitation-book of A.D. 1619. by Mr. John Withie, partly in large Escucheons, which have also the Mantles & Helmets annexed. 159.
9. A Table to the Tract last above-mentioned; made by the same Mr. John Withie. 189.
10. Arms of the Lancashire Gentry, whose names are putt down in alphabetical Order, tricked by John Withie, from a Visitation-book (as he seems to insinuate) made A.D. 1595. 192.
11. Pedegree of Morley as allowed by Sir William Dethick Garter A.D. 1592. Copied by Mr. Withie. 217.
12. Arms of the Norfolk Gentry (in Blazon only) from the Visitation-book of that County made by William Hervey Clarenceux, A.D. 1563. 218.

An oblong Parchment-book (bought of me) wherein are contained, Part of the Works of Sir Geoffrey Chaucer. Which Copie not being used by any of the Editors of Chaucer hitherto, may prove of good value when consulted on such an occasion.

1. The History of Troilus and Cressida, in five Books. 1.

2. The Knights Tale. 63.

In this Copie the first 34 Lines are omitted. 80. b.

3. The Man of Lawes Prologue, & Table. 88.

4. The Wife of Beath's Tale. 91.

5. The Clerk of Oxenfordes Tale. 91.

Here I must retract & correct a mistake I made many years ago about the ensuing Tale, which Mr. Maffey (then

Num. 1239, 1240.

(then of Jesus College in Oxford) of whom I bought the book, led me into, by assuming it was not printed. For I comparing the beginning of it with the beginnings of all the Canterbury Tales, in divers printed Editions, and particularly of that printed A.D. 1567. and finding no such beginning to any of them, did believe what Mr. Maistey had affirmed to me was true. But now reading the same over, in order to an account of it, and remembering I had read over the very substance of it in Chaucer before, and therefore consulting another MS. of the Canterbury-Tales in this Library; I find to be,

6. An Imperfect Copie of the Frankelyns Tale. 101.

This Copie is not only imperfect with regard to the torn Leaf, at fol. 102. but also wants much between the Leaves 105. & 106. where I can find no Parchment wanting. It may seem therefore that the good Hermit of Grenewich who wrote this part of the Book, purposely omitted the Recital of the Conjurings & magical Ceremonies there mentioned. It is likewise different from the other MS. so far as the 8th Verse in that, is but the 7th Verse of this; and as the 8. Verses are omitted in this Copie, so the six are omitted in that.

A Book in fol. written upon Parchment (as it seemeth during the reign of K. Richard the II. and for the Use of Edward M. ruler of March) It was called, as I have heard, Liber Niger de Wigmore, and although damaged in some places, still containeth Transcripts of almost all the Deeds & Evidences relating to the Estate of the Lords of that Great Fief. It consisteth, as it were, of different Tracts; the first of which, is thus entituled,

1. Ici commence le Kalendar des Muriments & chantz le Heritag le dit Comte de March & de la Marche, en Engleterre, Gales, & Irland: les queux Muniments sont en la Presoir le dit Comte en divers Coffyns titlés de tieles Titles, come sont escritz en le Margyn, paramont de cheueun des Foilles de ce li Livre. En queux sont escrites les plenes Copies; & ausst de cheueun des Foilles de ce li Kalendar, ou est escrit l'Effect de cheueun des ditz Muniments. E les Seignouries, Manoirs, Terres, et Parcelles, dont les ditz Muniments font mention, sont escritz prescheinement en ceste Kalendar selonc l'ordre del Alphabet. Il s'ent que la Seignurie, Manoir, Terre, ou Parcelle, que l'homme vorra veer par la premiere Letre du N. un trouvez. Si trouvera l'homme en mesme le lieu, en ensuant en queux Titles, ou Tite, souz queux Nombres ou Nombre, les plenes Copies des Muniments touchantz la dite Seignurie, Manoir, Terre, ou Parcelle serrent trouvez en ceste Livre; & ausst en queux Coffyns ou Coffyn. & souz queux Titles ou Tite, les Muniments Entiers serrent trouvez en la Tresorie marchez en Dos de tieles Nombres, come sont mys sur les Copies; et en cest Kalendar sur l'effect des Copies dicteux.

What the Reader is more particularly to observe, from the precedent Words, is this; that the present Kalendar or Index consisteth of Three Columns: The first exhibiteth the Names of the several Lordships, Manors, and Parcels, in alphabetical Order. The second referreth to the Titles of the Drawers, as they were placed (in alphabetical Order) in the Treasury or Evidence Room of the said Earl of March. And the third sheweth the Numbers inscribed upon the Deeds within the said Drawers or Boxes. For example, if the Title of that Lord's Estate in Aderkey be looked into; this Kalendar directeth the Searcher to go to the Drawer or Box entituled "Beadlesmere," and peruse that Deed therein marked with the Number 1.

2. Et fait avoir, que toutz les Titles, souz queux serrent trouvez les Muniments touchantz les Seignouries,

Num. 1240.

Manoirs et Parcelles avant-escrites, come est specifiez adevant par la primer Parole des ditz Titles, sont pleinement escritz ici defouz, selonc l'Ordre del Alphabet; et en quele foille de ceste Livre cheueun des ditz Titles sera primerement trouvez ou l'effect des tous les Muniments conteniz sous mesmes les Titles. Et illeqz sera trouvez en ensuant en quele foille du dit Livre la plene copie de cheueun Muniment est escrit.

Hereby the Reader may understand, that this second Table gieth the Titles fastened upon the several Drawers or Boxes in the said Evidence-Room; and referreth to the several Leaves (of the next Tract) according to their old Numeration, wherein the Arguments of all the Deeds contained in them, are entered.

3. The Arguments, or Subjects of all the Earl of March's Evidences, extracted from them in order, as they lay in their respective Drawers; with reference to the several Leaves of this Book according to the old Numeration) wherein the said Deeds are transcribed entire.

Hitherto every thing is written in French, which being the Language of the English Court, was well understood by the Nobility & Gentry of those times. Next followeth a Cartulary or Transcript at length of all the said Evidences; with the sum of them in French in the words or description used in the Tract last above-mentioned) written in the margin, together with their several Numbers, according to which, the Originals might be found in their respective Drawers. The Titles of which Drawers under which the said Deeds were ranged, are these that follow.

Notwithstanding these Titles, it must not be thought that the Mortimers Estate was confined to those places alone; because in turning over the Book a second time, I find many Titles mentioned in the second & third Kalendars, although the Sums of the Deeds, and the Transcripts of the intire Deeds, which they refer unto, are wanting.

Thus, in the second Kalendar, I find,

29. Arleye, Oddyngeleye, with a reference to the 20th Leaf, for Docquets of the Deeds relating to the

Num. 1240, 1241.

Earl of Marches Estate in those places; which 20th Leaf is cutt out of the Book.

30. Brugge-water, Odecombe, Mulvertone, with a like reference to fol. 16. which is also cutt out.

31. Brymme grove, Nortone, which refer in like fort to fol. 22. and that is likewise cutt out of the Book.

32. Clifton, Cure; referring in like manner at fol. 18, part of which is cutt off.

33. Guffiche; referring to fol. 26. which is cutt out.

34. Huntidone, Middelstone; referring to fol. 25. which is cutt out.

35. Mountgomery, Chirbury; referring to fol. 23. which is cutt out.

36. Neubury; referring to fol. 8. which is cutt out.

37. Nenkeithlyn; referring to fol. 25. which is cutt out.

38. Stauntone-Harecourt; referring to fol. 26. which is cutt out.

39. Swanef-compe; referring to fol. 30. which is cutt out.

In the third Kalendar or Table, containing the Docquets or Sums of the Earl of Marches Evidences, are also divers Titles not yet mentioned, nor are the intire Deeds now remaining in this Book: vizt.

40. Wynerstone, Erdelle, Bradwardyn Wylardeflee; referring to fol. 103. which is taken up with Deeds relating to other Lands. Hereby it may seem, that the Cartulary of the Earls of Marches Estate, took up more than this Volume.

41. Marcle, Afflstone; referring to fol. 108. 109. & 110. which are all wanting.

42. Nereberthe; referring to fol. 113. & 114. which are both wanting.

43. Thornebury, Nethewode, Colyntone; referring to fol. 119. 120. & 121. the first of which is wanting, and the others relate to different Lands.

44. Clifton, Cure; referring to fol. 124. & 125. which are both wanting.

45. Wolforlowe, Stoke-Blees; referring to fol. 128. & 129. both which relate to other Lands.

46. Tedelsterne; referring to fol. 130. 131. both which are wanting.

47. Lodelowe, Ewas, Mounfelowe; referring to fol. 132. 133. & 134. all which are wanting.

48. Stauntone wottone; referring to fol. 139. 140. 141. 142. & 143. all which are either blank, or relate to other Lands.

In the Margin is the following Title & Note, written in a good old hand,

49. Stauntone-Lacye, "the Levys were toren away. Ther doth remayne but thys Callendour and a Note before."

50. Knyghtone Nortone; referring to fol. 141. which relateth to other Lands.

51. Dynsbege; referring to fol. 173. 176. 177. 178. & 185. which are included in the number of those wanting from fol. 159. to fol. 226. which perhaps were never bound up in this present Cover.

52. Dynas; referring to fol. 185. which is consequently wanting.

53. Diversa Domina & Maneria, referring to fol. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 197. and 198. which consequently are all wanting.

It is needles to specifie the Names of the antient & noble Families whose Histories & Genealogies may be illustrated by the help of this Book; since Cartularies, as well those of private Families, as those of Monasteries, Churches, Colleges, and Hospitals, afford such store of materials of that kind, as to be constantly consulted by the best Antiquaries, upon such occasions.

An Heraldical Book in fol. thus entituled,
A Copie of the Visitation of Shropshire, taken & made by Richard Lee, alias Richmond Herauld, & Marshall to Robert Cooke (William Hervey) alias Clarenceux Kinge of Armes; taken in the Yeare of our Lord God 1564. Augmented by many Notes and Gatherings of Lewis Dunne and others, by me Jacob Chaloner of London Gentleman, untill the yeare 1620. Copied by me Thomas Hanford of Wigmore, Anno 1661.

I am apt to believe that the Date of the Visitation last mentioned, may be mistaken, and that it should be 1584. For Mr. Weever (Fun. Mon. pag. 673.) sheweth that Mr. Robert Cooke was made Clarenceux A.D. 1566. nor was Richard Lee nor Portcullis, created Richmond Herald untill the year 1584. Besides, Mr. Withe's Book in this Library 81 B. 12. and other good Copies, scribe this Visitation to Richard Lee Portcullis, and affirm that he took the same A.D. 1584.

And as that Date of 1564. seems not to be right; so I suspect that this Mr. Hanford, may not have been the most accurate Copyist, in some other places; not but that the Book being a Painter's Book only, wherein the Seals & other Proofs of the Descents are almost intirely omitted) may upon divers occasions prove of good use.

Besides the Descents, I find in this Copie,
1. The Atchievement of Vernon of Hadnett. Imperfect. (These Vernons have Supporters by antient usage.)
2. Arms of Lacon, with Quarterings. Both at the beginning; before the Title.

3. Arms of the Shropshire Nobility & Gentry. After the Title.

A Book written partly on paper, & partly upon Parchment, containing,

1. John Boccace's Nine Books De Casibus illustrium Virorum, from Adam to the taking of King John of France at the Battle of Poitiers, A.D. 1359. Translated into English Verse by John Lidgate at the command of Humfrey Duke of Gloucester (whose praises he celebrateth in the Conclusion of the Work) in the beginning of the Reign of K. Henry IV. This Work of Lidgate's seemeth not to be taken from Boccatus his Latin; but from a French Translation made by one Laurence . . . a Copie of which is extant in MS. 41. b. 10; and may, strictly speaking, be called rather a Paraphrase, or a new Work, than a Translation. 1.

This Copie seemeth to be imperfect, in some places. Omitting the mention of John Lidgates Prologue, Epilogue, & Lenvoy: I find,

2. A moral Poem of the same John Lidgate, to Duke Humfrey, as it seems; not finished. 182. b.

3. A brief Table of the Histories contained in the first eight Books: in the waste Leaf at the beginning.

An oblong Book written & pricked by the hand of Signior Cornelio Galli, who (as I have been told) was a Native of Lucca, and was one of the Gentlemen of the Chapell to Queen Catherine, in the time of King Charles II. Mr. Berencloze told me that he was a very great Master of the finest manner of Singing, & was one of the first that introduced it in England. Whether the Italian Songs in this Book are of his Composing as well as of his writing, I cannot certainly remember. They are,

1. Pensoso, Afflittio, Irresoluto, e Solo. Cantata. 1.

2. Perche piangere Amanti. Cantata. 7.

3. Anime voi che siete dalle Furie d'Abisso. Cantata. 11. b.

4. Sileno Idolo mio, dove lungi dà me restai mio bene. Cantata. 17. b.

5. Sera alquanto addormentato. Cantata. 24.

6. Nel Giardin della Speranza. Cantata. 34.

7. Dolce Colpo d'un sguardo Amorofo. Aria. 38. b.

8. Mai piu Stelle pietate Io m'innamorerò. Aria. 40.

9. Biondi Crini mi stringeste con la Fune già fata d'Or. Cantata. 41. b.

10. Voglio Morte, e voglio Vita, bramo lacci e Libertà. Aria. 44. b.

11. Fidarfi d'Irene, mio Cor e Follia. Cantata. 47.

12. Che volete da me vani Pensieri. Cantata. 51. b.

13. Sospiri, 10.

Num. 1264, 1265.

13. Sospiri, o la che fate. Cantata. 58. b.
 14. Lungi dal Core Amorosi Penfieri. Cantata. 65.
 15. Ch'io manchi mai di Fede, o questo, nò. Cantata. 69.
 16. Chi si fida d'Amor, troppo è l'Infelice. Arietta. 74.
 17. A Song not finished. 76. b.
 18. Happy & free securely blest. An English Song. 78. b.

This last Song is written by the hand of Mr. Berencrow: concerning whom I shall take another opportunity of giving some short Account.

1265.

An oblong musical Book (bought of me, as was the last above-mentioned) wherein are contained some of the Compositions of many excellent Italian Masters; vizt.

1. Ferma, lascia, ch'io parli Sacilego Ministro. Cantata di Giacomo Carissimi. 1.

This Giacomo Carissimi, was in his time the best Composer of Church Music in all Italy. Most of his Compositions were, with great Labor & Expence, collected by the late learned Dean of Christ-Church, Dr. Henry Aldrich. However, some things of Carissimi I had the luck to light upon, which that great Man could not procure in Italy; of which this Cantata was one. Carissimi living to about 90 years old, composed much, & died very rich, as I have heard.

N.B. The upper Part of this Song is in the G-fol-re-ut Cliffe, and yet written by an Italian Copist; perhaps it might have been written for some Tramontane, who might not have been so well versed in C-fol-fa-ut Cliffe.

2. O' nò, nò, nò, non lo Niego: Cantata del Carlo Ludovici. 13.
 3. E che si, ch'io v'abbandono. Arietta del medesimo. 20.

4. Cieco Amor, e cieco Sorte. Arietta di Dominico Gabrielli. 26.

This Dominico Gabrielli, as I have heard, is a very good Master in Rome. His Compositions have been but few; but then they are neat & artful.

5. Ste lo già la Notte bruna. Cantata di Mario Mazzoli. 29.

6. A la Rota, à la Benda, al biondo Crine; ovvero La Fortuna di Luigi Roffi. 37.

This Luigi Roffi, as I have heard, lived long since, even before Clarissimi. It is said he first introduced Dramatical Music on the Stage, & composed the first Opera for it. This Cantata, La Fortuna, is reputed one of his best Cantatas. He died very old, at Venice, as I have been told.

7. Questo picciolo Rio, che con Lingua d'Argento. Cantata di Luigi Roffi. 63.

8. Quando spiega la Notte humida. Cantata del medesimo. 74.

9. Gelosia ch'a poco a poco nel mio Cor serpendo. Cantata del medesimo. 79.

10. E puo soffrirli Amore qualche soffrendo stò. Aria del medesimo. 87.

11. E chi non v'ameria Pupillucce amorose. Aria del medesimo. 91.

12. Giusto così v'è detto, Cantata del medesimo. 95.

13. Quante volte l'hò detto Cor mio non Amar. Aria del medesimo. 105.

14. Già nel oblio profondo il Di sepolto giace. Cantata del medesimo. 108.

15. Lasciate, ch'io ritorni. Cantata del medesimo. 114.

16. Al soave spirar d'aure serene; overò L'Arione. Cantata del medesimo. 125.

Num. 1265, 1266.

17. Erminia sventurata. Cantata del medesimo. 143.
 18. Dà perfida Speranza un alma lusingata. overò Il disperato. Catata del medesimo. 153.

19. Sospiri miei di foco. Aria del medesimo. 167.

This is of the hand-writing of Doctor Bernard Martin Berencrow, father to Mr. Bernard Martin Berencrow mentioned in the account of N° 1264. I take leave to mention, that this Doctor Berencrow was born in the Duchy of Hol em near Toninghen; his mother was a Berchem, a family sufficiently eminent both in the Upper & Nether Germany. He married Katherine one of the daughters of Mr. Lancier, Clerk of the Closet to K. Charles 1. He was Professor of Physic in the University of Padua, & practised with success and reputation in Italy, France, Germany, Holland, Flanders, & England. And notwithstanding his frequent Journeys & Removals, died rich in ready Money, Jewels, Plate, Pictures, Drawings, &c. of great price & curiosity; which his Widow notwithstanding (by true pains-taking) made a shift to overcome, and utterly squander away, in about five years time after his decease.

20. Vuglio Amar chi mi disprezza. Arietta del Sigr. Aleffandro Scarlatti.

This Aleffandro Scarlatti is a Neapolitan by birth; and by long practice is as ready a Composer as any other man. His Reputation is very great, among ours & other Nations, as well as in Italy his native Country. I have seen many of his Works; (to say the truth) more trivial Things of him, & Bernardo Pasquini, than of any other Italian Masters.

21. La Gioia verace favella nel Cor. Aria del medesimo. 13.

22. Stanco di pianger più volti dormire un poco. Cantata di Tomaso Titi. 175.

23. Non fuggir quando mi vedi. Cantata di Carlo Manelli, ditto Del Violino. 187.

24. Hor' ch' hò sentito un fi. Cantata del medesimo. 193.

25. Poiche fissate il guardo entro il Fulgor d'Adamantino. Cantata del medesimo. 201.

26. Voglio amarti sì mio Bene senza tema di penar. Cantata di Giovanni Battista Vulpio. 219.

27. Chi credete che sia. Cantata del medesimo. 225.

28. Nel mirarvi Pupille vezzose, dolce piaga mi sento nel Cor. Aria del medesimo. 233.

29. Son Disperato, abbandonato, Amante. Duetta di Giovanni Francesco Tenaglia. 237.

30. Lo dissi per Gioco. Arietta di Aleffandro Scarlatti. 243.

31. Ch'io lasci d'Amar non e possibil. Arietta di Henry Firmin Gentilhuomo Inglese, fatta in Roma. 245.

32. Non e emante quel Core. Arietta di Pietro Simone Agostini, fatta in Venetia. 247.

This modern Master must be distinguished from one of that Name of more antiquity & reputation.

33. La mia Vaga, la mia Bella, stimo più di tutto il mondo. Arietta del medesimo. 250.

34. Chi bella non hà, che legghi il suo Cor. Arietta del medesimo. 251.

35. Se nel ben sempre inconstante Fortuna vagante di farli Stabile. Arietta di Aleffandro Stradella. (fatta in Genoa.) 253.

Of this great Master, I shall take another occasion of giving some short account. But although I find this Arietta attributed to him, I cannot positively assert it to be of his composition.

 20. So che mi piace, mà ch'io ci pensi e vanità. 27. b.
 21. Se t'ama filli d' Cor tu sei felice, del Sigr. Alessandro Stradella. 28. b.

This Alessandro Stradella was, as I think, a Venetian, and was in his time one of the greatest Masters in Music that Italy had ever bred, with respect either to the Church, Stage, or Chamber. He excelled not only in Composition, but in an extraordinary hand, so as to be accounted the best Organist in Italy. He was a comely Person, and of an amorous nature. And finding a Baroness who was admired by the Heir of the Family of Cornaro (or Colonna, I remember not exactly which) to be a most beautiful personage, witty, airy, Mistress of an admirable Voice, and a professed Lover of Music, he instructed her therein, and she was so far improved by him, as to sing the best of any Woman in Italy. He undermined her other Adorer, and rendered himself so agreeable to her, as that at last she consented to run away with him to Genoa, where (soon after his coming) he was shot in the back by his revengeful Rival. The Baroness (or Countess) was afterwards sent for to France by the present French King, & has been heard to sing both in Italy & France by Mr. Berencloew, who said she was a perfect Mistress of the best manner, for which, with her, he only admired Cornelio Galli, and the two Eunuchs Telli.

Num. 1272.

Toffi & Sifaccio. When Mr. Henry Purcell (who had only seen two or three of his Compositions) heard that Stradella was assassinated, & upon what account, he lamented him exceedingly; nay, so far as to declare, that he could have forgiven him any injury in that kind; which those who remember how lovingly Mr. Purcell lived with his Wife (or rather what a loving Wife she proved to him) may understand without farther explication.

22. Deh svelgliatevi Occhi belli al fragor di miei Lamenti. Cantata. 29. b.

23. Con man di Gelfomini dalle porte del Cielo. Cantata. 33. b.

24. Lusinghiere pupille neri, d'adorarvi non cesserò. 37. b.

 23. Narracio Bona et Utilis, de duabus mulieribus Parientibus. 55. b.
 24. Narracio Mirabilis de sententia Excommunicationis Beati Augustini Anglorum Apostoli; et qualiter recusitavit duos Mortuos. 56.

It begins thus, "Est Vicus in Pago Oxenfordensi, sex Militarijs distans a loco qui dicitur Wodestoke, Comestona Nomine, &c."

I should have lett this Legendary Tale have gone, in the herd, among the rest, without any Remark, had not Sir William Dugdale hooked it into his Antiquities of Warwickshire, at pag. 445. first to prove the Antiquity of the Church of Long-Compton; & secondly that the Payment of Tithes is very antient; upon which latter account, I have heard it often cited, by divers Clergymen. Sr. William's Author is Johannes Anglieus, who was Vicar of Timmouth, and flourished about A.D.

Num. 1288.

1366, as Arch-bishop Usher has written at the beginning of the Cottonian Copie of the same Work (viz. TIBERIVS. E. 1.) wherein the story is told, conformably to what he puts down; excepting that it is uttered in with these words, (at fol. 156. col. 2.) "Inveni fiquidem a Patribus antiquis, nonnullis in locis scriptum, quod in Comitatu Oxonie, in Villa nomine Cometon. veniente B. Auguftino ad predicandum, &c." And the same story is also transcribed by John Capgrave, though neither of them do declare who these Antiqui Patres were. Upon this occasion I have looked upon some ancient Historians, Annalists, & other Writers, as well unpublished, as printed, among whom I could find no footstep of any such Story except in what follow. In a Life of this St. Auguftine (written since the time of Joannes Anglicus; for the older Copies want it) viz. NERO. c. 7. The Tale is extant, as in John of Tinnmouth, but the Village is called CEMETON. In that noble Copie of the Works of Gotfcelinus de Sto. Bertino, who was a Monk of St. Auguftin's Abbey near Canterbury in the time of St. Anfelm, and who undertook to write the Life of St. Auguftine at large, and to set forth his Miracles done as well during his Life, as after his death, as also about & upon his Translation: which is extant in this Library, & marked 35. A. 6. there is nothing of it in the first hand; but in a hand no older than the time of Joannes Anglicus aforefaid, in some vacant or blank Parchment at fol. 60. b. &c. the story may be found, with some interpolated Additions, from John abovementioned and in the expressions of this present MS. 68. B. 15. In the Cottonian Copie of Gotfcelinus VESPASIANUS. B. 20. which actually belonged to St. Auguftine's Abbey, is somewhat more ancient than my Lord's Copie, and was (as appears) particularly used, & read in, upon the Festival of St. Auguftine's day, there is nothing of it in the old hand. But at fol. 85. b. "Explicit Liber Miraculorum Sancti Auguftini Anglorum Apostoli." Over against which, in a hand of John of Tinnmouth's time, is this Note or Direction, "Item legatur Miraculum de duobus mortuis refuscitatis per B. Auguftinum; quere in fine hujus Libri quod sic incipit, Est Vicus in Pago;" and accordingly at fol. 26. upon vacant parchment, in the same modern hand with that of my Lord's Copie at fol. 60. b. of the book N° 105. and with the same Interpolations, the improved Story may be read, excepting where the Parchment is destroyed by much thumbing & moisture. I forgot to mention, that it is also printed among the Decem Scriptores, in that Chronicle erroneously called Historia Jorevalensis, and as erroneously ascribed to John Brompton the Abbat of that Houfe. That Chronicle coming down no further than the reign of K. Richard 1. seems to be but the first part of the Work, whereas it is plain by the latter end of the Preface, that the Author designed to continue the same to the reign of K. Edward the first. And by the Phrase Post Conquestum, it is as plain, that he lived in the time of King Edward the third, or later. Thus it seemeth to me, that this Tale was not known to the Monks of St. Austlin's own Abbey till the time of John of Tinnmouth at least; and it might make one wonder why to grave a man as Sir William Dugdale, should endeavour to prove matter of fact so very long ago, and in an affair of such consequence as payment of Tithes to the Clergy, from such a Story, and so late an Authority. The like success he hath had in the Story of Guy of Warwick; which I now pass over, as thinking this not a place proper for entering into that matter.

A paper Book in fol. written all upon the subject of Prohibitions; wherein I find.

1. In what Cases the King's Courte of Common-Pleas may graunte Prohibitions, by Lawe, & many Presidens of former Tymes; and in what, not. 1.

This is the Answer, at large, of the Judges, to the Objections of the Arch-Bp. of Canterbury & the High Commissioners to be maintained anon.

2. A Breviary of the Chief Prooves selected, touching the Modus decimandi. 46.

An Aunfwere to the Cheefe Points selected, touchinge the Modus decimandi; wherein the Question is, whether upon a Suite in the Spirituall Court for Tythes in Specie, and a Prescription or Custom, de modo decimandi pleaded, a Prohibition may be brought in the Temporall Courts; or whether the Spirituall Court may trye that Issue, & see Sentence the entire Cause. 57.

4. The Argument, & contra, for the Arch-bishop of Canterbury; that the Kinge hath power in his owne person, to heare & determine all kinds of Causes, when yr shall see please his Majestie, as appeareth by these Reasons, &c. 93.

5. That the Kinge hath Authority to redresse both his Jurisdiccions; and to reforme the Abuse of Prohibitions. 95. b.

6. That the Court of Common Pleas ought not to award any Prohibition; especially upon a Suggestion only. 97. b.

7. That all Customes concerninge Ecclesiasticall Lawes, are of Ecclesiasticall Cognizance; as well as Customes Temporall, of Temporall Cognizance. 98. b.

8. The Customes of Tythinge are of Ecclesiasticall Cognizance, and ought to be tryed in the Ecclesiasticall Courts. 101.

9. That no Prohibition ought to be graunted, because the trebble Vallew of Tythes is sued for in the Ecclesiasticall Courts. 104. b.

10. That noe Prohibition ought to be awarded after Prædial Tythes are sett forth: they being presently carried away by the Household before the Parion can have actual possession of them. 105. b.

11. That noe Prohibition ought to be graunted upon any Incident Plea, in any Ecclesiasticall Court. 106. b.

12. That noe Prohibition ought to be awarded to his Majesties Commissioners for Causes Ecclesiasticall, upon this Suggestion, vizt. that his Majesties sayd Commissioners have noe Authority to deale in any Cases Ecclesiasticall, which may be ordered and punished by the Ordinaries of those Dioeces where they are committed. 107. b.

13. That noe Prohibition ought to be graunted to his Majesties Commissioners for Causes Ecclesiasticall upon this Ground, vizt. That noe man may be called before them for any Cause Ecclesiasticall whatsoever, out of the Dioecesse where he dwells. 109.

14. That noe Prohibition ought to be graunted to his Majesties Commissioners Ecclesiasticall, upon this Suggestion,

Num. 1299, 1300.

Suggestion, vizt. That his Majesties sayd Commissioners have onely Authoritie to deale in such or such Causes Ecclesiasticall or Criminall. 110.

15. That noe Prohibition ought to be granted uppon a new devised Suggestion, That the King's Commissioners in Causes Ecclesiasticall are not to meddle with any Offences in Causes Ecclesiasticall which are not enormous. 112.

16. That noe Prohibition ought to be granted to his Majesties Commissioners for Causes Ecclesiasticall, upon these Suggestions: vizt. Nullus Liber Homo capiatur vel imprisonetur nisi per legale Judicium Parium suorum Mag. Cart. Cap. 29. And again, Si Prelatus imponet penam pecuniariam, et repetat illam, Regia Prohibitio locum habet. Art. Cler. Cap. 2. 114. b.

17. That noe Prohibition ought to be granted upon a new devised Suggestion, vizt. because many matters of Ecclesiasticall Cognizance are named in divers Statutes, where the Temporal Judges are to expound them; and in that respect may lawfully take to themselves the Cognizance of the same. 116. b.

18. A Conference by the Kinges espetial Appointment, held before the Lords of the Councell, touchinge Prohibitions, on the 23d of May 1611, where were present both of the Cheife High-Commissioners, and all the Judges of the Realme. 120.
